from the illness caused by an attack of appendicitis the early part of the winter.

Visitor from Elgin—Mrs. Anna Brooks, of 2014 Cedar, has as her guest, Mrs. George Smith, of Elgin.

Parkdale Club—The Parkdale Club will be entertained on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. R. A. Wilkerson and Mrs. William Anson at the Wilkerson home in Fruitdale.

Senator in a Hurry—Senator C. R. Eberhard, of La Grande, could hardly wait for the session to adjourn Friday for he was coming to Portland to meet Mrs. Eberhard and the children. The family were guests at the Imperial. They returned to Salem Sunday.—Portland Telegram.

Charges Dismissed—Charges of violating the city ordinance against being on the streets after midnight without being able to give sufficient evidence of being on legitimate business were dismissed against Fletcher Giles, Harry Barton and J. S. Smith, all colored, in police court Saturday afternoon. Smith, who was also charged with carrying concealed weapons, was fined $50 on that charge.

Case Scheduled For This P. M.—The first case to be tried by the circuit court for the February term is that of Mabel Oakman vs. B. F. Bloom, a civil case. The case was scheduled for 1:30 p. m., a jury being in the process of selection at the time of going to press. R. J. Kitchen represents the plaintiff and R. J. Green the defendant.

High School Seniors Win—The high school seniors won from the Purdy Squad Friday evening in a basketball game that was very fast during the first half. The game was played at the Y. M. C. A. During the second half, the members of the Purdy Squad team weakened, and when the whistle blew at the end of the game, the score stood 53 to 15 in favor of the high school lads.

Five Quarantined Sunday—Three smallpox patients and two scarlet fever patients were quarantined Sunday. The following smallpox quarantines were established: F. E. Oxner, 1206 L Ave.; Bill Hammock, corner Monroe and Fir; Mr. Turner, 1911 Cove. The scarlet fever quarantines are at the following places: R. L. Piddock, 1711 Washington, and Frank McClure, 602 C.

Visited Legislature—Engineer and Mrs. G. M. Curtis returned to La Grande this past week from Salem, where they have been spending the past three weeks. Engineer Curtis is especially interested in some of the bills which are before the present session and is doing a little work in the lobby himself. He will return to Salem this evening to resume his duties as a member of the third house.

Tailors Leave for Home—Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Taylor, who had spent the past week in Corvallis on a visit to their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Lafky, and son Bobby, left yesterday morning for Portland enroute to their home in La Grande, eastern Oregon. The Taylors have enjoyed spending the week with Master Bobby Lafky, their first grandchild.—Corvallis Gazette-Times.

Visits Here From Remote Points—Although the weather was very inclement several visitors from remote districts visited at the offices of the county superintendent of schools Saturday afternoon on school business. A. J. Russell, of the Darr district, and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Tweedwell, of the Starkey district, came to La Grande to transact school business, in spite of the heavy snowfall.

Curfew Rings at 8:45—Two taps on the curfew bell at 8:45 each night mean that every child under 16 years of age must immediately go home, unless accompanied by its parents or other adults. Failure to take heed of the warning signal will mean being taken into custody by the police of La Grande, according to announcement by Chief of Police Roy Flexer. The bell has been out of repair lately and for a time has not rung on that account. The law sets 9 o'clock as the time when all children must be at home. The bell is rung 15 minutes early in order to give all a fair warning that the hour of nine is near.

Return From California—Dr. and Mrs. Harry M. Bouvy arrived Saturday from Portland, where they have been visiting for the past several days with Mrs. Bouvy's mother. Mrs. Bouvy has been gone for the past two months, and in that time she and Dr. Bouvy spent two weeks traveling in California, visiting in San Francisco, Fresno, Los Angeles and many other places. Dr. Bouvy returned to his practice, but Mrs. Bouvy continued her visit with old friends, and on the return trip was met in Portland by Dr. Bouvy.

Rev. Clarke 30 Advertiser—Rev. George L. Clark, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who left Friday night for La Grande, to be a speaker at the Christian Endeavor Convention, did a little snowing advertising recently. The person was all ready to perform a marriage ceremony at the manse one day, when it was discovered that another witness was needed. Rev. Clark, seeing a man driving by in a wagon, summoned him in and used him as a witness. Some days later, a couple bringing a license, appeared at the home of the minister, and in the bridegroom, Rev. Clark recognized the witness of the previous ceremony, and he, it seemed, liked Rev. Clark's marriage ceremony so well that he had decided upon one for himself.—Pendleton East Oregonian.

Book Rights are Sold—Paul DeLaney, formerly a reporter on The Oregon Journal and later a member of the editorial staff of the East Oregonian in Pendleton, has just sold the book rights for Great Britain and the British colonies of his recent book, "The Toll of the Sands." It is also to be shown in the movies. It is a story of western life, the scene being laid in Death Valley and the Southwest.—Oregon Journal.

Mr. DeLaney visited in La Grande last spring and has many friends here.

Getting Ready for Sale—The high cost of living will certainly get a sharp blow at the Tree Fund Rummage sale given by the Neighborhood Club. Such good things have been donated by the people. A dox on good men's suits, underwear that shows no sign of wear, children's clothes, many of them new, ladies' ready to wear, are all on hand and will be on display in the shop in the basement of the city library February 11 and 12.

HORTICULTURIST HERE TUESDAY

LERROY CHILDS WILL SPEAK AT FARMERS' WEEK.

Mr. Childs Helped in the Eradication of the Leaf Roller at Imbler Recently.

Two prominent horticulturists will be in La Grande Tuesday as headliners on the Farmers' Week program being staged by the County Farm Bureau. Tuesday will be horticulture day and discussions will be led by Leroy Childs, superintendent of the experiment station at Hood River, and Clayton L. Long, field horticulturist of the O. A. C. Mr. Childs has been connected with the Hood River station for several years and is regarded over the entire northwest as one of the leading authorities on apple production. He is well known to many Union county fruit men, having assisted Paul Spillman in his fight against the apple leaf roller, which threatened devastation in the immediate future. Mr. Long has had extensive experience in the fruit business in the middle west and in New England and has only recently become affiliated with the college. He is a recognized authority on pruning, and the County Farm Bureau was fortunate in being able to secure his services for Farmers' Week.

MRS. BARNES, OF COVE, PASSES ON

CAME TO COVE IN 1863 TO MAKE HOME.

Seven Children Survive Aged Woman, Husband Having Died In 1909.

COVE, Feb. 5.—(Special)—After a brief illness, Mrs. Minerva Barnes died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Sills, in Cove, February 4, 1921.

Minerva Kilgore was born Dec. 25, 1833, in Ordain County, Missouri. She was married to O. P. Barnes, June 26 1854, at Princeton, Mercer Co., Missouri. They came to Cove in 1863, where they made their home until 1886, when they removed to Wallowa county.

Mr. Barnes died in 1909 and in 1912 Mrs. Barnes returned to Cove, where she made her home with her daughter. Nine children were born of this union, seven of whom survive: Wm. Barnes, of Pine Valley; P. H. Barnes, Lewiston, Idaho; Mrs. Ada Day, and Mrs. Harriett Day, Kennewick; Mrs. Arminia Sills, Cove; Mrs. Alice Fisher, Boise, Idaho, and Mrs. Anna Achurch, Pendleton.

LOCAL CHURCH HEADS DISCUSS CHINA'S PROBLEM

At the meeting of the ministerial association this morning, the Chinese situation was discussed, but no definite action was taken. The need for relief was outlined by Mr. Jones, of Portland, representing the Armenian Relief work. The work of securing funds with which to relieve the starving millions in China has been taken over by Mr. Jones' organization. All ministers attending the meeting this morning expressed their approval of the relief work for China and it is probable that the matter will be taken up at the Wednesday night meeting in the various churches. No definite plans have been made, however, by any local church regarding the money that will be used for raising the money.

WALLOWA GIRLS LOSE IN GAME

SATURDAY'S SCORE 43-22 FOR LOCALS.

Wallowa Sportsmen Around and About Involvement in the Game, Which Proved to Be Interesting.

The Wallowa girls' basketball team ran up against two strong teams Saturday evening and as a result were defeated by the L. I. S. girls' team by a score of 75 to 25. Although there was a wide difference in scores, the game was by no means slow, and at all times was of much interest to the many spectators who lined the high school gymnasium.

The first quarter, which was a last one for both teams, saw both teams about evenly matched and on their mettle. Then the La Grande girls began to get in some excellent teamwork and their confidence was restored, with the result that little by little the score forced ahead, until the second quarter it stood 44 to 10, favor of La Grande. This is the last game which will be played in La Grande, and it is doubtful if a return game can be scheduled with Wallowa. The return game with Pendleton will be played February 18, in Pendleton.

On Friday evening, Wallowa played the Union girls' team and won, 16-15. Miss Lambert, coach, accompanied the team on their trip. Both La Grande forwards did fine work Saturday evening. Freida Klopfenstein making 41 points and Marjorie O'Brien 34. All members of the team show the intensive training which has been given them by the local coach, Miss Faye Armstrong. Of the Wallowa forwards Buena Keeler made 13 points and Agnes McClaren 12. The lineup for the game was as follows:

Wallowa—Buena Keeler, L. Agnes McClaren, f.; Julia Maulding, c.; Dorothy Fredenburg, s.; Francis Chery, g.; Wilma Drieh, g.

La Grande—Freida Klopfenstein, f.; Marjorie O'Brien, f.; Wilma Lyman, c.; Mildred Hoyt, s.; Bernice Lofland, g.; Myrtle Lofland, g. Subs—Wallowa, Jean Morelock, Nina Maulding; La Grande, Ruby Shirley, Norma Moyger and Catherine Eaton.

Earl Reynolds acted as referee.

WILL SELECT SHORTHORNS

LIVESTOCK SPECIALIST COMES TO UNION COUNTY.

H. A. Lindgren, College Specialist, is Choosing Stock for Shipment to Klamath County.

H. A. Lindgren, livestock specialist of the Agricultural College, is in La Grande as one of a committee, which will select a shipment of purebred Shorthorns from Union county breeders for shipment to Klamath county. L. A. West, chairman of the livestock project of the Klamath County Farm Bureau, will arrive Monday to assist Mr. Lindgren in his selection.

Mr. West assisted in selecting a shipment last year secured from Townley and DeLay, Sherman and Hutchinson and Green Brothers, of Union. These cattle were consigned and sold at auction in Klamath county for the highest average figure attained in any Shorthorn sale in the Northwest last year. The stock gave excellent satisfaction in Klamath county and served to stimulate interest in purebred Shorthorns with the result that another shipment is desired. Mr. West has been in other sections, and has not found a type of cattle desired, but expects that the Union county breeders will be able to supply his needs. The attention of the Klamath county breeders was attracted to Union county last year by County Agent Spillman. Farmers in Klamath county believe in getting the right kind of stock for their foundation herds and therefore insist upon inspection through their farm bureau organization before purchasing.

SPECIAL BANQUET ON WEDNESDAY

The luncheon of the Union County Ad Club which as a rule is usually held each week at the Foley hotel, Tuesday, has been postponed for this week until Wednesday evening, when a banquet will be held at 6:30 o'clock, in honor of the visiting farmers who are in the city attending the Farmers' Week. Paul H. Spillman, county agriculturist, will be chairman for the evening, and it is expected that a number of the visitors will be present on the program, as the meeting is scheduled to be a full-fledged farmers' meeting.

ANDY BIXON FIXING HOME

WEDNESDAY VISITOR IN LA GRANDE

A couple of weeks ago Andy Dixon made a business trip to Portland and when he came back at once began to furnish a house, announcing that the bride would appear, and she did last Sunday, also two of her three children. The lady was formerly a Mrs. Patterson, of Portland. Hilgard seems very ready to approve of Andy's choice, even on a very brief acquaintance.

Joe Young was a business visitor in La Grande Wednesday. Mrs. Maud Hooper, station agent here, left Friday evening on a business and pleasure trip which will include Portland. Miss Elvira Arnold is substituting for Mrs. Hooper.

The Roe crowd came down from Starkey Saturday evening to attend Hilgard's weekly dance. Hilgard believes in dances just for the home and community.

Due to the closing of the third trick in the telegraph office here and the shifting of the second to make up the difference, a couple of stock trains camped here from 2 a. m. until 7 a. m. waiting for orders. They were sent out of La Grande with the dispatcher's expectation of their passing Hilgard before the office closed at 2 a. m. When they failed to do that, the train crew, rather than "scab" on the operators by calling into La Grande for orders, just "sat it out."

Miss Flora Cruikshank was a weekend visitor in La Grande. Hilgard's snow is just about the same depth as La Grande's, in spite of the general idea in La Grande to be contrary.

Picture Shows On School Nights Are Barred By Students

HOOD RIVER, Feb. 7.—An unusual method of securing the concentration of students upon their work was taken this week in the local junior high school, when the student body, after consultation with the faculty, decided to place a ban on all parties and visits to the movies on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesday and Thursdays of each week during the school term.

Both faculty and students contend that it is impossible to carry on home study and visit movies the same evenings and have decided rigidly to enforce the ban. The only reservation in the case of the management of the local show exhibiting a film on an educational nature, as is being done in the upper valley.

In some circles the action of the students is interpreted as an effort of the schools to persuade the movie man to present films of an educative nature, as is being done in the upper valley.
