No Abundance of Hay—

While the stock situation in eastern Oregon is very promising according to W. J. Townley of Union, there is not an abundance of hay. "We have about 50 per cent. of hay to carry our stock over the winter," he says, "but if we have an open winter like last year it will be quite sufficient." Mr. Townley, who owns a large merchandise store and is also a shipper of stock to the Portland yards, at the Multnomah for a few days on business and pleasure. He says that the stockmen of Oregon are enthusiastic over the livestock exhibition building being put in readiness for the November show. Mr. Levy of Union, who is probably the largest Shetland pony raiser west of the Rocky mountains, will have his ponies in the show.—Oregonian.

Heating Stoves That Burn Coal or Wood---One as Good as the Other

These stoves will burn sixteen-inch wood and when grates are reversed has a small fire box for coal; hot blast attachment that burns the smoke. This makes it a very economical stove. Beautifully trimmed and lizing glass in the door, which makes it cheerful.

It is not necessary to have the money to buy a stove at Carr's. You may make your first payment in October.
