WEDNESDAY AT THE PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL

may be trying to find out what kind of tonic makes horses step so high. Chas. Day, of Davis Bros of North Powder, breeder of Short Horn cattle and Percheron horses was there picking out the good ones. Ernest De Long of La Grande was trying to find some "Buckskin" horse better than those at home but main thing that he evidently has some good ones at the ranch. Ed Vick of Elsie is a Short Horn breeder and the logical place to look for him would be in the Short Horn division. This is where I found him though I was not looking for him. We all know, don't think, but know positively that A. W. Nelson isn't supposed to know anything about horses or cattle, or sheep, or hogs, or most any other kind of livestock and I didn't find him in any of these departments (there is a children department) but I found him inspecting the Jacks and Jennies, our long eared friends you know. We left him there inspecting their beauties and listening to their soft melodious voices. Elmer Conrad has been working faithfully with the Hunter Percherons but I find that he too has fallen into the habit of visiting our local cafeteria. I found him there this morning making a great record. "Bill" Led better and "Ed" Reynolds are also plug as high as snout of the back news we see at the night show, you know their horses did some winning. Floyd McKennon is a versatile young man, last night he looked like the "bad man" from the wilds, today he is all dressed up and carrying a cane like "Uncle J. D." I'll have to keep an eye on Floyd. Tom Johnson is there when it comes to Union County livestock, today as our horses were winning Tom armed with a megaphone, announced in no uncertain tones the placing owners, and address. In fact, he displayed so much ability along this line that before we were aware of the fact he was official announcer in the arena and people wanting announcements made were looking for "that fellow with the megaphone." Chas. Playe was found renewing old acquaintances with Walla Walla friends.

Taken to Hospital—Mrs. I. E. Stiles was taken to the Grande Ronde hospital this morning where she will probably undergo an operation.

Lectures to Continue—The series of special addresses on the rise and fall of the Bible in their relationship to the Bible which R. H. Colner of the Christian church is giving, will be given as usual this coming Sunday evening.

Ill at Home—Mrs. Eugene Millelino who had her tonsils removed, is confined to her home for a few days.

Agreed, Better Apart—Ansel and Fred were chummy, but got into a dispute before playing together long. Finally they remained away from each other for several days and Ansel's father asked him what the matter was that they didn't play together any more. "Why," replied Ansel, "we've agreed to stay away from each other, 'cause we get along together better when we are apart."

Bank Has a Liquor License—The Bank of England has the right to sell beer without a license. This privilege was granted to the bank in its charter of incorporation under the great seal, dated July 27, 1694. And so the bank, if it liked, could open a public house in Threemile street, or could send drays round and deliver beer from door to door.—Tit-Bits.

Famous English Lotteries—It brought a shock to many Londoners when somebody informed them that Westminster bridge was built from the proceeds of a lottery. Then somebody dug up the fact that away back in 1736 parliament incorporated a lottery through which the beginnings were made toward establishing the British museum.

No Rent to Pay—There is a city on the coast of southern California which is stately built on stilts and where no rent is paid.
