Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Field were host and hostess to a number of friends at a dance given at their home near Lake Pons, last Saturday night. The evening was spent in dancing and refreshments were served. The home was fittingly decorated with the season's flowers. Those who were guests of the evening were, Mr. and Mrs. J. McCarly, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Giles Harnden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grandy, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Ghessey, Mr. and Mrs. Sherill Ewin, Mr. and Mrs. Altes Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cleavanger, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Crossen, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Drummond, Mrs. John Rofer, and the Misses Elizabeth Tilton, Gladys Drummond and Ruth Drummond. The Messrs. Ray Looker, James O'Neil, E. Mossell, Marion Spencer, George Forster, J. B. Aiken, L. E. Bates, Leonard Crossen, J. H. Rhodes, R. H. Valmore, C. A. Stephenson, Frank Turner, G. H. Forwood, Alva Crowley and Henry Gussell.

The Salem Capital Journal contains a number of interesting articles, items of parties which have been given the past several weeks for Mr. and Mrs. Will T. Neill, who are soon to leave Salem for Portland, where they will make their future home. Mr. Neill is a former La Grande boy, and he and his wife have many friends here.

The members of the Westfield Guild were delightfully entertained on Monday evening by Miss Ova Eckles and Mrs. Mary Nichols, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Housley. Following a short business meeting, Mrs. A. T. Hill, one of the patronesses of the Guild, took charge of the program, and in a most delightful manner, gathered her audience around the table and explained to them the problems of the people in the Near East, especially those of Armenia. It was brought out with much interest by Mrs. Hill, that the peoples of this country had never agreed on anything but that in the demand for the United States to act as a mandatory power over them, they were agreed. This is the most striking coincidence, and the work and attitude of the American missionaries in these countries is said to be partly responsible for this absolute trust in the United States as a just nation, and one which knows the proper time to take her troops out of a country, and allow it the freedom to govern itself.

Following the round table discussion which followed Mrs. Hill's presentation of the program topic, dainty refreshments were served by the joint hostesses.

Miss Florence M. Lynch, of this city, has been selected as a member of the cast of "The Enchantress," the annual spring opera of the University of Washington, which will be given in Seattle about the middle of April. Friends of Miss Lynch are congratulating her upon her good fortune, as she was the only freshman to be chosen as a member of the cast. Miss Lynch is a member of the Phi Mu sorority.

Mrs. William Ash will be hostess to the members of the Lucky Thirteen Club at her home, Thursday, February 25th.

The Rebekah Lodge entertained its members at the hall, Tuesday evening. After the regular lodge session, refreshments were served and an enjoyable social hour was spent in old-fashioned dancing.

Mrs. Samuel Irwin is entertaining the members of the Island City Club next Friday afternoon.

Monday evening, the Young Women's Educational Auxiliary met at the Methodist Church's parlors. A study of China took up the greater part of the evening. Mrs. Roy Farabee was in charge of the pleasing program. Refreshments closed the evening session of the auxiliary.

After the regular meeting Saturday evening of the L. E. of R. of E. F. & E., the ladies entertained the Brotherhood with an informal dance and card party at the K. of P. Hall. Pete Hed group won a box of candy and Mrs. Howard Bates a beautiful house plant for the highest score in the card games. After the dancing games, over seventy-five members and friends sat down to a delicious midnight supper which had been prepared by the committee in charge. A good time was enjoyed by all. There has been some thought of making these informal parties a monthly affair but no definite action has been taken in the matter.

St. Mary's Catholic church in Pendleton was the scene of the wedding Tuesday morning of Miss Julia Coniffe, of Pendleton, and Thomas Loftus, of La Grande, the marriage service being read by Father Van Houwamison in the presence of many friends of the couple. The bride, charmingly attired in delft blue and georgette heavily embroidered, wore a coronet of bride roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Her modish hat was of blue also. Mrs. Frank McNally, matron of honor, wore blue satin and her flowers were pink roses. The groom was attended by Mr. McNally.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served, with seventeen guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Loftus left after the ceremony for Portland, where they will visit with Miss Jennie Gavin and Mr. James Gavin, niece and nephew of the groom. From Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Loftus will go to San Francisco, where they will spend two months before returning to eastern Oregon to make their home. It is hoped by their many friends here, that La Grande will be selected as their future home.

Mr. Loftus is well known here, having formerly owned the business corner that the L. & I. Drug Store is located on. For a number of years, he was a prominent farmer of the Starkey vicinity but is now retired.

La Grande folk who attended the wedding yesterday morning, and returned to their homes here last evening, were, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Corke, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gump. Mrs. Gump is a niece of Mr. Loftus.

Tomorrow evening, the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Mossman will be the scene of a banquet, at which the members of the Bible in Art Class, which is under the direction of Mrs. Mossman, will be guests. Because of the large membership of the class, invitations were given out only to the members of the club, and places will be limited for about fifty guests.

Miss Frances Smith, president of the class, will act as toastmistress for the banquet, and later in the evening, a playlet or skit has been prepared by a committee appointed to look into this matter. A most enjoyable time is anticipated by the members of this enterprising class, and the banquet hour has been set for 6:30 o'clock.

On Monday evening, January 25th, according to the custom of the latter day Raists in remembering their "old folks," about 25 of the friends and relatives of Jonathan Kicks gathered at the home of Mr. Kicks, to celebrate his eightieth birthday. After song and prayer, Mr. Kicks and those present gave a short talk on their earlier experiences, especially Mr. Kicks' account of coming across the plains with one of the earlier pioneer companies to Salt Lake desert. It was very vivid.

That the most interesting talk was given by Mrs. Jerusha Blanchard, the eldest granddaughter of the first patriarch of the L. D. S. Church (who was martyred with the Prophet Joseph Smith at Carthage Jail, Illinois, on June 23rd, 1844). She carried the guests back with her to the early days and, in bringing them down with her to the present, they realized that the people and times of which she spoke were absolute, and that no one could voice a contradiction. One of her most interesting stories was of the three Egyptian mummies owned by her people. In the arms of one of them was found the roll of papyrus afterwards translated by the Prophet Joseph and given to the L. D. S. people under the title "The Pearl of Great Price." How, as they stood against the wall of the room, the little children played "Bible and book" around them. She is full of reminiscences that are very valuable and instructive.

Then came a slight repast, after which all went to their homes feeling better than some one had been properly remembered.

The Ellis hall was the scene of another of those pleasing dances given Monday at their hall. Refreshments were served and the evening is said to be a most successful one. Lindsay's orchestra furnished the music.

Mrs. Etta Foley, Mrs. Adolph Siegfist and Mrs. Herman Siegfist are giving a bridge party to a number of friends on Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week.

Mrs. Walter Mink, of Durkee, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kimmel, for a few days.

Truth Not Always Supreme. "It's impossible," said Jim Tomkins "always to tell the truth. Nobody would go to a dentist who wouldn't promise not to hurt you much."

Ancient Wines Perfumed. Greek and Roman wines were perfumed, generally by steeping the leaves of roses or violets in the liquor until it had acquired the odor of the flowers.

Modern Otago. The biggest seals fell off to 10 Acorns. In 1911 the world's record was broken there by a fall of 200 inches or more than 47 feet of rain.

critics to carry out their plans for scenic development." The scenery of the United States, whether it be in the National Parks or along the highways, belongs to the people of this great nation and should be preserved for their enjoyment and also for the pleasure of future generations.

Public sentiment against the destruction of a tree or a shrub along the highways will do much toward gaining Oregon the most scenic state in the Union and the tourist prospective settler and traveler will unconsciously be drawn here on account of their national inclinations to see the scenery, which may be said to them 5000 after year.

After many dramatic episodes she finally reached the goal of her ambition—the creation of the star role in a new grand opera in New York. Then a tremendous shock causes the loss of her voice. Her newly-found friends and admirers leave her. In her mother's great love she finds real happiness at last.

Wallace Reid "Sick Aged," But There's No Cause to Worry. Handsome Wallace Reid lying in bed, a towel around his head and a pretty nurse and two doctors in attendance. This is the sight that would have met your eye had you visited the Lasky studios recently and you might have wondered if Wallace had paid the price at last for the reckless daring that he displays in those automobile racing pictures of his.

On the contrary, "Sick Aged" at Sherry's last time today, is one of the liveliest Reid pictures ever screened. Wallie isn't ill a moment, not even for film purposes. He's just shamming, according to the story, in order not to incriminate a friend of his in a divorce suit.

Also showing "The Last City," episode No. 12, "The Jungle Fire." LOUISE LOVELY ENDS ENGAGEMENT TONIGHT. "The Little Grey Mouse," one of the finest screen dramas shown upon the local screen this season, with the charming Louise Lovely as a new William Fox star, closes its run at the Arcade Theatre tonight.

On the same program is being shown Johnny Hines in "Torchy Comes Through," another one of the Torchy stories by Sewell Ford.

SCENIC BEAUTY WANTED SAVED THE CARELESS DESTRUCTION OF TREES IS PREVENTED. Trees and Shrubs Along Highways and to be Saved. Assent to Oregon's Scenic Beauty.

MEDFORD, Ore., Jan. 25 — The thoughtless destruction of trees and shrubs along the highways of Oregon has reached the stage where it now becomes necessary for the people to protest, otherwise their greatest asset, the scenic grandeur of Oregon, will be ruined for all time to come.

The Medford Chamber of Commerce is the first commercial organization in the state to make a constructive effort to preserve the scenery of the state in the formation of an association to prevent further destruction of native trees and natural shrubbery along the highways of Jackson county.

A motion of the constitution of the proposed association is quoted as showing the object of the organization: "To arouse public sentiment against the destruction of trees and shrubbery along the public highways; to promote the planting of trees and shrubs along the highways by the owners of ranches; to cooperate with the Supervisor of the Greater Lake National Park and the County Road Supervisors in the preservation of the scenic attractions along the highways and for the establishment and maintenance of public parks and sanitary morning camp grounds; to aid in the preservation of forest trees; to procure and disseminate information to secure appreciation of the public highways and on every day assist the County, State and Federal De-

MILLS ARE PLENTIFUL TOWN WITHOUT FUEL. COTTAGE GROVE, Jan. 25. — With 20 or more sawmills to make slabs of wood and with thousands of cords of slabs burned every year it is to get the refuse out of the way, Cottage Grove was placed in a peculiar position a few days ago of having to go without electric power because of a shortage of fuel.

The power plant is supplied with fuel from the Western Lumber & Shingle Company's mill, which has been shut down since before Christmas.

The officials announced that the case would have to be carried off at midnight and remain off until late in the afternoon. The protest against such action was so strong that arrangements were quickly made to get a few cars of fuel elsewhere.

W HAT is it that comes once to every woman? Love, marriage, the hunger for children? A great moment of decision? The sacrifice of unselfishness? You know when you see Dorothy Phillips in this mighty drama of a woman's ambition—a story in which a girl's love leads her above the law of fleshly temptations and to which she wins a splendid reward.

THEATRES "ONCE TO EVERY WOMAN" TO BE HERE TOMORROW. "Once to Every Woman," the newest Universal-Jewel super-production, comes to the Arcade Theatre tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Dorothy Phillips first appeared as a school girl who, because of her good looks and sweet voice, is the pet of the family. She accepts the sacrifice of her parents and sisters, and when a visitor from New York offers to send her abroad to have her voice trained she leaves home with no regrets.

After many dramatic episodes she finally reached the goal of her ambition—the creation of the star role in a new grand opera in New York. Then a tremendous shock causes the loss of her voice. Her newly-found friends and admirers leave her. In her mother's great love she finds real happiness at last.
