Millions In Oil
The investors are now buying acreage. The value of acreage depends on the distance from where oil wells are actually being drilled. Oil leases at Burk Burnett were worth, before the first well was drilled, nothing. During the time the first well was going down acreage sold rapidly at $200 to $300 per acre. After the well was completed, acreage sold from $500 to $10,000 per acre. When a person buys acreage there is no chance of losing it—it belongs to you, and no matter how valuable it becomes, you are the one who says when to sell. A local syndicate is now drilling for oil in Oklahoma, where over 50 per cent of the wells are money-makers, in a country where checks are actually written in millions. Do you want some acreage within one mile of where a well is actually being drilled? Do you understand the difference in owning acreage and oil stock? Thousands of men have got rich on acreage. No one can take it away from you. Within 60 days the story will be told, the well will be drilled, the chance of having acreage will be past. Are you interested? If so, how much? Do you want ten acres, or would you rather pool with other friends and take a forty? Drop a letter in the postoffice today telling where you live, and if interested in making an investment, (one where chances to win are in buying the oil lease same as the big oil companies do.)
