FAMOUS ORIGINATOR OF JAZZ TO BE HERE

The Broadway Novelty Orchestra (formerly McElroy's Jazz Band), will play a dance at Rex Hall Saturday, September 12. It will be remembered that the conduct and efficiency of these masters of dance music was excellent when they were touring this part of the state last year, and a good time is assured all who attend the dance Saturday evening.

The Broadway Novelty Orchestra, which has just finished a very successful season at Columbia Beach, Portland, is touring the northwest prior to the opening of their fall engagement at Broadway Hall, Portland's newest ball room, about November 1. People of La Grande are offered a chance to hear this metropolitan orchestra at a very small cost.

Friends of these boys will be glad to hear that the same boys who were here last year with McElroy will be here Saturday. They are "Stuffy" McDaniel, piano; Darr Gensel, saxophone; Jack Nash, banjo-violin; Percy Drake, drums; Eddie Swartout, cylophone, and Billy Maxwell, manager.

BANK REPORTS BIG BUSINESS

The First National bank, at the close of business last evening, revealed a mark of total resources of $3,007,174.45, with deposits of $2,307,147.82 says the Baker Democrat.

In September, 1912, William Polman, purchased the controlling interest in the bank from the Ankey interests of Walls Walls, and since that time the local institution has been under his personal guidance. At that time the total resources were $1,346,516.32, with deposits of $882,410.19.

During the past seven years the First National has each year steadily increased its business, even during the year of the war, when so much money was taken up by Liberty and Victory bonds. With its present standing it is near the top of all banks in eastern Oregon, and may well be proud of the growth has made.

ALASKAN SALMON SUPPLY MUST BE RECOVERED

Dr. Gilbert, of Stanford University, spent the summer in studying the Conditions

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 11.—Alaska's dwindling silver horde must be built up at once if the salmon industry of the north Pacific is to continue, according to Dr. C. H. Gilbert, zoology professor of Stanford university, who has long been recognized as a world authority on the salmon. Dr. Gilbert recently arrived here from the north where, as a special assistant in the United States Bureau of Fisheries, he spent the summer studying conditions.

Silver wanderers of the sea, the sockeye, the king and the other salmon, are simply being fished out, Dr. Gilbert reports. "With every canner eager to prevent the fish from returning to their fresh water spawning ground and fish-runs and mill netters catching tons of salmon trout, which are only half grown salmon, the salmon simply hasn't a chance for survival," he asserted. Stringent protection laws are needed, Dr. Gilbert believes. "Man destroyed the salmon horde and it will be for man to build it up again if the salmon industry is to continue," he said recently. "Only strict legislation that will close the principal fishing grounds to ottermen and nets for years to come will prevent the extinction of the salmon. Today's fish that once supplied the largest number of fish furnish but a handful compared with their former amounts. There is nothing that can take the place of the salmon. This summer in many places I saw only thousands of fish where years ago millions used to swarm. It's all an old old story. We have preached our tale for years and we can't convince those who make money enough in the big years to afford to lose in the lean one that they are killing the goose and that the golden egg will shortly cease to be."

"LOOKS JUST LIKE NEW"

Vulcanizing, like cobbling, depends for its success upon the skill of the operator, not upon the materials used. A poor shoe-maker and a bungling vulcanizer can spoil good materials. We absolutely guarantee first class work and will turn out a vulcanized tire "just like new." We have never yet spoiled a "shoe."
