Relief for the Nervous.
The treatment for nervous disorders is diversion. Attention transferred and directed into new channels, new friends, new faces, new scenes, new habits, change sleeping rooms, new sports, everything radically altered and wholly different will in time relieve almost all such conditions.

Danger in Empty Gas Tank.
Gas when in liquid form, will not explode. A tank which is practically empty and is full of air will be mixed with a certain amount of gas vapor, so contains a very explosive mixture. It is the empty gas tank that is always dangerous.

Sharp Sonnet of Japan.
Even in Japan the butterfly is in its rights, since that creature, once a house fly like the carp, was beaten to a jelly by his king because he allowed himself to be pulled and outwitted by a monkey. But the carp is honored and sung, and every Japanese boy looks forward to the day he may, if called on, meet the chopper with the same stoical behavior.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Charles James Fox.
Charles James Fox was one of the progressives of English politics, as well as one of the most brilliant orators and statesmen in the history of England. Like most thinking people of his day, he favored freedom of the American colonies and was constantly in opposition to the German king, George III, who was then sitting on the English throne.

Bird Rebuked.
Marguerite was accustomed to being told by her mother to keep still when any grown-up person present was speaking. One day her mother was telling something interesting when a canary in the room commenced chirping at its leisure. Marguerite climbed upon a chair to the cage and shaking her finger at the bird said in a commanding tone, "You keep still! Don't you hear my mamma talking?"

Japanese Use of Seaweed.
It is estimated that 800,000 Japanese are employed in the seaweed industries, using the weed in the manufacture of such diverse objects as policemen's boots, picture frames, matted floors, and electric switchboards. They have even found a substitute for cotton in a seaweed called "Stigma".

Keep Doorknobs Tight.
Doorknob screws often work out and let the knob come off. This may be prevented by removing loose screws, covering them with glue and screwing them back into place.

The Greater Misfortune.
For ignorance of all things is an evil neither terrible nor excessive, nor yet the greatest of all; but great cleverness and much learning, if they be accomplished by a bad training, are a much greater misfortune.—Plato.

To Stop a Creak.
Creaking doors, windows and drawers may be stilled by rubbing with hard soap.

Ice Cream for Children.
Arthur attended a children's party at which the refreshments served were lemonade and cookies. The hostess asked him to drink his lemonade to which he said he didn't care for it. "No, no," he answered. "Lemonade is all right, but ice cream is my favorite."

In His Own.
Lady of the House (to the doctor)—I'm so glad you came along doctor. Some unexpected guests have arrived and the butcher hasn't turned up. Would you mind killing a couple of chickens for me?—Pearson's Weekly.

What He Didn't Understand.
Joe had been spending his first vacation in a home. When for the first time he saw the chickens all lined up on the road he exclaimed, "How do they ever stick on to that grand road while they are asleep?"

Value of Words to Cookery.
The old-fashioned kitchen garden was not considered complete without its small collection of "hot herbs"— sage, thyme, and other medicinal and sunny herbs. French cooking is noted for its fine flavor, and this is largely because French cooks stick to the skilled use of herbs.

Venerable American City.
Albany, N. Y. was the site of an old Indian name of pre-Continental days. Wampum was extensively manufactured there. Its name, meaning Place of Spears, was given in honor of the death of these birds which in the early days frequented the area.

Smiles of the Fortune.
"Fishes," said Uncle Eben, "is generally a welcome and very funny remark, without even going to the trouble of fish up a cold back as a catch of green goods."

First Woman Printer.
The first woman printer was said to have been one of the Quakers in 1720, who set a printing press in the town of New York, N. Y. as early as 1720.

The "Garden" in German.
A New York woman has invented a machine for making the best quality of artificial flowers. The machine is called "Garden" and it makes flowers that are indistinguishable from the real thing.

Quitting the Job.
The job of a man is to do his work and get paid for it. If he doesn't like his work, he should quit. It's no disgrace to quit a job if you don't like it.

First American Ship.
The first American ship was the "Albatross," which was built in 1792. It was a three-masted sailing ship and was used for exploring the Pacific Ocean.

Only Evening Up.
After all, what if we do incorporate a man when he is dead, doesn't he get his of undervalued while he is living?—Boston Transcript.
