SCREEN'S BEST BAD MAN NOW USES BOLD

Joe Ryan, champion cowboy and badman in Vitagraph serials, put over a surprise when he showed he was just as clever with a bolo as he is with every other weapon.

In the tenth episode of "The Man of Might," Vitagraph's latest adventure serial, which will be seen in the Sherry theatre today and tomorrow, the treasure hunters and the outlaws are camped near each other on the desert. Each expects and is ready for a night attack, but Scarsdale (Ryan) starts things to a big lead, when he fashions a bolo and silently and in the darkness almost chokes to death the guard posted by the opposing camp.

Then comes the big fight, which furnishes one of the many thrills in the serial.

William Dumas directed the picture and has the featured role. It is supported by an all-star cast, including Edith Johnson and Joe Ryan.

HIPODROME VAUDEVILLE
Scenes from one of the greatest amusement parks in the country and a comedy opens vaudeville bill at the Arcade tomorrow.

Henry Gunson who styles himself The Lone Fisherman offers his original conception in a novelty singing number with his own special scenery. Mr. Gunson has a good voice and together with his songs has some real comedy talk and situations which he puts over in an amusing manner.

Jean Wray is a charming young lady who has a number of the popular songs that always find favor with her audience. She has a pleasing singing voice and a style of her own in putting over her comedy numbers and syncopated melodies.

Brown and McGowan are two clever vaudeville artists who present a comedy sketch, talking and dancing number which they call "Southern Rambles." It is a vehicle that serves admirably for this clever duo to display their versatility and enable them to impersonate the laughable and irresistibly funny antics of the Southern Dicks. Their dancing numbers are of special merit.

The Lassies are an athletic couple with the ability to please. They call their number "Comedy Gypsies." It consists of comedy bits and novelty feats that contain not only laughs but also thrills. Their act has proved fatal to pleasure seekers this couple has appeared.

A FAMOUS STAGE SUCCESS
The great philosophy "Selling Myself" produced by Maurice Tourneur, which will be shown at the Arcade theatre Friday and Saturday, is a superb melodrama, a great picture. It is an adaptation of the famous "Daisy Lane" melodrama and these last a dull moment from start to finish. The scenes of the prize fight in the National Sporting Club at London and the Derby are much admired. The story is thrilling and heart appealing.

MALE HAMILTON STARRED IN CLEVER METRO PLAY

"That's Good" to be Seen at the Sherry Theatre

"That's Good," adapted from the story of the same name by Richard Washburn Child published in the Saturday Evening Post, will be the attraction at the Sherry theatre today and tomorrow with Hale Hamilton, the Metro star, in the leading role.

The entertaining story is of a wise young man thought foolish by his neighbors because of his unconventional outlook on life and by a young woman, who in her opinion, is unusually clever and subtle. How unexpected adventures come up which turn the tables and makes the wisest of the two a cleverly told in this alluring tale of love and adventure, the whimsical humor of which will appeal to all.

Mr. Hamilton is surrounded by a cast of distinguished artists among whom the Stella Gray, Herbert Prior, James Duff, Lewis Morrison, Marjorie Younger and James McAndrew. The picture was directed by Harry L. Franklin and produced under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger, director general.

OIL INTERESTS IN EVIDENCE

MEXICO CITY. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—With the extraordinary session of congress still considering the labor law, after having completed the third week of its life, rumors are plentiful that neither the oil nationalization law nor the national bank of emission legislation will be considered before the session is adjourned. Hardly more than two score of the 300 odd provisions of the labor law have been discussed in the chamber of deputies and the debate shows no signs of lessening warmth. Representatives of foreign oil companies and banking institutions, which are vitally interested in the proposed legislation, are found in force in the capital and are using every effort to secure modifications of the proposed laws.

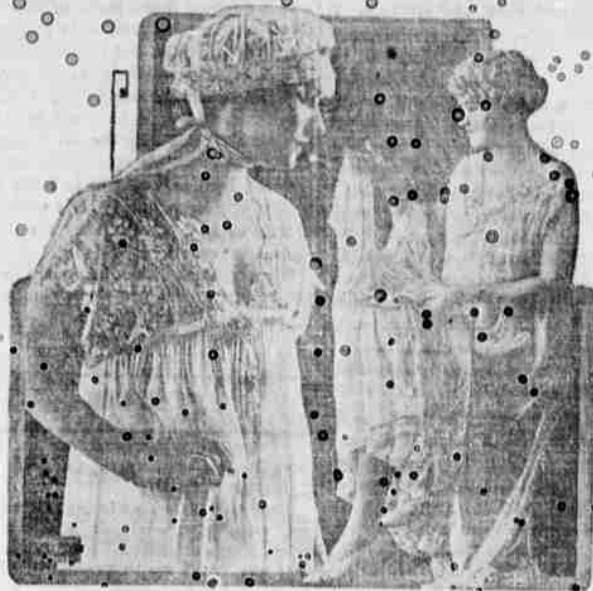

TO SEARCH FOR PETROLEUM

LONDON. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Five million dollars are to be set aside by the British government to conduct a search for petroleum in Great Britain, the financial secretary to the Treasury told the House of Commons yesterday. He also stated that one million dollars would be devoted to aid this production, principally in Ireland.

HIS WORK SURVIVES

CHAUTLA, MORELOS. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—There is no lack of candidates to carry out the work of the late Emiliano Zapata, recently killed by the forces of General Pablo Gonzalez.

Hand-Sewing on Undermuslins

Women who sew well find needlework among the pleasantest of occupations during the long, warm days of midsummer. It is a good time in which to make up undermuslins and grace the sheer soft materials that are used these days for underclothes with hand sewing and fancy stitches. These harmonize with the dainty fabrics used better than machine work.

Only lightweight and sheer weaves of cotton and silk concern the maker of underwear in these times. The choice lies among soft, washable silks and satins, including much crepe de chine and other wash silks, and batiste, cotton crepe and nainsook. In silks, crepe de chine is the favorite and in cottons, batiste. Both these are liked in light pink and flesh color as well as they are in white, and it is likely that the number of garments made in pink exceeds that made in white. The favorite finish for crepe de chine is Val or elany line, French knots, hemstitching, fine turks and a little embroidery. Recently considerable flax has been used in night-dresses.

The long-sleeved nightdress appears to be a thing of the past. Of the two models shown in the picture one has very short kimono sleeves and the other is sleeveless. The gown at the left is of white batiste with a short yoke

"No, our two-for-a-quarter cigars are no better than our straight ten's."

"Really, I don't care to ride downtown in your car. It's the blindest rattletrap I ever entered."

"The fact is, doctor, I quit going to church when you commenced that new series of dead-end sermons."

"No, my dear, even if you did make it yourself, this isn't a delicious strawberry shortcake. I had a better one today at the grocery."
