Auto Goes Over Embankment Mrs. A. E. Huff was the only member of a party of four to be injured when the automobile in which she and her husband and their son's wife and baby, were driving home from La Grande Thursday afternoon went over the edge of the high grade a couple of miles from the city of Island City.

Father Driscoll Injured While hurrying into O'Connell's store recently on his way to catch a train for Baker Father Driscoll slipped into a door that let him fall into the basement of the building. In attempting to catch himself he MODART CORSET Front Laced WHY LOOK OLDER THAN YOU ARE? It is astonishing how many women through lack of attention are wearing corsets that give a more mature appearance to the figure than it should have, and consequently they appear to be five or ten years older than they are.

strained his back so that it pained him to lift. The first class physical condition, however, he thought but little of the pain and expected to be cured in a few days. It was not until he called Driscoll to his home that he learned he had broken a rib. When he doctor looked to the injury it was found to be a broken rib and while rather likely may be forced to be very quiet for a while, it is more than that it is not thought there will be any difficulty in recovery.

County Agent Returns Paul H. Spelman, county agent, returned from a trip to Portland yesterday where he attended the State Dental Association gathering. The doctor was a charter member of the state association when it was organized twenty-six years ago. About 23 years ago he was president of the state body and a few years later he taught in the dental college which, while then very young and feeble, has developed into the big school of the Pacific coast. The doctor in reviewing his trip to the Observer said: "I had a very fine time indeed, but somehow I could not help thinking—where, oh, where are boys I used to know."

John Frawley Undergoes Operation John Frawley, county treasurer, underwent an operation at the Grande Ronde hospital yesterday morning for the removal of part of his leg. Yesterday evening his condition was in good, as could be expected. Mr. Frawley, who was formerly a railroad man, had one foot removed some years ago as the result of an accident on the road. Recently he has had trouble on account of the artificial foot not fitting properly and sometime set in to the leg. The operation had to operate again yesterday, therefore, just below the knee.

Will Celebrate Anniversary On Friday next, July 19th, the La Grande Community Chorus will celebrate the first anniversary of its organization. The members of the chorus, with their families and friends will picnic at the Riverside Park that evening. All are invited to attend. While the chorus was organized a year ago with fifty-one hundred voices, there was a falling off during the long period of inactivity in the past winter, and there are now barely half the original who take an active interest in it.

Plunge in Fine Condition One of the pleasure resorts of the city these warm days is the Elk Plunge, located in the basement of the Elk temple. The committee in charge of the plunge, which is now in the hands of the city, has seen to it that it is in the best possible condition and there is a complete room for children. Not only has this been done, but strict regulation have been adopted that require the water in the tank to be changed at certain intervals, and it is done. Steam baths are given at any time and perfect service is kept up. So popular has the plunge become that over 1500 people have enjoyed it already this season, and it is becoming quite the thing for ladies of the city to drive to the Elk house in the afternoon and enjoy a swim before the dinner hour in the evening. It is open at all times and the Elks are very proud of the attractive feature of the plunge.

Byran Better Than Ever According to those who went to hear W. J. Byran at Pendleton yesterday the Nokeska man is better than ever and his speech, seemed to sink deep into the minds of his crowd. Among those who went from La Grande were Mr. and Mrs. Will Leichter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKeon and S. L. Brooks. Mr. Brooks said: "I heard all the lectures at the Imbler chautauque and heard all at the La Grande chautauque and Byran's speech at Pendleton was better than all of them combined."

Getting Rich in Oil Game N. E. Bard, known to many La Grande people, writes Henry Hill that he is making lots of money in oil. He is located in the Texas fields and says that Winters Falls has sprung from a small town to a large community with ten story buildings in the last few months. Mr. Bard says conservatively, sensible oil operation is a safe business in the good fields.

Old Time Wallowa Man Dead The remains of James C. Dodson, who died in Wallowa Friday, were shipped through La Grande this morning to Joseph where funeral services will be held this afternoon. Mr. Dodson was one of the prominent men of Wallowa county several years ago, but his health failed him and he removed to Walla Walla in the hope of being improved. The Camel's Swiftmess Every one has heard of the swiftness of the dromedary, but on his travels he can travel faster than any Arab horse. There is a picturesque legend which declares: "When thou shalt meet a camel and say to the rider, 'Good morning, before he shall have answered, he will be far and out of sight, for the camel's swiftness is like the wind.'"

Perfectly Safe "Sam" said the physician to the post who had summoned him, "you are not in good health, and I must take all your bones." "But, doctor," groaned the post, "may I not visit my mother's grave?" "Certainly," the doctor said, "write all the verses you want to."

Had Two Narrow Escapes Ed. Rosenbaum, who was taken to the Grande Ronde hospital yesterday morning showing a fall from a telephone pole, had two narrow escapes—when he just avoided falling in contact with a wire carrying a high voltage of electricity, and the other when he fell down on the bare pavement below. He was taken to the hospital where X-Ray photographs of his feet were taken and only one bone was found to be broken. His feet were placed in plaster casts. Other wise he was not injured and he considers himself a very fortunate individual. He was able to leave the hospital and go to his home yesterday.

Elks Initiation July 21st La Grande Elks this week announce another initiation of candidates to be held Thursday, July 24th at Elks temple. There are arrangements around among some of the supposedly informed of the initiated that something new in Elksdom has arrived but invitations to come out to the next initiation are the only responses to direct or indirect question concerning the rumors. There will be light refreshments and the newly formed Elks orchestra, composed of men from within the lodge, and recently enlarged, will furnish music during the evening.
