CHINA IS NOT MILITARISTIC

POWER OF GOVERNORS MUST BE CURTAILED.

ASSERTS POWER OF GOVERNORS MUST BE CURTAILED.

Low Living Standard Which Makes Railroad a Luxury is China's Greatest Enemy.

PEKING, Nov. 30 (By Correspondence)—Charges which have been circulated in some foreign countries that China has become a militaristic nation are denied by Dr. T'sao, Counsellor of the Foreign Office, in a statement he has just issued.

"What China today is suffering from is not militarism properly so-called but an over-weight of provincial military organization in relation to the general administration," said the Counsellor.

"China, according to independent investigation made by several departments during the last few months, has almost precisely the same population as Europe—449,999,000—at least seven times the population of Germany. If to it the field force permitted to Germany by the Versailles treaty are added the men in the safety police and civic guard, and that total is multiplied by seven, it will be found that the ratio in China is inferior to the ratio in an admittedly disarmed Germany. In field troops and provincial patrols, China has 1,500,000.

"That their present organization and their dependence on military governors must be changed is granted. But until a decision can be properly registered regarding the separation of civil and military power and until the degree of provincial autonomy compatible with the sovereignty of the republic has been settled by parliament and the government, it would be inviting disturbances to attempt change.

"The greatest enemy today is not militarism or provincial military but the low standard of living among the mass of the population and the luxury which modern essentials such as railways and postal represent because of their immense first cost in comparative terms. The narrow margin between existence and starvation is so easily wiped out in China's dense population that when to this problem is added the problem of taxation the work of the government presents incredible difficulties. In western countries well-articulated credit systems serve to disguise post-war problems perhaps greater than China's but in this country they present themselves to all nakedness which renders evasion or postponement impossible.

"China needs a foreign help but it must be help justly given. She pins her faith to the League of Nations and to a dispassionate, non-partisan settlement of her issues abroad, because too often in the past it has been shown that what is desired of her at home is not negotiation but surrender. International generosity will find a swifter reward here than elsewhere."

Birds and Superstition.
Numerous birds are mixed up with signs of death. Let a plover enter a house, or a robin come through the door, and some people expect calamity. Owls, again, are ominous birds to the superstitious.

OREGON WOMAN REPORTS GAIN

Mrs. A. J. Turner Says It Is Wonderful Way Taniae Built Her Up.

"It is simply wonderful the way Taniae has built me up, for I not only feel fine but have gained fifteen pounds in weight," declared Mrs. A. J. Turner, of 1929 1-2 Russell street, Portland, Oregon.

"Before taking Taniae I had no appetite to speak of and what little I did eat didn't digest properly. I was so nervous the last little unusual noise would startle me, and I was so restless and worried about myself that I couldn't sleep at night. In this weakened and run-down condition I caught a cold very easily, no sooner rid of one than I caught another. I had been suffering in this way for eight months, following an operation and an illness of several years. Not one of the medicines I took did me the least bit of good and I was mightily discouraged.

"But it is a fact I commenced to get better before I finished half of my first bottle of Taniae. My appetite improved and I picked right up in weight and strength. I have just finished my third bottle, and feel fine and, as I said before, I have actually gained fifteen pounds in weight. I am no longer nervous and I sleep like a child every night. Taniae certainly built me up and will always recommend it, and I hope my statement will help others to get the same relief from use of this grand medicine that I did."

Taniae is sold in La Grande by Silverthorn's Drug Store; Clyde Kiddle of Island City and by the leading Druggists in every town.—Adv.

CONSTANCE BINNEY AT THE ARCADE TODAY—TUESDAY.

Little Miss Constance Binney comes back to town today and Tuesday at the Arcade Theatre, this time in society clothes and sumptuous settings and a real blood and thunder thriller, but she is the same demure unaffected and adorable little heroine that she was in Erstwhile Susan, The Stolen Kiss and "39 East". . . . It is the story of a New York heiress and social favorite, whose very popularity bores her. In her search for a new experience, a fresh thrill, "something different," in short, she goes to visit a former school friend in South America. She finds what she went after, an da little more besides, for she is soon in the very exciting middle of a healthy revolution, and, for lending aid to the insurgents, is imprisoned by the authorities. Falling in love with the general, who is her captor, adds zest to the plot and Miss Binney makes a very agreeable little rebel, both in love and war. On the same program will also be shown the last chapter of the serial in which Jack Dempsey has been appearing.

FAIRBANKS' LATEST PICTURE UNDOUBTEDLY HIS BEST—AT SHERRY'S TODAY.

Those who were fortunate enough to witness Douglas Fairbanks in The Mark of Zorro, his fourth production for the United Artists that was exhibited to a capacity house yesterday at the Sherry Theatre, departed with that feeling of satisfaction that they had seen by far the best picture in which the vigorous "Doug" had ever appeared.

Here is a srong romance, containing love, action, and humor predominating for five full reels. We are given a very vivid insight of the times when the grandees ruled sunny California during the last century before its acquisition into the Union. In this picture "Doug" has put more thrills and excitement before our view than he has ever done heretofore. In it we see a replica of the City of Los Angeles as it was a century ago.

NOW FOR A YEAR OF GOOD BUYING

TO THE PEOPLE OF THIS COMMUNITY: This is just a friendly talk, in which we hope to impress upon your minds some very interesting facts.

It is useless for us to speak of the high quality of the groceries we sell. You all know that. But we do want to emphasize the fact that 1921 is going to be a year of mighty good buying at this store. We know that the public is always willing to meet a merchant half way, but most people have an inherent objection to traveling all of the distance themselves.

Right there is where we are going to shine. We are going to meet you half way—sometimes even more than half. That means that when you want the very best of values for your money you have only to come half way. We'll be THERE with the values. It's a case of SAVING MONEY on every purchase for you.
