Silly Old Superstitions.
In the highlands of Scotland it is seen as a terribly unlucky sign if a loe should run between the bridal pair on their wedding day. And brides still sell the bees of their wedding and decorate the hive for the occasion, says the Philadelphia North American in parts of England and Scotland there exists an ancient custom for which no one seems to know the reason, by which part of the wedding cake is broken over the head of the bride and the guests all scramble for a piece.

Cultivate the Memory.
Back of the idea of cultivating a memory is the keener edge it puts on the brain generally, which, is the making of the more attractive person. Is there anything duller than a woman who is just too lazy minded to try to remember names and places and has to refer constantly to a third person for aid in telling an incident?—Exchange.

About the Carat.
The "carat," the unit of weight peculiar to jewelry, was introduced from India. Man sought to record the weight of small objects by using tiny seeds. The barley grain was used in Europe. In the East the seeds of a vetch were in use, and it is from the Greek word for vetch (keration) that the now familiar term "carat" is derived.

Roughing It.
Robert and his father were stranded one night out in a country district. Their car had broken down and they were obliged to stay all night in a humble little home. Everything was strange to Robert, who was strictly a city child. When he returned home I heard him tell his little neighbor friend: "Say, it was great! We slept on a feather bed and washed in their dishpan on the back porch."

Some People Never Get Tired.
Marjorie has been asking me daffily how much longer she would have to wait before she could go to school. When asking her why she was so anxious, she said, "I'm so tired mother, of being ignorant."—Chicago Tribune.

Secret Service Wags
"Secret Service" in a narrow sense is the name applied to the Bureau in the Treasury Department the duties of which are defined by law as to detect counterfeiting and to protect the President. The term "Secret Service" in its broader sense includes all of those agencies which detect violations of Federal laws and which keep the government informed as to international relationships. Military intelligence is the chief secret service agency in the broader sense and it co-ordinates and uses all the lesser detective agencies of the government.

Indian Jewels.
Crossing from China to India, we shall find the people there often loaded with jewelry, writes Frank G. Carpenter, in "How the World is Clothed." That worn by a single girl in the Himalaya mountains may weigh many pounds. It is usually of brass, but sometimes of gold and silver. In the valley of the Ganges, there are women who wear metal rings in their noses, and some who have silver belts much like sleigh bells fastened about their toes.

New Zealand Lumber Vanishing.
At the present rate of increase in the consumption of native lumber in New Zealand it is estimated that the supply of standing timber will last not more than 30 years.

Story of the Cable Car.
In 1871, on August 1, the first cable car in the world was put into operation at San Francisco. The inventor of the cable car was Andrew H. H. Little. The cable cars were introduced into Chicago eight years after their appearance on the Pacific coast and in 1883 were adopted in New York, Washington and Philadelphia and afterward in London.

Optimistic Thought.
Time is a better comforter than perfection.

Uncle Eben.
"Popularity," said Uncle Eben, "is a mistake." For instance, a man that kin every a time out of a uklele is alius mo' popular dan one dat keeps his mind on regular work."
