WILLIAM FAVERSHAM CELEBRATED ACTOR Star of "The Silver King" Has Had Notable Career.

William Faversham, the celebrated actor who is starred in the new Paramount-Artcraft special picture "The Silver King," which will be shown at the Arcade theatre Friday and Saturday, has had a most notable career as player and producer manager. Mr. Faversham is an Englishman and he gained his histrionic experience in that country prior to 1887, when he made his first professional appearance in this country in "Don and Ink" at the Union Square theatre, New York. Mr. Faversham appeared as star in "A Royal Rival" at the Criterion theatre, New York, in August, 1901, and since that time this record has been one of repeated theatrical successes. Mr. Faversham is an artist and his popularity is universal. In "The Silver King" he has a role that fits him admirably and he plays it most effectively. The picture is one that will accentuate his popularity with motion picture audiences. His leading woman is Barbara Castleman, and the support throughout is of the highest quality.

LAURELS IN METRO PLAY

"Castles in the Air" Shown at the Sherry's Theatre in Brilliant Comedy.

"Castles in the Air," a brilliant comedy-drama adapted from the play by Kate Jordan, published in "The Saturday Evening Post," is the feature, and showing today with May Allison as the star.

The whimsical story told of the building of the castles for the affluence of the book has been made that tell of millionaire marriage girls of high station and take them to the heights of fame and fortune. Fortune smiles, although she looks on a wiser at a fashionable theatre who, nevertheless, possesses rare beauty and determination to follow the lead of the hierarchy of fortune and find a millionaire for herself. She does find one but soon discovers that he is not her ideal after all but a man, surely, in need of her help. The play is filled with situations which give the noted star unusual scope for her vivacious and subtle humor and for the heart-scipping pathos which she knows so well how to project into her work. Others of the cast are Ben Wilson, Clarence Boston, Walter J. Percival, Irene Rich, "Mother" Anderson, Viola Dolan and Ruth Maurice. The production was directed by George D. Baker. Bobby Vernon in the comedy "Oh! What a Night!" rounds out the bill.

"OUT OF THE SHADOW" IS BASED ON FAMOUS E. W. HORNUNG NOVEL Pauline Frederick's New Film Has Exceptionally Strong Role For Star.

There are few who have not read E. W. Hornung's powerful novel, "The Shadow of the Rope," which was published several years ago and which has enjoyed a phenomenal sale. This story has been pictureized by Paramount under the title of "Out of the Shadow" and it will be shown at the Arcade theatre tomorrow only, with beautiful Pauline Frederick in the stellar role. Mr. Hornung has told in graphic style the story of a young Australian girl who would a man, is treated with fiendish cruelty by him and when he is slain in self defense by a planist of whom he is jealous, the crime is accepted for his murder. She is tried, but acquitted, and later her innocence is established when the slayer confesses. The young woman then learns to love a strong man and their love romance ends happily for both. Miss Frederick is supported by picked players, her leading man being Wyandus Standing. Others in the cast include Ronald Ryan, Wilham Green, Emma Campbell, Jack W. Johnson, Syn De Conde and Catherine Thomas.

Sacramento Woman Says Panache Made Her Feel Like New Person.

"It certainly paid me well to stick to Tangle for five months. I have really and truly made me feel like a new person," said Mrs. W. Warren, wife of a well-known Southern Pacific railroad man, residing at 411 25th street, Sacramento, in telling of the benefits she has derived from the medicine, recently. Mrs. Warren was born in Sacramento. She has always lived here and has a wide circle of devoted friends. "At the time I began taking Tangle," she continued, "I was so nervous and weak I could hardly get the children ready in the morning in time for school. I had an awful time with my stomach for several months and it all sun down in every way. I had no appetite and what little I did eat would ferment and bloat me up until I was unbearable. There was a heavy pressure around my heart all the time with terrible pains that made me so, faint and weak that I could hardly get through with my housework. I was in such a bad condition that I could hardly hold out to go down town and do a little shopping. I was so weak and unclean that I spent about all my time on the porch and in the yard, hoping that would help me. I would get up mornings tired and anxious and feel that way all day. My husband suggested me to try Tangle after reading a testimonial from a lady who had been relieved of troubles similar to mine. The first two bottles didn't seem to help much, but I stuck to it, thinking it must be good or so many couldn't say it had hurt them, and after finishing the third bottle my improvement was very rapid. My stomach has not given me a bit of trouble since I finished that third bottle and I am eating just anything and everything. I am not the least bit nervous or more and have more strength than I have had in months. Why, just yesterday I mowed the lawn, both front and back, and stood a fine. Last Sunday, after spending the day at the park, I cooked dinner for twelve people. Well, when I get time again, I admit I was tired, but not the same way I had been before. It was that kind of feeling that makes one lie down and stay like a child and not the kind that makes one feel weak, nervous and restless. When I weighed about three weeks ago I had gained six pounds and have maintained about that much since by the time. Any way I have improved so much that my friends are often speaking of it. I don't have that weary look in my eyes nor that tired, worn out feeling any more, and I am most grateful than I can put into words for what Tangle has done for me." Tangle is sold in La Grande by F. J. Vothman and Richardson Drug Store; in Union by L. A. Wright in North Powder by L. A. Hunsell and in Elgin by Scott E. Harris and in Toloanet by Toloanet Grocery Co.—Adv.
