The Sowing.
Every harvest looks back to a sowing, every fruit to a seed. Each golden-wheated October pre-supposes a grain-sowing May: logic, commonplace and inevitable, in conditions material. But humanity is not so inclined to recognize the fact, or to appreciate the meaning of the fact in conditions intellectual, moral, human.—Charles F. Thwing.

Willing to Help the Needy.
A famous woman teacher, eighty years old, was sitting on the veranda of a college dormitory in her wheel chair. A student had just brought her some ice water in her silver mug and the teacher had finished drinking it when some tourists came up, saw her sitting there holding out her cup, and they dropped a half dollar in it. Long live their feelings when they discover who the "beggar" was!

Stork Welcomed in Holland.
A stork is treated with great respect in Holland. The house selected by the stork for a resting place is considered fortunate, and special facilities are provided by the householders to enable it to build a nest comfortably. At The Hague many of these birds are maintained at public expense.

BOSTON BANKER DIES AT AGE OF 84

MAJOR HENRY L. HIGGINSON
FOUNDED ORCHESTRA

Provided First Class Music For People of Small Means—Was in Civil War.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Major Henry L. Higginson, banker and founder of the Boston Symphony Orchestra died last night, at the age of 84.

Henry Lee Higginson established the Boston Symphony Orchestra in 1881. In the years that followed he obtained the services of expert players from the musical capitals of Europe, and engaged conductors of the first rank who gradually developed the organization until it became one of the foremost orchestras of the world. Only in one or two years did the concerts yield a net revenue; in every other year until his death Mr. Higginson made up the deficit from his own pocket. One of his announced purposes in founding the orchestra was to provide first class music for people of small means and from the start he arranged that several hundred seats at the Friday afternoon rehearsals should be sold at twenty-five cents each. These "rehearsals" in later years came to be concerts in full form.

The Symphony Orchestra Mr. Higginson considered his hobby rather than a philanthropy. He once said that it was to him what a yacht, a racing stable, a library or an art collection were to other men of wealth.

Mr. Higginson was born in New York City, Nov. 18, 1834, but spent most of his life in Boston. He studied at Harvard, but left before completing his course to enter a countinghouse. In 1856 he went to Vienna where he studied music for a year. He served for three years in the Civil War; was several times wounded and was discharged for disability in 1864. He then entered the banking business and for many years headed the firm of Lee, Higginson & Co.

In 1880 Major Higginson presented to Harvard, as a memorial to Harvard men who were killed in the war, "Soldier's Field," the athletic grounds on a part of which the Harvard Stadium now stands. Nine years later he made a gift of $100,000 to the University for the erecting of the Harvard Union. Since 1893 he had been a member of the Harvard Corporation and became well known to the student through his frequent addresses to them. He was awarded the degree of Master of Arts by Harvard and that of Doctor of Laws by Yale.

RADICAL LEADERS HELD UNDER HEAVY BONDS

The city courts took a hand in the war on radicals yesterday. Benjamin Gitlow, of Brooklyn, former Bronx assemblyman and "communist" organizer, and James Larkin, leader of the Irish dock strikers a few years ago, were held under heavy bonds for a hearing tomorrow on the charges of criminal anarchy. Both were arrested in Saturday night's raid on the headquarters of the reds' council. They pleaded with the chief city magistrate, McAbbot yesterday to reduce the bonds of $15,000, but he declared them too dangerous citizens to be shown any consideration. Gitlow (in front) and Larkin were photographed listening to the decision.

In the county court of Union county, Oregon.

In the matter of the estate of Annetta B. Cole, Mildred P. Cole, and Isaac H. Cole, minors.

Now at this time this cause came on for hearing upon the verified petition of Charles H. Cole guardian of Annetta B. Cole, Mildred P. Cole, and Isaac H. Cole, minors, for the sale of real estate belonging to the estate of said minors and appearing to the court from said petition, that said minors are the owners in fee of the heretofore described real estate and that it is at this time not producing any income and can not be used to produce an income to more than pay the taxes thereon and is situated that it will not likely raise or increase in value and that it is for the best interest of the said minors and their estate that the same be sold and the proceeds of sale be invested or placed at interest with other funds of their estate and it further appearing to the court that the mother of said minors is dead and that the petitioner is their father and head of his family it is therefore ordered that said minors and all others interested in said property, if any there be, and the next of kin of said minors appear in this court on the 15th day of November, 1919, at 10 o'clock p. m. at the county court room in La Grande, Oregon, to show cause, if any they have, why an order shall not be made authorizing the said guardian to sell all the undivided two thirds interest of said minors in and to the following described premises to wit: Lots 7-8-9-10-11-12-13-14-15-16-17-18 in Block 17, town of Imbler, Union county, Oregon.

Jazzerting the Buzzer.
A newly designed triple tone electric bell yields a clear ring from one push button, a buzz from the second and a combined ring and buzz from the third. The buttons may be placed on three different doors of a home, or in office or shop the signals may be used for calling three different persons.—Popular Science Monthly.

Home of Mocha Coffee.
All the genuine Mocha coffee and the skins known to the trade as melba come from the Yemen plateau in Arabia. From Sana, the center and capital of this rich and fertile district, to Aden on the coast is about 200 miles, and to Hedelwa about 150 miles. Everything is transported on the backs of camels, though a railroad thirty miles long, running from Aden to Lahay, has been opened.
