Mrs. Kennedy Visits Miss Jones—Mrs. R. A. Kennedy left this morning for Hot Lake, where she will spend a short time with Miss Mildred Jones who underwent an operation there some three weeks ago for appendicitis and up to the present date has made very slow progress along the road to recovery.

Mrs. Eliza Scrogins Leaves—Mrs. Eliza Scrogins left this morning for her home in Baker. She has been a guest of Mrs. and Mrs. M. A. Chisland for the past several days.

The Roberts Arrive—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roberts arrived in La Grande last night from Walla Walla. They will spend a few days here as guests of relatives and friends before returning to their home in Walla Walla.

On Way to Lake—Miss Caroline Sharp, of Athena, was a Pendleton visitor yesterday on her way to Hot Lake, where she will spend some time at the sanitarium. Miss Sharp is convalescing after a serious illness caused by influenza.

Ng Poon Chew Leaves—Ng Poon Chew, famous Chinese Mark Twain, left this morning for Baker where he will appear on the Lyceum stage tonight. He laughed this morning and said, "Oh those newspaper reporters are wise, they try to find out in three minutes what it took me over forty years to learn."

Eliza Fisher Here—O. C. Maxwell is a guest at the Sommer Hotel. He is from Elgin and is a prosperous farmer of that district. He says that work is scarce in Elgin but holds hopes that things will begin to pick up in the near future.

W. O. Wilson Goes—W. O. Wilson is in La Grande and has been shaking hands with all his old friends today. This is his first trip to La Grande in some little time that he has had time to shake hands with his old time friends. Wilson says "Elgin" with the expression of a man talking about his own home town.

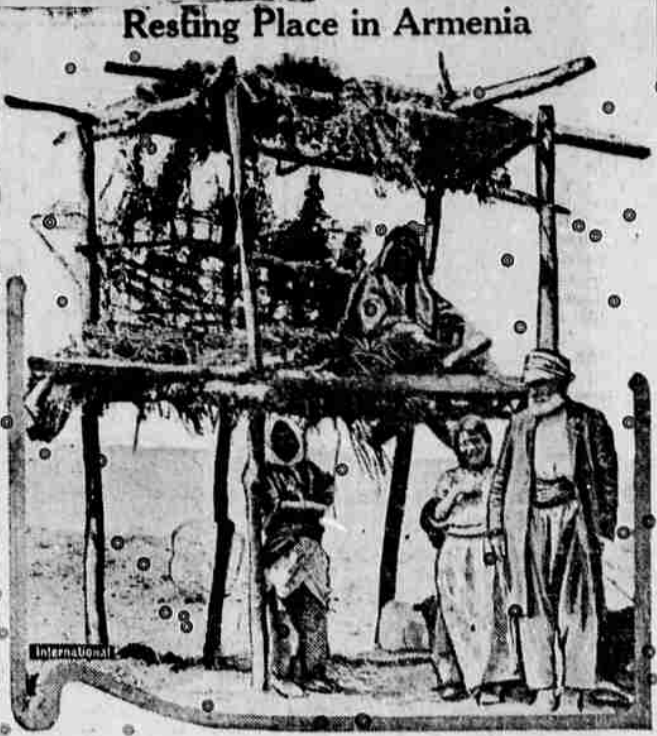

Visits Chicago—J. E. McLaughlin left this morning for Chicago on a combined business and pleasure trip. He will be gone three weeks and expects to have a rousing good time on his trip. Up on leaving he said, "You notice I do not carry baggage. I carry an extra collar in my shoe and dangle my tooth brush over my ear and am ready to knock Chicago and beat the West."

Income Tax blanks are ready—The income tax blanks have been issued to the local banks and other business firms around La Grande. The internal revenue department has issued blanks to the people who paid an income tax last year and in this manner expect to reach everyone. $120 is the form of the regular firm blanks while $100 is used for incomes fluctuating to $25000 and for the lesser incomes $100 is issued. Milton A. Miller of Portland is the internal revenue collector for this district.

Mistake in Date—A mistake was made in yesterday's society column. In speaking of the Chinese Day which is to be held by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church at the home of Mrs. F. P. Mossman, the item read as if the tea were to be held this afternoon, when it is scheduled to take place tomorrow, or Friday afternoon.

New Station Being Occupied—Equipment for the new railroad station and offices at Reith is now being moved in and the new quarters are to be occupied in a day or two. The new station is a half mile east of the main portion of the town and is a modern wooden structure on concrete foundation, replacing the old box-car station which has been sold since Reith was founded.

Trailing is Dangerous—A serious accident narrowly averted last evening at the corner of Spring and 1st streets, when an automobile going north on First street, went to the other end of Spring street. Just as the car started on the 100, a passing car on Spring street also decided to turn the corner, and, hugging the curb rather closely, forced the other car to run on the curb, as the car on Spring had a large number of youngsters trailing behind it, and the driver on First street not been able to turn his car as quickly as he did, some of the joying trailers might have been seriously injured.

Mrs. Massey Shops—Mrs. H. E. Massey is here from Meesa shopping and spending a few days with friends.

Telephone Men Here—A. V. Brown and A. W. Sanford are in La Grande and are helping fix up the lines that blew down yesterday, it is said. They are from Baker and are in the telephone business there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingersam Here—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingersam arrived this morning from Kamela. They will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. John White for a short time.

L. W. Weeks Back—L. W. Weeks is back from Pendleton, where he has been spending a few days writing insurance and visiting with friends.

Senator Returning Home—Word has been received from Senator Colton R. Eberhard that he will arrive home tomorrow from Salem, to spend the week end here attending to some business.

Leaves for C. A. C.—Miss Hazel Mohr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mohr, left last evening for Corvallis, where she expects to enter the Oregon Agricultural College this term. Miss Mohr has been with the Grande Ronde Meat Company for the past three years.

Will Leave Here—Miss E. E. Stegman, formerly connected with the hospital at Mt. St. Helens, Washington, is in the city making arrangements to open an office for the practice of rational therapeutics. She expects to start practice about the first of the month, leaving her office in the West Astorian building.

Charles Deple to Hot Lake—Charles Deple, prominent rancher and financier of the Grande Ronde valley, left this morning for Hot Lake. He was dubious about the length of time that he would stay and said he was rather loathly without his old side-kick, Sam Brooks, but that he will watch out for John Rogers, who left this morning for Hot Lake, where he will take a few more baths and back in the elusive sunshine.

Give No "Fall Wound" Notice—In glancing over the various hotel registers and looking around for a "no room" notice, it was found that it was many moons ago when the last "no room" notice was written. The commercial travelers have decreased in number and people are making only honeymoon or other important business trips. As a general rule, people are staying home as closely as possible, there is, no doubt, due to the high cost of transportation and the calm that has settled over business houses in the surrounding states and countries.

His Time Would Come—Herbert was watching Hazel drop her doll. He wanted her to play with him, and remarked that he didn't like dolls. "Well," replied Hazel, philosophically, "you might just as well learn now, for some day you'll marry and then you'll have to help take care of your children."

SENATOR KING LOSES HIS HOME

KAMELA, Jan. 11.—Kamela was the scene of a small fire about 4:20 o'clock on Tuesday morning, when Senator Martin King's old residence burned down. Everything of value was saved, also the senator. The senator was asleep in the house and was awakened by the heat and smoke. Grabbing several pairs of shirts and a pair of overalls, the senator hastily beat a retreat, and the house soon of him, he was escaping with his pair of overalls, and making a frantic endeavor to get on the third shirt. An investigation has been held by City Marshal Joseph D. Fontaine, and a conclusion has been arrived at that the fire was caused by instantaneous combustion, from leaky pipes and greasy overalls. The loss of the residence is partly covered by insurance.

The building was an old land mark which belonged to Mary E. Sawyer. This building had been a saloon in the good old days passed by, which is occupied by Frank Haxton, who saved his willing workers who were at the scene.

The S. A. Ingerson family arrived home from Brady, Mont., Sunday morning. They reported a fine visit with their daughter, Mrs. Claude Ely, who moved to Brady last fall. Mr. and Mrs. Nordin spent Sunday in Pendleton, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nordin.

J. B. Baker Jr., and wife, of Menchen spent Sunday with relatives here. They recently returned from Naples, Idaho. Mrs. J. D. Fontaine is home again from Portland, where she had been visiting for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Fontaine expect to leave in a short time for a visit with relatives in Virginia. Their house will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Triplett during their absence. Mr. Triplett is in the employ of the Pacific Telephone Co. and will be stationed here to look after their interests the rest of the winter.

Elmer Swanger of Walla, Wash., is here visiting with his mother, who has been on the sick list the greater part of the winter. Mr. Swanger will remain some of the buildings owned by his mother before he returns home.

It is to be assumed that the newly laid drainage in the Florence and Elgin valleys began to show signs of life. The water is beginning to flow with renewed vigor, adorned with painted waterfalls, and the sun and breeze, which have so benefited the dragons, are now made to carry many persons, were also made to melt smooth fire-dricks.

Herbert was watching Hazel drop her doll. He wanted her to play with him, and remarked that he didn't like dolls. "Well," replied Hazel, philosophically, "you might just as well learn now, for some day you'll marry and then you'll have to help take care of your children."
