LAMB SHIPMENTS FROM WALLAWA COUNTY FLOCKS

The first of the 1919 lambs from Wallawa county's flocks will go to market in the east within a few days. About 50,000 lambs will be sold and they will bring probably $9 a head or a total of $450,000, says the Record Chieftain. In former years the flockmasters followed the practice of contracting a large proportion of their lambs to buyers who came in the middle of summer. It would seem that few if any have been contracted to outside buyers this season, altho the lambs from the farm bands will be sold to the larger sheep growers as a rule. The large growers feel that they are entitled to all their stock will bring in the market, and they are willing to take the chance of a decline. The first shipment out will consist of a train of lambs from the flocks of Jay H. Dobbin and Guy W. Huffman, which will be moved as soon as the railroad can furnish cars. This shipment was planned for August 1. The same growers expect to send out more lambs about August 20 and September 3. The first lot, and probably all, will go to Chicago by way of Omaha.
