NAZIMOVA TO BE SEEN IN "THE RED LANTERN"

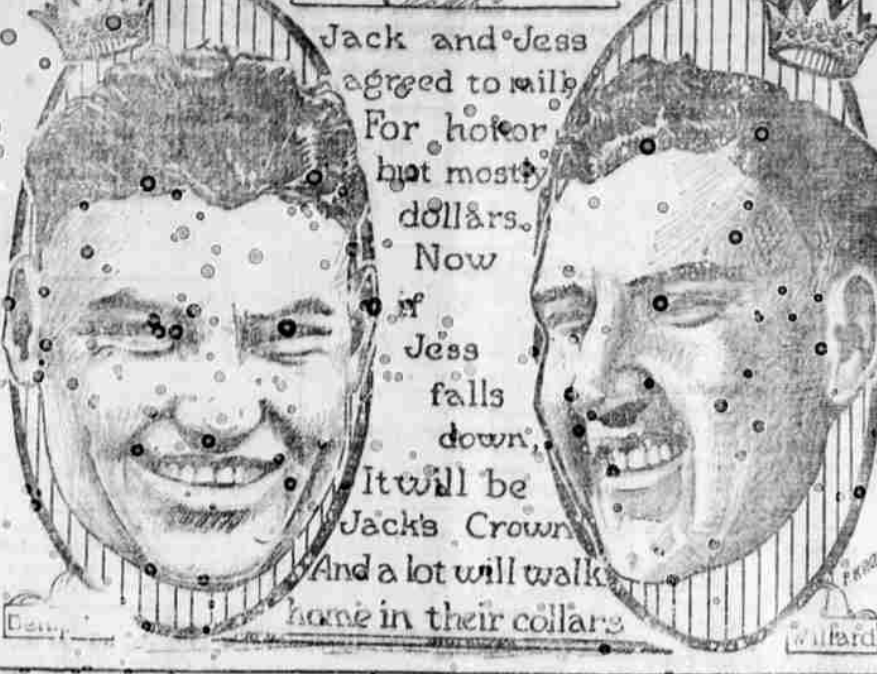

Famous Star in Remarkable Play At the Arcade Theatre.
 Nazimova, the distinguished Russian star, will be the feature in the powerful Metro super-feature, "The Red Lantern," at the Arcade theatre Monday and Tuesday. In it she is seen in a dual role, which gives her opportunity for the most powerful characterizations of her brilliant career.
 The two roles which she enacts are as widely different as the pebble and the ocean. One is that of the Eurasian girl Mahlee, and the other, Blanche, her English half-sister.
 The story tells of the life of this half-cast girl, who, born in a coffee shop in the Chinese quarters of Peking, is at the death of her grand mother, taken to the Christian Mission and brought up amidst European surroundings. The conflicting blood which surges in her veins causes her passionate restlessness; she feels the lure of China, the mysterious and passionate land of her mother, but the inheritance of her English father, the ideals and intellect of the West, are strong within her and she is like a ball in the hands of Fate—flung from one extreme to the other.
 How she becomes the powerful War Maiden of China—the Goddess of the Red Lantern—is shown in this play of remarkable and startling happenings where all the mysticism and gorgeousness of the vivid East is woven into a powerful and fascinating drama. The lure of the Purple Forbidden City—the customs and superstitions of ancient China—the gorgeous pageantry and pomp which surrounds the Orient with golden glamour is shown with a touch of staccato which brings romance to life.
 The production is one of clever artistry with a star of genius who is ably supported by such noted players as Darrell Foss, Noah Berry, Frank Carder, White Hall, M. McWade, Virginia Ross, Edward J. Connelly, Amy Van Ness, Harry Mann, William Eadie, Yuhio An Yung.
 The production was directed by Albert Capellani and produced under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger, director-general.

 Failure Always Has Its Price.
 A London magistrate declares there is no such thing as a man having a right to take his own life. The doctor is no doubt morally sound, but all the same don't there something queer about the law which punishes a man who tries to commit suicide and fails? Vancouver Sun.

Aptitude Counts.
 Experienced men are not always the ones with executive ability; they often get into a rut. It is a man with aptitude that counts, and if one has the quality he can quite readily get experience, but he must have the chance to show it and if he doesn't get the opportunity then his business houses are the losers.

 A young Welshman applied to the head of a big firm in London for a job. "Where do you come from?" he was asked. From Llanspantol. "What may that name mean?" "It means the place of the five saints," was the ready answer. "Are there five saints here still?" "There are only four since I left," said the young Welshman.
