HARRY CAREY AT STAR SATURDAY AND SUNDAY.

The average featured western photoplayer sits under the shade of a giant cactus while his "double" does all the dangerous work for the scene.

The exception to the rule is Harry Carey, the Universal western star, whose daring work in Universal photodramas has won for him the world-wide title "The Ace of the Saddle."

In "The Rider of the Law," which comes on Saturday and Sunday to the Star theatre, Harry Carey did a bit of riding that almost loosened every tooth in his head.

He rode "Dynamite," a notoriously bad horse who cared not a whit for the motion picture camera and concentrated his entire mind on dislodging the rider. Yet with his superb horsemanship Carey stayed on top and eventually tamed the wild animal down to about three-kitten-power.

"The Rider of the Law" is the story of an officer of the famous old Texas police organization. He is torn between duty and family affection but takes the right course for all concerned.

A well-liked supporting casts adds to the photodrma. The cast comprises Vester Pegg, Ted Brooks, Joe Harris, Jack Woods, Duke R. Lee, Gloria Hope, Claire Anderson and Jennie Lee.

A two reel comedy featuring the comedian Billy West will also be shown.

"THE MONEY CORRAL;" AN OLD TIME RODEO; "BILL" HART IS HERO

Years ago the rodeo was the biggest thing in the West. It was the occasion when all the wild riders, broncho busters and sure shots of the West assembled to display their prowess. Such a scene is revived in "The Money Corral," a new Artcraft picture tarring William S Hart which will be shown at the Arcade today and tomorrow. It was written by Mr. Hart and Lambert Hillyer and they also collaborated in its direction. Jane Novak is the leading woman, heading an excellent supporting cast.

The rodeo scene of this picture was expensive and took lots of time, but it justified the effort for it gives a touch of realism that could not otherwise have been secured. Many punchers, Indians, Mexicans, cowgirls and others came to Hollywood to make the rodeo scenes and over a thousand persons appeared therein.

"The Money Corral" is said to be the most exciting film that has been produced in months.

Charles Murray, the famous Mack Sennett comedian will be featured in his newest comedy, "The Dentist" on the same program.

FLOWER EITQUETTE CUSTOM IN JAPAN

"The language of flowers is one of the most fascinating, and, too the most intricate studies that every Japanese debutante must learn," said Tsuru Aoki, the dainty and charming wife of Sessue Hayawaka, with whom she is appearing in "A Heart in Pawn," the latest Hayakawa-Haworth production, released Exhibitors Mutual.

"The kind of flowers, and the way they are arranged, have special meanings. When a reception is given, the guests can tell, by looking at the floral decorations, the rank of the guest of honor—whether he is an American, French or Englishman, what office he holds in the army, navy or diplimatic corps, and how long he expects to remain in the country.

"Tea drinking is another ceremony which is performed with a set ritual. Each guest, according to his position at the tea party, is expected to make a certain reference to the quality of the tea, the artistic worth of the ancestral porcelain in which the tea is served, etc., while upon the hostess devolves the task of making responses, always poetic and "flowery" in character.

"The thousand and one little ceremonies which mean so much to my people make the debut of a Japanese girl an awful nerve-racking trial."

"DEUCE DUNCAN" AT THE SHERRY THEATRE

Bill Desmond, the handsome and versatile Triangle star, will again be seen in a Western role at the Sherry theatre Saturday only, when he appears in "Deuce Duncan," a thrilling Western Triangle feature.

This picture was directed by Thomas E. Heffron, whose brilliant and realistic productions "Madame Sphinx," "The Painted Lily" and "Toby America," are still fresh in the minds of picture lovers.

As Deuce Duncan, Desmond finds himself robbed of his horse and other possessions by the convict brother of the girl whom he later learns to love. A fire spirit, he is accustomed to obey first and argue afterwards, but he suddenly finds himself facing a force greater than six-shooters as he gazes into the eyes of the little woman who [illegible] at the "Half Acre of Hell" saloon.

Extempore Addresses.

"I count myself fortunate," said a minister, "in numbering among my parishoners several who invariably tell me the truth about myself. Of a certain worthy but uneducated woman of my flock I asked whether she preferred my written or my unwritten sermons. She reflected for a moment and then replied, 'I like you best without the book, because you keep saying the same thing over and over, and that helps me to remember!'"

SHIPPING BOARD TO SELL STEEL

The present shortage of steel, due to the steel strike and other causes, will be relieved to a considerable extent by the immediate placing on the market of the great stock of steel gathered during the war for shipbuilding purposes by the United States government, through the U. S. Shipping Board, Emergency Fleet Corporation.

It was announced yesterday from the offices of the Emergency Fleet Corporation in Philadelphia that the first sales of its steel were under way and that the full supply will be put on sale in various parts of the country as rapidly as the arrangements can be made.

It is estimated that the Shipping Board has on hand about 200,000 tons of steel, fabricated and unfabricated, due to the cancellation of the ship construction program, on which an approximate valuation of $80,000,000 is placed.

This steel will be available in all sorts of forms. It can be bought in bars, plates and sheets; or as in some cases designed and completely fabricated, a warehouse, a smith shop, a plate and angle shop, or an iron foundry.

Uncle Sam's salesman in this tremendous sale of steel and surplus materials is the Supply and Sales Division of the U. S. Shipping Board, Emergency Fleet Corporation, and if you want anything from a wire nail to a hotel, write them for information at 140 North Broad street, Philadelphia.

Mamma Lacked Experience.

Late one afternoon Hazel had her beau call on her just as she and Ruth, her little sister, were going to do the dishes. When they were about half way through Ruth said: "Hazel, if you'll do the rest of the dishes and give me two cents I'll entertain Elmer till you get through." Hazel then replied: "Mamma's entertaining him for nothing, ain't she all right?" "No," Ruth said, "Mamma never had a fellow, so she doesn't know how to entertain 'em."
