RATIFY THE TREATY WITHOUT RESERVATIONS
For nearly five years we have been facing such stupendous losses that the average man and woman in our country does not realize the magnitude of the crisis which is nearly upon us. Will or will not the Senate, immediately on its receipt, ratify the Peace Treaty, which not only includes but is actually built upon the League of Nations? This sounds like a simple question, but the progress—even the maintenance—of our civilization depends upon the answer.
By this time it must be evident to every thinking person that the Covenant of the League of Nations cannot be torn out of the Peace Treaty; it must soon be realized, even by those whose eyes are temporarily blinded by political antagonisms, that an attempt to amend the Covenant at this juncture is fraught with danger, since the condition of many countries, as a result of hunger and of general war upheaval, is so unstable that revolution may break out at almost any moment if peace between the nations is not at once established.
The making now of reservations is dangerous to the establishment of the League, because if the United States either repudiates or stipulates for special interpretations of certain articles of the Covenant, other nations will naturally wish to do the same, with the result that this great Magna Charta may become devitalized and ineffective, if it can be established at all.
Surely even though not perfect, the Covenant represents a wonderful step forward in the life of the world; therefore let us make sure that the United States does her part by joining the League of Nations at the earliest possible moment. To this end let every man and woman write to our Senators at Washington, urging them to ratify the Peace Treaty including the Covenant, without amendments or reservations.
Rose Dabney Malcolm Forbes, Pres. League for Permanent Peace June 28, 1919.
AMERICAN SOVEREIGNTY AND MONROE DOCTRINE
The Monroe Doctrine, as originally announced, served as a shield, which the United States held over itself and over weaker states on the American continent as a protection against European interference and European encroachment. It was and is a national policy which protects North and South America and makes for peace on these continents.
There is real danger now, however, that the Monroe Doctrine will be carried so far and with so high a hand that the real value of the policy will be lost.
Senator Knox made the following amazing statement in his recent speech in the Senate: "The Monroe Doctrine is the character, the extent, method and time of its application, the means of compelling its observance, all are matters of our high and uncontrolled will and sovereign prerogative. We, the United States, cannot answer to any one else in respect to it. We use it when, as, and to the extent we need it. There can be no limitation upon it, except our requirements, our will, and our force of arms. Whatever security we may need within its purview, it must give it we ask it."
That sounds like Triestehke. It is an announcement of unlimited will, backed by arms, to be exercised as the United States alone determines her own requirements to be. Such an immoderate statement of the Monroe Doctrine weakens and does not strengthen it. It is an extreme statement of the doctrine, calculated to cause trouble and friction on the American continent. The Doctrine so stated is not unlike the doctrine which Germany sought to apply to Europe.
Senator Knox would refuse to submit to conciliation any dispute growing out of the application of the Monroe Doctrine, whether such dispute were between the United States and an American state or between the United States and a non-American state. On the American continent the arbitrary will of the United States backed by force is to prevail. The other nations agree, in the Covenant of the League of Nations, to submit to conciliation all non-justiciable disputes; that is, those which grow out of questions of policy. Is the United States to demand that she alone be relieved from such obligation and on the ground that, when her interests are involved, her assent will prevail? How fast this differ from the German position in Europe?
The fact is that the Monroe Doctrine now that it has been recognized in the Covenant of the League of Nations is adequately protected.
It is such pronouncements as that of Senator Knox and not the wise provision in the Covenant of the League of Nations which threaten the usefulness of the Monroe Doctrine.
JOSEPH WALKER, Ex-Speaker of the House, May 29, 1919.

Our War With Spain.
On the 18th of April, 1898, the United States Senate and the house of representatives declared jointly that the Cuban "are and of a right ought to be free and independent" and empowered President McKinley to use the land and naval forces of the United States to their utmost capacity to carry the resolution into effect. This resolution constituted a declaration of war against Spain.
Wanted to "Hank" it.
Ethel's mother was trying to spray her throat with the atomizer, but with considerable opposition from the man victim. "I wouldn't mind it so much," said Ethel, "if you would let me hank it myself."
Summer Complaints in Children
There is not anything like so many deaths from this disease now as there were formerly. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has done much to prevent this. When this remedy is given at once, it is almost always successful.
When you think of elegant preparations for the handkerchief, or toilet paper, you will first think of Silverthorn's, as the store that always have in stock a larger and select line of such goods always at your disposal. Dly 7-23-19

OIL GROUND FLOOR OIL OPPORTUNITY OIL
To Prospective Investors:
Many are familiar with the large returns from successful oil operations. The fortunes that have been made are fabulous and no greater have been made than will be made in the near future.
There is a chance for a number of Oregon men to join in a ground-floor proposition. A lease has been secured in a positively proven field. Oil wells now producing border the lease. The oil in this field is high grade, selling at present at 75 cents more for each barrel than other oils.
It is in a field that requires a 2800-foot depth to reach the oil sand, and the wells are pronounced long-lived. Pipe lines are in and market is positive as soon as oil is struck.
To those who would like to invest, here are a few things to be remembered—things that are seldom obtainable in oil investments:
First.—The field is proven. The lease adjoins oil production at the present time.
Second.—This is not a company to sell stock, but a chance for a number of people to pool capital and put down a well, benefitting from what returns come from the venture.
Third.—The lease and drilling will be under supervision of a man who has had years of experience in the oil business and has drilled in some of the best wells in the field. He is a man thoroughly honest and is known to Eastern Oregon people, capable of giving references that would satisfy anyone. He is financially interested now and will give the work his individual attention.
Fourth.—All money invested will be placed in an Oregon bank and perfect accounting will be kept, rendering statements at all times.
Fifth.—No salaries are to be paid except for the labor in drilling the well and no expense will confront the investment except the essential expense necessary to the drilling and the lease as it is developed.
If you have ever had an inclination to invest in oil you could get no better opportunity than this ground-floor proposition, for it will be handled by people who are reliable in every way. Usually the investor buys stock in a company not knowing its officers, its manager and unmindful of oil experience of anyone connected. In this case there are no officers at present, for this is an invitation to people who honestly want to drill for oil to come into an investment which will be officered later and organized in whatever way those now investing see fit.
The drill is at hand, ready to work, but it will not be moved on the lease until $20,000 is secured, for there is no intention of having a half-drilled well.
If you feel interested and want to join square people in an effort to make money out of oil, now is your opportunity.
The oil field is one of the big producing sections of the mid-continent field. It is no experiment and no one is asked to assist in bringing in a new oil zone. With oil being produced in large quantities adjoining this lease, with pipe lines in, the only chance that is being taken is to drill in an oil well, which certainly looks more than promising when the surroundings are considered.
Please address, stating the amount you are willing to invest.

MODART CORSETS Front Laced
Why Look Older Than You Are?
It is astonishing how many women through lack of attention are wearing corsets that give a more mature appearance to the figure than it should have, and consequently they appear to be five or ten years older than they are.
It is possible to readily improve that condition if you come to our corset department and get a trial fitting of the MODART front laced corset.
