"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

Believes Roosevelt Belonged to Northwest.

Theodore Roosevelt belong peculiarly to the Northwest. He was the only president who knew and appreciated its problems and conditions.

Our Neighbor's Criticism of La Grande.

The Enterprise Record-Chiefstain has the following to say in regard to the defeat they suffered two weeks ago at the hands of the local high school football organization:

"In their second trip away from home the football players of the Enterprise high school again met defeat at the hands of La Grande last Saturday.

The game produced considerable discussion and raised several points which have not been answered. La Grande claimed the score was 75 to 0, but the Enterprise score keepers insist it was 40 to 0.

Also, a question was raised as to the eligibility of most of the players on the La Grande team. Some of these were returned soldiers, who were known to be 24 years of age, and perhaps older.

The week before the Enterprise team was defeated at Willowa 14 to 0 in a fair and square game.

Model Farms Should Pay.

A news item sent out by the Agricultural college from Corvallis is of importance, for it brings up the old question about state farms. Should a rich piece of land, even though it is used for demonstration purposes in part, pay its way and make for the state a reasonable dividend?

The Portland Press club has an industrial annual issued under date of October, 1919, which contains some full-page ads, and a lot of booster matter designed to educate the public to the needs of what was once termed "big business."

Some of those who were the best advocates of the establishment of capital punishment are now weeping because the rope cannot be used on the young man who killed his best friend in Portland.

It would be suicide for any railroad official to advocate the abolition of the accommodation between Baker and Umatilla. That is one train which will stick regardless of the eastern small trains, for it is the people's train.

We may not be thirsty now, but remember next summer is coming with its usual city water problem.

At any rate no water pipes burst last night, so it could not have been as cold as you really thought it was.

C. E. COCHRAN HONORED

Former La Grande Resident Elected President of Irvington Club.

Election of officers of the Irvington club, which was held last Tuesday night, resulted in the election to the presidency of Charles E. Cochran, local Union Pacific railroad official.

Mr. Cochran succeeds W. J. Hoffmann, who has held office as president of the club for three consecutive years. Vice-president, J. L. Bowman, Secretary R. I. Eddy, and Treasurer R. G. E. Corish were all re-elected.

No meeting of officers and directors has yet been held. The new officers of the club will be inaugurated on November 1, and a programme of activities for the coming year will be discussed.

Farm and Country.

Secretary Daniels said at a dinner: "When the boyman tries to talk naively he makes as many mistakes as the city girl on the farm."

U. OF O. PUPILS IN EAST

Joel Richardson of La Grande is Among Number.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 27.—The Oregon colony in Cambridge and Boston is unusually large this year. The majority of the students from Oregon enrolled in Harvard or Massachusetts Institute of Technology are graduates of the University of Oregon.

The following are in the school of business administration: Anthony Jauregui and Hugh B. McGuire of Portland and Joel Richardson of La Grande, Nellis Hamilton of Roseburg and Cleveland Stimpkins of Seaside are in the college. Mr. Stimpkins being an instructor in biology.

Nicholas Jauregui of Portland and Lamar Toomey of Salem are the only Oregonians in the law school. Walter Church of Eugene and Kenneth Moore of Portland are following a course at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Trees as Aerials for Wireless.

It is difficult indeed to find something really new in radio communication. Things which are hailed as new in the daily press are more often apt to prove merely developments or improvements along well-known lines.

Have Wrong Idea.

People are often more concerned about creating a favorable impression than about the kind of person they wish to be considered. It is like demanding a beautiful photograph without regard to the features of the original.

The Meanest Man.

The meanest man in the world, regardless of previous conclusions, is the man of our acquaintance—you know him, too—who took out a card in the American Society of Astronomy and now doesn't have to give excuses when he gets in at 4 a. m.—Tampa Tribune.

Keeping the Color.

A clever woman recently invested a dime in a package of brown dye. This she dissolved in a small amount of boiling water and then bottled it for future use. Now whenever she washes the children's tan stockings or the boys' khaki suits she adds a few drops of the dye to the rinse water and to the starch. This keeps the tan garments a good even shade.

Priests Fought as Pollus.

Yesterday on the Rue St. Honoré I met two priests, one wearing an empty sleeve, one wearing a mechanical leg and both wearing the Croix de Guerre. "Were you in the war as chaplains?" I asked.

Garden of Eden in Mexico?

A prehistoric race that lived in Mexico centuries before Cortez ever arrived there to crush the power of the Aztec kingdom, was a civilized people who were flooded out of existence by a deluge that swept the valley of Mexico, as relics picked up near the capital city prove, and some writers assert that Mexico was the site of the beginning of man and that it was in this valley that Noah set forth for his 40-day tour of the flooded world.

AS HE SAID, "SOME BUG!"

Indepndent San Telle How Small Creature Led to Discovery of Micea Disease Bug

"A funny thing happened to me the other morning," volunteered an East Side man after he got firmly established on the rear of an incoming East Washington street car and had successfully filled and lit his pipe and had it going good.

"What's that, Bill, did you forget and go to church?" asked another passenger, who seemed to know the victim of the funny incident.

"A bug caused it," continued Bill, ignoring the insinuation; "funniest looking bug I ever saw."

"I was lying on the bed reading some poetry, The Death of the Flowers, you know how it goes. The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year; of wailing winds and naked woods and meadows brown and grey. The robin and the wren are down, and from the shrub the jay and from the woodpecker—"

"That's the funny part of it," replied Bill. "Course I never thought of the bug again until about an hour after that when I saw Mr. Bug clear on the other side of the room beating it to get under a dresser. I got him that time, and he sure was some bug."—Indianapolis News.

Lost and Found.

A customer with a camera came in to tell his troubles to Joe Craven, a photographer in South Illinois street. "Last Sunday I found this camera on a bench at Riverside," he said.

"There were two films that had not been used so I exposed them and would like to have the roll printed. If you know of bear of anybody who lost a camera, why just give it to them."

So when Craven printed the pictures he took one of them and put it in his window with a small sign on it. "This Girl Lost Her Camera; If You Know Her Please Tell Her That Her Camera Is Here and She May Have It and the Pictures Gratis!"

Three days later she came in for the camera and the finder of the camera came back for his set of pictures. The sad part of it all is the fellow came just about ten minutes too late to meet the girl. So girls, if you see a fellow look at you and then take a picture out of his pocket and look at it don't get excited. He merely wishes to meet the good looking girl who lost the camera.—Indianapolis News.

The Friendly Water Trip.

It's a queer world. Sunday we spent in a friend's boat, making the trip to Wallaceburg, Ont. Along that stretch of blue water we passed every sort of people in every sort of boat, and in every instance we waved a hand in greeting to them and they waved to us. It was no trick at all to get a warm and genial sign of friendship from passersby. The people on land saluted us. It seemed as though we were continually being welcomed as we arrived in sight and wished good luck as we departed.

Yet on land we could have passed by the same people time after time and not one of them would have turned to look or wave a hand. Why can't people be as friendly to land travelers as they are to those who travel by water? It's a queer world.—Cleveland Leader.

Hart Schaffner & Marx. Clothes For Business Men. You're pretty sure you're going to pay a good price for clothes this Fall; you're not so certain the clothes will be as good as the price. Bates-Street Shirts. "For Well-Dressed Men" Painstakingly tailored from the best of skirtings in more appealingly distinctive designs. Generously bodied and shape-conforming in fit. There's a BATES-STREET in Silks, Madras and various other fabrics in your size. Ask to See Them.

It's a Mistake. To think that you must buy shoes at a certain price. The price you pay may seem economy to you, but in reality it may be false economy. Avoid shoes of doubtful quality; pay the price that will give you shoes of known value and you'll get double the amount of service with better fit, correct in style, and the satisfaction of knowing that your shoe money is a profitable investment and not an expense. When you buy the next pair, try Florsheims—they cost a little more than ordinary shoes—they're well worth the difference.
