Society

A very pleasant afternoon was had Friday when Mrs. John Bininger entertained about a dozen ladies at her home on O. avenue. Invited Mrs. Charles Shaver of Wallington, Kansas, who with Mr. Charles Schaefer are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Bininger. The afternoon was spent with needlework, after which dainty refreshments were served. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Bininger's gracious hospitality were: Jessa Charles, Shaver, George Palmer, Claud Lynch, Carl Lynch, T. B. Johnston, Johnston, Thompson, Fred Charbonneau, Clarence Charbonneau, and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Bininger.

eva Smith, Messrs. Frances and Donald Cramer and the hostess, Mrs. J. L. Cramer.

The Oregon Chapter of Rainbow Division Veterans held their first anniversary meeting Tuesday evening July 15th. Similar meetings are to be held annually to commemorate their first baptism of fire while a service. The division was holding the position alone at the time of the attack. They were on the Champagne sector at the time. A short business meeting was held early in the evening which was followed by a dance at Rex hall, to which servicemen and their ladies were invited. At the close of the dance, a sumptuous banquet was given at the Foley Club. Covers were laid for about one hundred and thirty persons.

The announcement of the wedding of Leslie J. Bennett to Miss Olive M. Langley of Hoodwood, Manitoba, Canada, came as a complete surprise to La Grande friends. They met in Spokane, Wash., where the ceremony took place Thursday of last week. Rev. Dwyane F. Hawk, superintendent of the First District of the M. E. church, officiated.

A delightful affair of the past week was the card party, given Thursday evening by Mrs. F. S. H. Smith, honoring Mrs. H. M. Rabe and her daughter, Miss Mead MacGregor, of Golden, Colorado. Auction bridge was played, Mrs. W. R. Jones carrying high honors, while Mrs. M. B. Donahue followed a close second. Dainty refreshments were served following the game. Mrs. H. H. Smith will entertain for Mrs. Rabe and her daughter again at an early date.

Mrs. Ed Hughes was the hostess to the Peckale club north of town Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance and an enjoyable time in the way of a social reunion. Mrs. Hughes, assisted by Mrs. Hanley, provided the usual dainty refreshments which were also highly enjoyed. The club will meet two weeks hence at the home of Mrs. Hanley.

A quiet wedding took place on Friday evening at the residence of the First M. E. church, when Walter A. Jensen of Spokane, Wash., was united in marriage to N. Stevan Husek, performed by the Rev. Dr. J. L. Cramer, some 100 in the front line trenches. He is engaged in the lumber business at Spokane.

Dr. Carl Doney, president of Willamette University at Salem, Oregon, was a guest at a dinner given at the home of Mrs. J. L. Cramer, 1802 Cedar street. Other guests were Miss Frances Smith, the Con-

Charles Harding was master of ceremonies and called on members of the association for impromptu speeches and the men recounted thrilling experiences with much zest. During the course of the evening several pleasing musical numbers were rendered as follows: Vocal Solo..... Jeannette Stoddard Violin Solo..... Richard Lindberg Vocal Solo..... Florence Lynch Cornet and Trombone Duo..... Mrs. Loney and Robinson A very delightful feature of the evening were two interpretative dances performed by Mrs. Charles June Wells. It is very unusual to see a child execute this style of the interpretation art. All of the music was rendered beautifully. It was a late hour when the last of the dances closed at a most enjoyable session.

A very enjoyable evening was spent when three cars motored over to Hot Lake Friday evening to a dance given in honor of Miss Mead MacGregor of Golden, Colorado. At the dance they returned to La Grande and enjoyed a supper at the Silver Grill. Those present were: Margaret Corbett, Stella Decker, Helen Corvey, Leona Newlin, May Newton, Corlie Lilly, Frank Craven, Paul Downard of Portland, Kenneth Williamson, Gerald Peterson, James McNamee, Frank Clark, and Albert Correy.

A quiet wedding took place at the office of the justice of the peace, Arthur Williams at 5 o'clock Thursday evening, when Charles Ray Lewis and Ina Richardson were united in marriage. Only the guests, parents and sisters were present. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will make their home in La Grande.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Larson and son, John, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Strouglin and daughter, Althea M. Constance Hall, August Street, Astoria, and Leola Kinzel, left yesterday morning for Walla Walla to spend the week-end. They will make the return later.
