AGITATORS RESPONSIBLE FOR RACE TROUBLE

The attention of white men and black men in every part of the country may well be called to a statement issued by a conference of negro leaders in North Carolina.

A large majority of the negroes have no troubles," says the statement. "If the agitators will only let them alone, they can secure a fair opportunity to work out their own destinies."

With such prospects for improving our educational conditions, secondary articles, false charges, and the continual harping on ineptness of the negro to the negroes doing good work, and if the agitator really wished to help the negro he should throw the emphasis upon what the white man is really doing for the negro and make a story that would change the whole thought about racial relations.

These negroes wisely condemn all advocacy of social equality or intermarriage, as doing nothing but harm to the negro by stirring up race prejudice against him.

But few go to Europe to stay. Already the tales of emigration from America to Europe have changed to tales of immigration. People who were glad a few months ago to see all the foreign-born labor of the United States should change to other states taking along enormous sums of money may now quit their claims. Thousands of foreigners are still leaving the country, but many of the first to leave are already returning.

Before the war foreigners who had earned and saved a few thousand dollars could go back to their native land and live in comfort, if not real luxury, for the rest of their lives.

But they have found, as many thoughtful persons prophesied they would, that conditions in the old country are far different today.

With them will come many of the relatives and friends they want "home" to look. Word of the greater comfort and opportunities to be enjoyed in America will travel fast.

THEY BOTH HAVE THE RIGHT TO QUIT.

"The right of any man to cease working for another for any reason that is sufficient to himself is the basic element of human liberty. The right of any person to refuse to operate his plant at anytime he desires to do so in the exercise of a property right guaranteed by the constitution. It does not follow that because these rights exist it is necessary to exercise them."

These words, spoken by Secretary of Labor Wilson in his opening address to the industrial conference at Washington, seem to hit the nail on the head so far as the present situation in this country is concerned.

Labor has an inalienable right to strike. Capital has an inalienable right to strike. But that is no justification for the long series of strikes and lock-outs to which the United States has been subjected.

THE ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL Object is to Allow Great Number to Be Subscribers to Fund

(Editorial from the Medford Tribune, Sept. 25, 1919.) Have you ever seen the Washington monument? If you have you probably would be glad to know that your grandfather had helped to build it. You would undoubtedly take great pride in that fact.

There is to be a Roosevelt Memorial erected in Washington, which will take its place with the Washington monument and the Lincoln memorial. Do you want to help build it?

The opportunity will be offered next month beginning October 20th. Jackson county's share of the national fund of $5,000,000 will only be $750. There are many individuals in Jackson county who would be glad to supply that amount alone but that's not what the committee wants. This is not essentially a drive for money, in fact it isn't a drive at all. It's rather an opportunity offered to the people of the country to express their appreciation of Theodore Roosevelt in some tangible material way.

Much better to have dollar subscriptions from 250 people, than $750 from one subscriber. In fact the difficulty will undoubtedly be not to raise the money, to accommodate the people—men, women and children, who want to be identified with this national movement to pay a lasting tribute to one of the greatest Americans who ever lived.

A delegate to the state meeting of the Roosevelt Memorial committee, Judge R. R. Butler, of The Dalles, expressed the idea when he told of a "Flower for Mirabeau." It seems that when the great French statesman, he on his death bed in Paris, he said his nurse to go down on the street and pick a flower. She went down and picked a flower. She brought it to him and he said, "A flower for Mirabeau, a flower for Mirabeau!" The cry went up from outside of Paris to the world and by nightfall, as the great man lay breathing his last, the room was filled with little flowers growing wild in Paris at that time brought by the thousands who loved and respected this man who had lived would undoubtedly have prevented the French revolution.

A flower for Roosevelt, that was the idea of the speaker and it seems to us to express peculiarly well the sentiment surrounding this Roosevelt Memorial campaign.

Extracts from the writing of Theodore Roosevelt: The newspaper men, publisher, editor, reporter—are just as much public servants as are the men in the government service themselves. The influence of publicity is mighty and far-reaching shaping the destiny of a people. Theodore Roosevelt.
