The Session of the Presbyterian church has planned a six weeks' pre-

The goal set is not an impossible one—it was more than reached last year when 30 were welcomed into the Church Easter morning. With the increased spirit of interest and devotion in the church at the present time, there is every reason to believe that this will be a greater campaign than that of a year ago. The goal and methods to be used to attain it will be presented at the Sunday morning service.

CORRUPTION OF OFFICIALS INVESTIGATED

WHITMAN INQUIRY IN NEW YORK IS NOW STARTED.

Disclosure of Police Scandals Rivalled the Days of Becker and Gunnen's Gang, Expected.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Disclosure of police scandals rivaling those of the days of Police Lieutenant Becker and the Herman Rosenthal murder, for which Becker and an East Side gunman's gang went to death in the electric chair, is forecast by former Governor Charles S. Whitman, who, cloaked with authority by the district attorney, is probing into alleged grafting and corruption by New York city officials. He has termed the situation "grave" and threatens to unfold a vice ribbon of many hues.

The Whitman inquiry has been under way only a short time, since the State Assembly was urged to order legislative investigation early in January. Already two police captains have been indicted for alleged grafting, charged with accepting fees from business firms in exchange for police protection during strikes. They are Captain William A. Palley, Manhattan, and Captain Percy DuBois, Brooklyn. More were said to be slated to follow them.

Mr. Whitman has had his fields with higher city officials, and resorted to subpoena to bring Mayor Hylan and Police Commissioner Enright before him. Of those he demanded that his force be given a certain number of detectives, the particular men he wanted to aid in the investigation. He exhibited state laws which he said authorized him to have what he wanted, without interference by Mayor or Commissioner.

When money seemed to be lacking for continuation of the inquiry, financial assistance from private sources was promised the former governor he announced, and a certified check for $20,000 was presented to him on January 21 by Edward Hatch, Jr., chairman of the New York Merchants' Association committee on pollution, sewerage and waste disposal. This check was made available in the event the Board of Estimate fails to authorize a similar city appropriation for furtherance of the work, but later the finance and budget committee of the Board of Estimate voted to approve issuance of the bonds.

Those Flattering Coat Dresses

OVER the horizon everywhere those attractive and sometimes confusing coat-dresses are emerging in a way that promises them a growing vogue. At first it seemed that they were designed to please women who long for slender lines when nature has decreed them plump curves, but the sleeper women have seized upon the coat dress also, finding it just the thing in which to reveal their fashionable fitness. It does much for both types of figure and therefore is being developed into afternoon as well as street models, although its career began in the strictly tailored class.

The model shown at the right of the picture above belongs to the plainer, tailored class and is certainly becoming a full figure. It depends upon handsome embroidery on the collar and deep cuffs and about a three-quarter length sleeve to give it such favor and has a narrow double belt of the material fastened with small buckles at the front. The skirt portion is relieved from plainness by simulated panels at the sides having round, cloth-covered buttons set in them.

At the left a dressier model appears in a cloth coat, worn over a satin underslip having satin sleeves. A folded collar of metal-brocade ribbon and pointed tufts of the same lift it into the class of afternoon frocks and the slit at the side of the skirt portion, lined with fancy braid, gives additional interest. The belt is of the cloth.

The combination of two materials in these coat dresses is worth considering by women who have the remodeling of frocks in mind. Like the tunic dress, worn over underskirts in another material, the coat dress lends itself to combinations.
