A BRITISH VIEW OF LABOR STRIKES

Not the Capitalists But the People Who Suffer; Decreased Production Causes Higher Prices.

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 10.—British labor leaders have begun a general movement to increase production by industrial workers. Complaints have been made for several months of a decline in the amount of material produced. This has been attributed to refusal of the workers in many industries to work full time.

SCIATIC PAINS QUICKLY RELIEVED

Keep Sloan's, the World's Liniment handy to allay aches. THOUSANDS of men and women, when the least little rheumatic "crick" twinges them, have Sloan's Liniment handy to knock it out. Popular a third of a century ago—far more popular today.

BAD BREATH
DO YOU WANT your friends to avoid you? They will certainly do so when your breath is bad. There is no excuse for anyone having a bad breath. It is caused by disorders of the stomach which can be corrected by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. Many have been permanently cured of stomach troubles by the use of these tablets after years of suffering. Price 25 cents per bottle.

ment and labor leader, expressed the belief that the adoption of the piece-work system as already applied to the iron and steel industries, would solve the problem. To this, he declared many workmen were opposed.

W. A. Appleton, secretary of the General Federation of Trade Unions, urged the men to refrain from political strikes, as the first move toward increased production.

"Political strikes must either fail or end in revolution," he said. "They are not against the capitalist but against the community. It is not the capital that suffers but the people. The effect of such strikes is to decrease production and increase the price of commodities."

M. Hamberstone, a Sheffield leader said: "The surest way of increasing production is to give payment by results. Wherever possible it is carried out in ours, the steel, trade. In my opinion it is time we called a halt in regard to increases in wages because it only means a further increase in the cost of living. The sooner we can make the workers realize that it is more to their interest to decrease the cost of living than to increase wages, the better it will be for all concerned."

J. T. Brownlie, chairman of the executive council of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, was the first trade unionist to advance the idea that workmen must increase production. Other leaders quickly endorsed his view. In the hope that scores of unauthorized strikes, fostered by a craze for shorter hours and higher wages, would cease and everybody would get back to work.

STATEMENT

Of Ownership, Management, Circulation, Etc., Required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912, of La Grande Evening Observer, Published Daily (Except Saturday) Also Sunday Morning, at La Grande, Oregon, for October 1, 1919.

STATE OF OREGON, County of Union, ss:

Before me, a notary public in and for the said state and county, personally appeared Bruce Dennis, who, having been sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher of the La Grande Evening Observer and that the following is a true and correct statement of the ownership, management and (if a daily paper) circulation, etc., of the aforesaid publication, for the date shown in the above caption, required by the act of August 24, 1912, embodied in Section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, to-wit:

That the name of the publisher, manager, business manager and editor is Bruce Dennis, La Grande, Oregon.

That the owners are: (Give names and addresses of individual owners, or, if a corporation, give its name and the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.) La Grande Evening Observer Publishing Company, Bruce Dennis, Florence J. Dennis, La Grande, Oregon.

That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If these are none, so state.) De Grande National Bank, and United States National Bank, of La Grande, Oregon.

That the two paragraphs next above giving the names of the owners, stockholders and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company, but also, in cases where the stockholders or security holders appear upon the books of the company as trustee, or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which the stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon

The books of the company as trustee, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner and this affiant has no reason to believe that any person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as stated by him.

That the average number of copies of such issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the six months preceding the date shown above is 2125. (This information is required only from daily publications.)

BRUCE DENNIS, Publisher. Subscribed and sworn to before me this first day of October, 1919.

J. F. FLY, Notary Public for Oregon. My commission expires May 29, 1922.

GOOD ROADS

GOOD ROADS—Mean everything to the present and future generations. They are the greatest dividend payers known. They increase land values. They make people happy. They save their cost in automobile upkeep and tires. They bring the community up in the front line of progress, for a county without good roads is bound to take a back seat and be shunned by the traveling public. You would not buy a home where there were not good highways—no one else will. They must be built soon, in order that Union County may claim her share of the State and Federal highway funds. We cannot afford to lose the money from these sources.
