CASTLENAU IS A FRENCH HERO

PARIS, (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Whenever the figure of General de Castelnau, victor of the Grand Couronne of Nancy which made possible the first battle of the Marne is thrown on the screen, in a moving picture theatre here, which is displaying a picture of the Victory Procession in Paris, July 14, the spectators arise, cheer and shout "Marshal."

It is an expression of their demand that de Castelnau should be a Marshal of France. When the Marshals were being created, de Castelnau was overlooked. Some say that the papers to make him a Marshal were drawn up for signature but were rejected in the highest quarter.

Most Valuable Plant.

No plant renders man greater service than does the wheat, because it supplies to the greater part—and the better part, too—of the western world its staff of life. From wheat the leading nations of the earth obtain their bread.

AMERICA SHOULD NOT STAY OUT

Arrived at Medford at 11:03 and stopped but a few minutes. He made no speech. He shook hands with crowds at Grants Pass and Glendale at each of which places a large deer was presented to the president and Mrs. Wilson.

WILL START SOON ON NEW SAWMILL.

East Oregon Company Resumes Work at Planer, To Rush Rebuilding.

As a welcome reminder that the industry is still alive and that a new mill will arise shortly on the ashes of the old, the whistle at the East Oregon Lumber company plant blew again on last Monday evening, and has sounded the working hours regularly ever since. The planer started work again Tuesday morning and reconstruction of the mill will begin as soon as the ground can be cleared and materials brought for the new building.

The company could put in a saw mill and saw timbers for the new construction, or could buy them outside, perhaps on the coast. No small mill is available and some time would be consumed getting one.

Only a few days more for good picture-taking season. It will be too windy or too cloudy. Why not drop in and buy or hire a good Kodak at Silverthorn's.

and getting it up. It is very probable that both time and money will be saved by buying the timbers outright.

The common impression is that the principal delay in reconstruction will come from the machinery. Eastern plans are reported crowded with business and are behind in their orders. This is known to the case in many lines of manufacturing, and it is supposed the same condition prevails in machinery.

The fire destroyed a short length of heavy copper cable over which electric current was transmitted from the power plant to the planer. When the mill was built, this cable came from the extreme east, and the company managers feared they could not replace it in weeks. But they were fortunate in finding what they wanted in government spruce division equipment. The cable was shipped in immediately and was strung last week. At the same time the sections burned out of the metal conveyor pipe, which carried the shavings from the planer to the fuel house, were replaced, and Monday evening two boilers were fired and preparations made to resume work in part of the plant.

J. E. Austin came in from Seattle last Friday, as fire insurance adjuster for all the companies having policies on the mill, and spent several days examining the ruins, learning what had been the construction of the building and what its equipment.

President Duval Jackson of the company arrived from Kansas City on Tuesday, bringing the insurance policies and other data to help the adjuster make a settlement.—Record Chieftain.

INTEREST DUE ON THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

Opportunity Presented to Hit High Prices a Hard Blow Says Director Robert E. Smith

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—The United States government will pay out more than $6,000,000 in semi-annual interest to holders of Third Liberty Loan bonds in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. This interest payment, added to the two previous interest installments paid on Third Loan Bonds by the government, gives a total of nearly $18,000,000 earned since May, 1918 by the $178,972,000 invested by 1,462,584 purchasers of bonds of the Third Loan in this federal reserve district.

"Be sure and clip your coupons and cash them," is the advice broadcast to holders of the Third Loan Bonds by Robert E. Smith, director of the War Loan Organization of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. Mr. Smith further says that "Coupons uncashed are idle money. It is no trouble to cash your coupons. Just clip the September 15 coupon off and present it at any bank and you will get your money. It is no more trouble than getting change for a bill."

If all bondholders in America cash their coupons today there will be in circulation tomorrow nearly $85,000,000 more money than was in circulation yesterday. That is approximately the total amount of interest to be paid out on the Third Loan as a whole.

"Here is a chance for the people to hit high prices a hard blow," said Director Smith. "Every man, woman, and child who owns a Third Loan Bond should cash the coupon and immediately buy Thrift or War Savings Stamps or Treasury Savings Certificates which bear more interest than the bonds. Investment of the Third Loan Bond interest at the bank window immediately upon cashing the coupons will keep that $85,000,000 out of circulation and thus help keep prices down."

"I cannot urge too strongly the wisdom of letting the government keep this interest money, and, not only that, but continued buying of War Savings Stamps out of every pay envelope. If everyone in the United States would set aside something each week for War Savings Stamps earning them four per cent interest compounded every three months, it would be a very short time until there would be a noticeable drop in prices."

A cablegram received by Mayor Edmund B. Allen promises a visit by the General shortly after his arrival in the United States.

Some time ago when Laclede learned that General Pershing was returning from Europe the following cablegrams was despatched to him by Mayor Allen:

"Laclede, your old home, your calling you. When may we expect you home?"

General Pershing cabled in reply: "I have heard the call. Will be there soon after my arrival in the United States. Can't give you definite date now but will let you know later."

Laclede will pay tribute to General Pershing on his arrival, not with the pomp and ceremony that marked reception in European capitals, but with a "good old fashioned Missouri home-coming," according to the committee arranging for his reception.

Plans for the General's entertainment include re-unions with old schoolmates and chums, trips to the old swimmin' hole on Muddy Creek and to the old Pershing farm.

The homecoming will also mark a reunion of the Pershing family. James Pershing, of Chicago, the General's brother, and Miss May Pershing and Mrs. Beattie Butler, of Lincoln, Neb., his two sisters, will gather at the former Pershing home during the General's stay.

Really Not Their Fault.

Marjorie and Clea are prime little sisters, and as there is a baby brother mamma has some trouble putting on the last touches and getting them away to school mornings. In the interest of discipline their teacher was obliged to lecture them on tardiness and next morning they were late as usual. She waited for them at the door, trying to look stern, but Clea upset all her dignity and cut her lecture short by observing: "Well, we can't help it if you ring the bell too soon."

MOVIES AS AN AID TO BEAUTY

Chicago Sculptor and Others Lend Endorsement, But the Vamp Character is Taboo.

(By Associated Press to The Observer)

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—"Girls will be psychologically affected by moving pictures," says Lorado Taft, the sculptor. "They see beautiful women on the screen, then they go home and practice for hours before the mirror. The outcome? Graceful walking, pleasant faces, fine complexions and vivacity. Still, the hoydenish and caper-cutting movie actresses are a bad influence."

In the opinion of Miss Indiana Gyerson, an Irish painter who has studied in Paris and Madrid, the movies have made American women more beautiful.

"Ah, the rising generation of Chicago girls," she exclaimed. "One sees a far, far larger number of charming women here now. Let them talk of cabaret dancing and rich pastries ruining the attractiveness. It is the movies that are molding ever fresh types of native beauty—new American types."

Yet she conceded that the screen plays wield an influence that will work either good or evil.

"Remember the recent avalanche of 'vamps' in Chicago?" she went on. "Girls who slither-slithered when they walked, rolled their eyes alluringly and tried to look naughty? They were copying the movie queen of the moment. Now we're getting the athletic, vigorous, smiling girls in the films. It is good. As DeMaupassant said, 'All women are imitative as monkeys. The speedy action of the films has made girls vivacious.'"

A prominent designer and importer of women's gowns declared the films have had an important effect on the demand for certain styles, particularly gowns of simple, classic lines and "intriguing fabrics," and a druggist reports the sale of cosmetics has increased 25 per cent since the movie became popular.

PERSHING WILL VISIT HIS BOYHOOD HOME

LACLEDE, Mo., Sept. 16.—General Pershing is coming back to his boyhood home here.

He will return a full fledged general, the hero of America, but to the boyhood companions with whom he stole apples, and played at the old swimmin' hole, it will be the "Johnny" Pershing who spent his early life here before going away to West Point to embark on a military career.
