Stop Itching Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching eczema quickly by applying a little zemo furnished by any druggist for 35c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed.

For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is not a greasy salve and it does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds.

IMAGINE MABEL NORMAND TRYING TO PAPER A WALL!

Drudging domestic trod upon by tyrannical mistresses would do well to see Mabel Normand in "A Perfect 36," her latest Goldwyn Picture At Sherry's Theatre, last showing today. The comedienne is cast as Mabel, a boarding house slavey.

Mabel, always prankful, remains peaceful enough when the exacting landlady demands work of her that Mabel thinks is within reason. Papering walls, however, is no work for a servant, Mabel decides, and when her mistress insists, rather than lose her position, Mabel agrees to try her hand at it but even while she is consenting to performing the unusual work, Mabel is thinking of some tricks to play on the landlady.

Mabel's first hour's work at paper hanging should have convinced the landlady that a job of that kind was never meant for Mabel. Ten minutes after Mabel sets herself to the task the landlady is thrown to the floor when Mabel swings a step-ladder right in her way, the slavey, of course, having perfectly timed the swing. When her employer gets her feet, Mabel purposely trips over the ladder and bumps into the landlady and that dignified personage falls across a board and the wall paper on it sticks to her clothes.

Mabel rushes out for water to cleanse the landlady's hands and clothes of the paste. She brings back a pailful and adds to the landlady's woes by spilling the contents of the pail all over her.

Protestant Episcopals Start a Campaign of Nation-Wide Extent

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3—Organization work is rapidly being completed for the forthcoming Nation-wide campaign of the President Episcopal Church for an increased and strengthened membership and for funds with which to carry out the Episcopal Church's share in the work of world evangelization being undertaken by the various christian churches.

While the church has set for itself a goal of $20,000,000 to be secured at the end of the drive in November, leaders point out that this is not the principal object of the campaign, which is primarily to arouse, in every member of the Episcopal Church, the desire to aid the church in discharging its measure of the obligations imposed upon the christian churches in the work of world reconstruction.

For the purposes of the campaign the United States has been divided into four general areas, the western area including state of California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho and New Mexico. The eight states are again divided into divisions by dioceses and missionary districts, a total of thirteen in all, in charge of a committee which will act with the national headquarters in organizing the parochial committees to further the campaign.

The committee in general supervision of the western area work is

Simple Operations Fitted Together

The business of Swift & Company is the fitting together of many simple operations.

No one thing in a packing business is particularly difficult for men trained to do it, but no one thing is enough.

Thousands of other operations, properly performed, are necessary for the completed processes. And someone must fit together all these thousands of simple operations.

The success with which a packing business performs its function of supplying the best possible meat products to the consumer with the greatest possible benefit to both him and the producer depends upon the energy, brains, experience, and faithful effort of the men trained in the business.

Swift & Company turns the producer's live stock into meat for the consumer at a profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound, because it fits these operations together with the least waste, overlapping, and friction.

Do you believe government direction could do better?

"OUT OF THE FOG" IS NEW NAZIMOVA DRAMA

"Caption Shoals" Made For The Screen Is Gripping.

An unusual and distinctive play, "Out of The Fog," was the feature at the Arcade Theatre today, a play giving this intense and forceful actress two distinctive roles which brought out with dramatic conviction her superb power of acting.

The action of the play starts in a little fishing village in New England where Faith, the sister of Job Coffin, known throughout the country for his narrow and harsh outlook on life, and his bigoted religious tendencies, falls in love with a young fisherman. Before they can be married he is lost in a storm and Faith's little daughter Eve is born fatherless. The wrath of Job Coffin is terrible and he dooms the young mother and her babe to perpetual solitude on a desolate island lighthouse in the Caribbean Seas.

In despair Faith commits suicide and Eve is left alone with her uncle. Dressed always in boy's clothes, and without companionship, she grows to beautiful womanhood on lonely Caption Shoals, until romance and adventure comes to her when a yacht is stranded on the treacherous shoals in a dense and blinding fog. The story is beautifully told and superbly acted and the play is seen as the best and most dramatic role of her internationally famous career. "Out of the Fog," is the screen version of "Caption Shoals," the play by H. Austin Adams, produced on the New York stage by Nazimova and which was one of the theatrical wonders of the season. The screen adaptation was made by Albert Capellani and June Mathis and directed by Mr. Capellani under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger, director general. The notable players supporting Nazimova are Charles Bryant, Henry Harmon, Nancy Palmer, George W. Davis, T. Morse Koupal, Charles Smiley, Tom Blake, Hugh Jeffrey and Dorothy Smoller.

"Out of The Fog", will be shown again tomorrow for the last time.
