druggist, had had his business. The Butte man knew the building well enough to go over it in the dark, and believed it would at least afford shelter. He made his way in by a rear window, and with a pocket of flash light, found several old chairs, covered with the dust of years, and prepared to make a night of it. Just then a packing case in a corner caught his eye.
That was a month, or more, ago.
He has just come to his senses in a Montana institution.
The packing case contained some spring tonic, overlooked by the druggist when he abandoned the place. The Butte man, who was "dry," drank some of the tonic, and he knew no more.

THINK TO WRESTLE TERRIBLE SWEDE

MISSOULA, Mont., Oct. 28.—
Ted Thye of La Grande and John Gehhardt of Livingston, Mont., better known as Charlie Odon, "the terrible Swede," will meet in a wrestling match in this city tomorrow night to decide the middleweight championship of the world. Thye is the present champion by virtue of his recent defeat of Walter Miller, who had held the title until they met.

BANDIT DEAD

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—Jenaro Amegua, one of the several men who claimed to be the successor of the bandit Zapata who was recently killed in the state of Morelos, is dead, according to reports reaching the capital. It is said Amegua was in the village of Santa Maria, state of Morelos, conferring with some of his followers concerning "a new campaign" when discussion arose and in the gun-play that followed Amegua was killed.

English Lenses Superior.

When aero-photography commenced to play its great part in the war, it was found that the German-made lenses would do the work of picturing from above far better than British-made lenses. But the English opticians set to work, and in a short time they produced lenses that beat the German product fair and square. Captured aero-photographic apparatus during the latter part of the war showed that the lenses were inferior in quality to those made in Britain. No German-made lens has yet been found that would picture a barbed wire entanglement from a height of three miles, but the British product would, and very often did.

Callus? "Gets-It" Will Peel It Off!

Nothing on Earth Like Simple "Gets-It" for Corns or Calluses.

A callus, or thickened skin on the sole of the foot, which often makes walking a misery is of the same nature as a corn. "Gets-It"

Use "Gets-It" and Dance. Even with Corns removes it as easily as it does the toughest corns. By fasten a few drops of "Gets-It" on the callus, you will be able to peel it off with your fingers, in one curling piece just as you would a banana peel. It leaves the skin free and smooth as though you never had a callus. You need no more fussy plasters, sticky tape, "padding" bandages, knives or scalpels for corns or calluses. "Gets-It" is the national corn remover, the biggest on earth, used by millions. It never fails. You'll work, play and dance at ease in soles of corns.
"Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. MFD by

United States of Russia Is Favorite Toast

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
EKATORINODAR, Russia, Sept.
1.—By Courier to Paris.—Sept.
18.—The presidents of the three Cossack states of Terek, Kuban and the Don made a dinner to Americans who recently brought into the Caucasus three trailloads of 103 freight cars in aid of American goods consigned to the Red Cross. Each of the three presidents referred to Russia's ambition to become a federation of states preferred after the American union.

"The United States of Russia," was a favorite toast.
The supplies are for the hospital and asylums to the three Cossack states and for the Volunteer Army.
The territory of the Cossacks, particularly the remote regions among the mountains, have been shut-out from the world market for the past three years by the Turks on one side and the Bolsheviks on the other.

UNITED STATES COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE.

Washington

A STATEMENT CONCERNING THE HIGH COST OF LIVING.

To the Public:

The United States Council of National Defense, composed of the Secretaries of War, Navy, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce and Labor, has made a careful investigation of the high-cost-of-living problem, and finds:

That the Nation's productive powers have not been fully utilized since the armistice.

That too few goods, notably the necessities of life, have been produced, and that even some of these goods have been withheld from the market, and therefore from the people.

That the high cost of living is due in part to unavoidable war waste and increase of money and credit.

That there has been considerable profiteering, intentional and unintentional. The Council believes that the remedies for the situation are:

To produce more goods, and to produce them in proportion to the needs of the people.

To stamp out profiteering and stop unnecessary hoarding.

To enforce vigorously present laws and promptly enact such further new laws as are necessary to prevent and punish profiteering and needless hoarding.

To bring about better co-operation and method in distributing and marketing goods.

To keep both producer and consumer fully informed as to what goods are needed and as to what supplies are available, so that production may anticipate the country's demands

Goods and not money are the means of life. Better standards of living are impossible without producing more goods. Man can not consume what has not been produced.

At the war's end our Allies had desperate need of the essentials of life. We have had to share our resources with them, but this drain will gradually lessen. In so far as our shortage of goods is due to this cause we can well afford to be patient.

It is just as essential that we have patience with the economic situation here at home. The process of production requires time. If production is rapidly increased, vastly improved conditions will prevail in America when the results of present and future labor begin to appear.

Team work is imperative. It is just as essential between retailer, wholesaler and producer as it is between employer and employe. One group of producers can not wait on another group. The manufacturer, the farmer, the distributor must each in turn assume his part of the burden and enter upon his task. The Nation can not afford curtailment of goods vital to the people.

On American business rests a grave responsibility for efficient co-operation in bringing about full and proportionate production. On American labor rests an equally grave responsibility to attain maximum unit production and maintain uninterrupted distribution of goods if labor itself is not to suffer from further rises in the cost of living.

The entire Nation—producer, distributor, and consumer alike—should return to the unity that won the war. Group interest and undue personal gain must give way to the good of the whole community if the situation is to be squarely met.

Our common duty now, fully as much as in the war, is to work and to save. In the words of the President in his address to the country on August 25, 1919, only "by increasing production, and by rigid economy and saving on the part of the people, can we hope for large decreases in the burdensome cost of living which now weighs us down."
Work, save, co-operate produce.

FEDERATION OF FARM ORGANIZATION

SPOKANE, Oct. 28.—Farmers representing the several county and state organizations of Washington will meet here November 24 and 25 in the first called session of the State Federation of Farm Organization. It is announced by Secretary A. D. Cross.

Primary among the considerations will be affiliation with the national board of farm organizations, the body which is backing the construction of a temple of agriculture at Washington, D. C.

The state federation was proposed at a meeting in Spokane early this year, and was organized at a delegated meeting in Yakima, August 4, last, when the Idaho state federation also was formed.

Imperfect Vision In A School Child

often entails more than mere eyestrain. It must be remembered that trouble from imperfect seeing school work, comes not only from seeing words and figures wrongly but also from fatigue of the brain caused by eyestrain. Twenty-five per cent of children have defective vision. Frequently a bashful child fails to tell the teacher he cannot see the blackboard easily and so is unable to do his work - is accused of neglect and falls behind in classes - all because of lack of proper eye care. If your child has defective vision have it corrected by an Optometrist. Our equipment is the most modern in the optical Science.
