BE READY FOR THE COLLECTOR.
The Observer's collector will call on everyone this month, as usual, and it is respectfully requested that the subscription price of the paper be handy on the table. During these times when labor is so hard to obtain it is impossible to make several calls for the subscription to this paper. And besides it is not fair. If you really want the paper, have your money ready when the young lady calls to collect.

HOME FROM SEATTLE.
Merton Kiddle arrived home today from Seattle where, with his father, Senator E. K. Kiddle, he had been attending a meeting of the millers of the northwest. The senator remained in Portland for another day.

LOCAL WOMAN IS HEAD OF W. O. W.
A La Grande woman, Mrs. Louise Alstott, has been honored by the tenth annual convention of the Women of Woodcraft, held at Pendleton on Friday and Saturday, last, by election to the chief district position, that of district guardian. Another La Grande woman, Mrs. C. J. Osborne, was elected district musician.

MRS. LOUISE ALSTOTT ELECTED DISTRICT GUARDIAN.
Convention Held at Pendleton Friday and Saturday, Attended by Several La Grande Women.

The delegates to the convention from La Grande, Mrs. O. L. McDowell, Mrs. Lena Head, Mrs. Lee Hilary, Mrs. Sheffield, Mrs. Alstott, Mrs. Osborne and Miss Lena Langley, returned from Pendleton Sunday morning. They bring reports of a very successful convention, with the chief feature the visit of the Grand Guardian, Mrs. C. C. Van Orsdall, of Portland. Mrs. Van Orsdall, who is a former resident of Pendleton, is driving from Portland to Salt Lake City, via Spokane and Pendleton. The return trip will be made through Colorado and Montana.

The chief legislation discussed at this convention was the repeal of the present law and the initiation of more liberal one governing fraternal insurance. This matter was brought up by Grand Guardian Mrs. C. C. Van Orsdall and her suggestions were all endorsed by the members. The first day's sessions on Friday were given over to reports by the grand and district officers, and the feature of the Friday evening session was a talk on "Insurance Problems," by Mrs. Van Orsdall.

The full list of the new officers elected at the convention is as follows:
District guardian, Louise Alstott, La Grande; past guardian, Clara Lee, Union; advisor, Mrs. M. Shearer, Pendleton; clerk, Mae Friedly, Pendleton; banker, Mrs. May Haight, Union; managers, Mrs. King, Baker, Louise Lamp-

AMONG MANY FLOURS
there is always one that wins women's approbation in a larger degree than the others. We are proud to say that old BLUE STEM flour is that "one." The test is in the baking and eating. Women who know say it is easier to make good cakes with our flour than with any other. A trial will prove this right.
