Nine Most-Useful Words.
Nine words, declares a philologist, in one-fourth of the work of our written and spoken English language, and thirty-four words one-half. The nine most useful words are stated to be: And, be, have, it, of, the, to, will, you.

SQUEEZED TO DEATH

A Tip.

There are two great races—the human race and the horse race—and if you must bet, lay your wager on the human race—it is safer.—Jacksonville (Fla.) Times-Union.

Baptized in a Lifelon.

The child of a well-known seafarer of the British parliament was recently christened in the crypt of the house of commons. This is, in a sense, a survival of the custom of bygone days when christenings in crypts were by no means uncommon. In one recent case in California, for instance, the ceremony was performed in a diving bell at the bottom of the sea. In another case the proud parents of the new arrival persuaded a clergyman to baptize the child while up in a balloon.

Proved Truth of Saying.

The saying, "United we stand, divided we fall," comes from one of Aesop's fables called "The Four Oxen and the Lion." Four oxen were attacked by a lion. They were safe when they turned their tails together, and presented their horns, but when they separated the lion killed them singly.

He's Lucky at That.

If youngest boy and I were in a restaurant and the waiter asked what we would have. The boy said: "Anything but ham and eggs; that's all I ever get at home."—Chicago Tribune.

"Indian Summer."

According to William Henry Playfair's 6,000 facts, Indian summer is the early part of November. The name was derived not from the state of weather, but from the fact the weather being mild and balmy the Indians used that period to harvest their corn, and it lasted nine days and came just before winter set in. This season corresponds to the days known as "St. Martin's summer" in England and the "Mittler-runnen countries," although this season in the mentioned countries comes in the fall just before our Indian summer.

Have to Place Our Truth.

You can draw your own conclusion from the fact that there isn't enough truth in existence to keep all the tongues of hell continually wagging.

Imperfect Vision in A School Child often entails more than mere eyestrain. It must be remembered that trouble from imperfect seeing school work, comes not only from seeing words and figures wrongly but also from fatigue of the brain caused by eyestrain. Twenty-five per cent of children have defective vision. Frequently a bashful child fails to tell the teacher he cannot see the blackboard clearly and so is unable to do his work—is accused of neglect and falls behind in classes—all because of lack of proper eye care. If your child has defective vision have it corrected by an Optometrist. Our equipment is the most modern in the optical science.
