THE "FOUR L" MOVEMENT

The wholehearted support of the public is due to the new experiment in the labor and capital world represented by the Loyal Legion of Lovers and Lumbermen. It is a step in advance of the federation of labor organizations, and for that reason is not quite understood by the old unions. It is the very antithesis of the I. W. O., and so that group of revolutionists fight it both openly and secretly, with every cunning trick they know. There can be no compromise between the bolshevik and the Legion. There should be no estrangement between the Legion and other labor, and between the Legion and the great outside public.

The Legion seeks to make better citizens and better men of its members. Along with this, in cooperation with the employers, the Legion expects that its men shall receive in wages their fair share of the earnings of the industry. Enterprise Record-Chief Editor.

Law of Falling Bodies.

Since a body falls to the ground in consequence of the earth's attraction on each of its molecules, it follows that everything is being the same, all bodies, great and small, light and heavy, ought to fall with equal rapidity. The fact that a stone falls more rapidly than a feather is due solely to the unequal resistance offered by the air to the descent of these bodies. In a vacuum all bodies fall with equal rapidity.

Seven Days King.

The "seven days king" was Masaniello (Thomas Aniella), born in 1622. He headed a revolt against the Duke of Arcos, at Naples, July 7, 1647, forced him to abolish the tax on provisions, and for seven days was master of Naples. He was most arrogant and bloodthirsty and was assassinated July 16.
