Let the American Legion Do It.

Now what are they going to do?

Yesterday the senate voted on the peace treaty three times and the result is the same, technically, as it was over a year ago when the war ended at the gates of Sedan. Peace is no nearer at hand now than it was then, as far as the United States is concerned.

There is talk of a special session of congress to take up the treaty again. Six months have already been spent in wrangling over the peace pact and the various committee reservations. Here seems to be the bone of contention between the administration and the Republicans, yet the senate voted on it both ways and it failed every time. President Wilson claims that the reservations would provide, not for the ratification, "but rather for the nullification of the treaty." Senator Lodge, champion of the committee program, says that the reservations "Americanize it, and make it safe for the United States." Which one is right? Probably congress will go into special session and, after six months of debating and passing resolutions, finally decide one way or the other.

The present deadlock leaves the United States, technically speaking, still on a war basis. This means that all the war-time legislation will remain in force, unless revoked by law.

Not only that, but it will have an important bearing on commercial questions, relating to foreign trade. The failure of the senate to ratify the treaty will have an indirect result on important steps now being taken to restore the world to a peace basis. It will probably hasten negotiations to restore diplomatic and commercial relations between German powers which have already ratified the treaty. The other powers that have accepted the Versailles pact are now working on a peace footing, and by the time that the United States gets down to this basis the other countries will have a big start on this country. We are in danger of losing all that we have gained.

Let the administration and Republican forces forget their political differences and get busy. If they are unable to do that, why not turn the treaty over to the American Legion? It will then be in the hands of men who are not afraid to act.

POPULAR STORY OUT IN PICTURE DRAMA.

"In Search of Arcady," the latest production starring the mirthful Billie Rhodes, is a screen adaptation of the story of the same name by the popular writer of fiction, Nina Wilcox Putnam. Miss Putnam has written many successful novels and is a regular contributor to The Saturday Evening Post.

"In Seach of Arcady" is regarded as the most entertaining of her books and has had a record-breaking sale. The popularity of the story augurs well for the reception accorded the picture, while those who enjoyed the fascinating story will not be disappointed when they see it on the screen.

In dramatizing it for the screen John B. Clymer has succeeded in retaining the humorous and dramatic situations and at the same time giving a pictorial setting which enhances the delightful comedy by its sheer beauty and Arcadian atmosphere.

As Barbara Chichester, the pretty madcap daughter of an American millionaire, who detests any man with a title attached to his moniker—goes a-Gypsying and unwittingly falls in love with a real English earl who is "traveling" as a peddler Miss Rhodes has a charming role which suits her admirably. The production is the best the vivacious little star has made since "Hoop-La." It was produced by National Film Corporation and released by Exhibitors Mutual.

Old-fashioned Simple Home Remedy Much Used by Doctors and Nurses for Inflammation, Congestion, Aches, Pains and Swellings

Mustard, real yellow mustard, the kind you use at home, is being used more than ever to banish distress and misery and free mankind from agony and suffering.

Not very long ago people used to make yellow mustard into a paste, spread it on a cloth and apply it to that part of the body where pain or inflammation was present.

It surely did do the work it was expected to do, but it was messy and bothersome and often blistered the skin.

People still use yellow mustard when they get a cold in the chest or have pleurisy, lumbago or rheumatic pains and swellings.

But nowadays they buy this yellow mustard in condensed form all ready for use for something like 35 cents a box and find it much better, cheaper and cleaner than mustard plasters.

This yellow mustard preparation, which is known to millions as Begy's Mustarine is sold at drug stores all over America and one box will do the work of 50 mustard plasters and it cannot blister the tenderest skin.

Begy's Mustarine is the original mustard preparation used to take the place of blistering mustard plasters and is known among druggists as the quickest painkiller on earth.

It will pay you to keep a box of Begy's Mustarine in the house, for it is good for so many ailments that you will need it often.

Just rub it on, that's all you have to do and headache, backache, earache and toothache will disappear almost instantly.

Don't fail to use it for neuritis, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, gout and rheumatic pains and swellings.

You will quickly find that there is nothing so good for sprains and strains, sore muscles, stiff neck and cramps in leg.

Heat eases pain and Begy's Mustarine, made of real yellow mustard with other helpful ingredients added contains more concentrated, non-blistering heat than can be found in anything the same size.

Just try a 35-cent box—you'll praise it to the skies as millions are doing every day. Always in the yellow box.—Adv.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.

A GRIPPING PHOTOPLAY.

Cecil B. DeMille's latest production, "For Better, For Worse," an Artcraft special feature which is being shown at the Arcade Theatre today and tomorrow, discusses the most vital modern problems now engaging public attention. Of course, it would be impossible to deal with all the problems in a single picture, so Mr. DeMille has taken one of the most important angles of the subject—the status of the man who stayed at home instead of going to France. The story was written by Edgar Selwyn, and it is scenarized by Jeanie Macpherson, and it is an extremely powerful and gripping picture drama.

In the cast are Gloria Swanson, Theodore Roberts, Elliott Dexter, Tom Forman, Wanda Hawley, Raymond Hatton, Jack Holt, Sylvia Ashton and others.

FULL OF ROMANCE.

Now comes Mary Miles Minter in "The Amazing Imposter," a story bristling with romance, adventure and all that goes to make for an enjoyable hour's entertainment on the screen of the Sherry theatre Saturday only. The mere mention of the fact that the "Flying A" star will be shown in a new comedy drama, is sufficient notification to "movie" followers to prepare to be present.

"The Amazing Imposter" was especially written for Miss Minter by Joseph Poland, a well known author, who has just recently joined the scenario staff of the American Film Company at Santa Barbara, California. This feature is produced under the direction of Lloyd Ingraham. It is a comedy-drama written around the adventures of a young girl whose humdrum existence causes her to crave for excitement and romance. After exchanging identities with a chance acquaintance Miss Minter as Joan Hope, daughter of a chewing gum magnate, proceeds through a series of complications which result in romance and love.

Also Chaplin cartoon.
