George Washington's Birthday proved the motif for a number of small but delightful parties this past week and the last part of this week. This season seems much gayer than a number of Lenten seasons have been in the preceding years.

Only a few weeks more remain until Easter time, and shortly after that the ladies of the Neighborhood Club will hold their Festival, a number of club ladies being already busy plying the needles.

On Tuesday of this week, Grande Ronde Circle 47, Neighbors of Woodcraft, entertained Friendship Circle, of Pendleton, at the Eagles' Hall.

A chicken dinner was served at one o'clock, the table being beautifully decorated with a huge cake with the lodge letters on it, as a centerpiece, and red and white carnations and white hydrangeas.

The drill team consisting of Neighbors Allstott, Buchanan, Parker, Crouter, MacDowell, Happerst, and Daggett, and led by Lucie Buell, captain, put on the drill work in a very creditable manner.

The members of the executive board of the Westminster Guild Chapter were delightedly entertained at luncheon Sunday evening by their president, Mrs. Ray F. Murphy.

The members of the executive board of the Westminster Guild Chapter were delightedly entertained at luncheon Sunday evening by their president, Mrs. Ray F. Murphy.

Following the luncheon hour, the work of the year was talked over, preparatory to the annual reports which are to be given at the next meeting of the Westminster Guild, and also at which the new officers are to be elected.

The officers and chairmen enjoying Mrs. Murphy's hospitality were, the Misses Hattie Short, Ora Eckles, Jessie Faris, Mildred Riddle, and Helen McDonald; Mrs. Alvin S. Duryea, Mrs. J. L. Jangle, and Mrs. Oscar Poarch and son, Donald.

With a record attendance of members, the Young Women's Educational Auxiliary was royally entertained Monday evening in the parlors of the Methodist church. After a short business meeting, the members adjourned to the main room of the church, where an annual evening's entertainment followed.

Miss Thelma Osterling sang two very pretty solos, "In Old Madrid," and "I'm Afloat," for the young high school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Francis Birnie, played several selections, which were greatly enjoyed, and later, the high school male quartet sang, "While I have You," and "Good Night," responding to an encore with "Miss Brown."

The balance of the time was given over to Miss Agnes Dwyer, who charmed her audience with an illustrated lecture on the Philippine Islands. Miss Dwyer is thoroughly familiar with the Islands, having spent the past sixteen years there and her message gave all a better knowledge of the rapid growth and advancement of the Islands since their annexation to the United States.

A social hour followed in the parlors of the church, red carnations being used in a unique decoration. Most delicious refreshments were served by the following hostesses, who were responsible for the evening's entertainment: Miss Hemi Hokari, Miss Thelma Osterling, Miss Imogene Russell, Miss Francis Birnie, Mrs. E. J. Huston, and Mrs. E. Horstman.

The Girls' Friendly Society will meet this evening at Honan hall at 7:30 o'clock, for a Washington birthday party. Any girls in the city who are interested, are given a most cordial invitation to attend.

school there. The dinner, a devoted Lincoln anniversary observance, it being impossible to observe the day at the proper time. Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe, county school superintendent, and Miss Louise Zorn, county health nurse, will be guests from La Grande.

The Methodist choir will meet this evening with Mabel Tucker, 1108 Pennsylvania avenue.

Achough Mardi Club, as its name signifies, always meets on Tuesday evening, the usual club night was postponed this week until Thursday evening, when Miss Nell Grimmett will act as hostess.

Mrs. Ray F. Murphy was a charming hostess Saturday afternoon for the members of the Clio Club during the pleasant afternoon of Bridge. Mrs. Hal Bohnenkamp was winner of high honors. Following the putting away of the game, a delicious two-course luncheon was served.

Mr. Irvin Wilson, of this city, who has been called to labor as a missionary for the L. D. S. church, has been assigned to the Northern States Mission, with headquarters at Chicago. The party that is being arranged for his benefit by the M. L. A. will be held tomorrow night in the Amusement Hall of the Church.

The Women's Relief Corps held their usual monthly luncheon for the G. A. R. and invited guests at the K. of P. Hall Saturday. A delicious luncheon was served and an enjoyable program was rendered.

One feature of the program much enjoyed by the G. A. R. was the singing of the old songs by the girls who were present. The program was under the direction of Mrs. Dora Divins, patriotic instructor of the local corps, and the occasion was to celebrate the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. Readings were given by Misses Bertha and Florence Nelson, and Miss Etta Belle Kitchin. R. J. Kitchin gave a very interesting talk on Abraham Lincoln and Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe gave another enjoyable and interesting talk on Washington and Lincoln. Rev. A. R. Sifton also gave a very interesting talk. The program closed with a song, "Three Colors Has Our Nation." The G. A. R. and W. R. C. then held their regular meeting.

Saturday's Telegram contained a picture of Mrs. Colon R. Eberhard, wife of Senator Eberhard, and their two children, Dorothy Adaline and Franklin Knapper. Mrs. Eberhard and her children have been spending the past several weeks with their husband and father in Salem.

Mrs. Faye T. Catlin, executive and home service secretary for the Red Cross, spent Saturday in Pendleton, conferring with Miss Katherine Ewing, of the Northwest Red Cross headquarters, who was spending a few days there.

An interesting and welcome guest in the city is Mrs. Ed Wright, of La Grande, who is visiting Mrs. E. T. Busselle and Mrs. Fred Buchtel. Mrs. Wright is well known in Salem, having lived here when Mr. Wright was secretary of the public service commission—Salem Capitol Journal.

The Thursday evening art class of the Bible in Art class has postponed their regular meetings from Thursday evening, from now until Easter, owing to the special meetings which a number of the churches are holding on Thursday evening. No meeting of the class was held this week, owing to the time between the meetings being too short to prepare for the next lesson.

At the meeting last Thursday, at the home of the leader, Mrs. E. P. Moshman, the program was built around the life and works of the famous painter, Jean Baptiste Camille Corot. Those who had prepared special papers for the evening were Mrs. E. E. Beatty, Mrs. W. H. Leisman, Mrs. O. E. Moran and Miss Lulu Huron.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Noah recently gave them a house warming at their beautiful new home, 2108 Oak street. The hours were pleasantly spent in dancing, cards and music. At 12 o'clock, dainty refreshments were served. Those present at the evening were Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Marlowe Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ringo, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. I. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Moss, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Wallace.

Honoring the La Grande girls' basketball team, members of the local high school girls' team and some of the members of the Girls' Forum, were hostesses Saturday night for a luncheon at the high school. The affair followed the evening's game and preceded the benefit dance given at liberty hall by the Phoenix ladies, present at the banquet besides the hostesses and honor guests, were Miss Faye Armstrong, coach of the La Grande team; Miss Eva Hansen, coach of the local team, and Miss Kathleen Meloy, of the Pendleton high school faculty—Pendleton Tribune.

Members of the University Club enjoyed one of the best programs last evening that has been presented before the club during the short time of its organization. Following a very short routine business meeting, Mr. George T. Cochran introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Agnes Dwyer, who is a home guest at the Cochran home. Miss Dwyer, who has a charming personality, has spent the past sixteen years in the Philippines, and during some years acting as may of Mr. and Mrs. Cochran there, that Miss Dwyer and the Cochran family became acquainted, the friendship having continued during the intervening years. Miss Dwyer is now traveling over the United States giving travelogue on the Philippine Islands, and although she showed only a limited number of slides last evening, the members of the University Club were given a keen insight into the progressive work the United States has been carrying on since the annexation of the islands, and at the same time it was brought out through the pictures, the advanced type of civilization and industry which is now prevalent in the Islands.

Miss Faye Armstrong, physical director of the La Grande public schools, pleased her audience with two beautiful dances, the "Jungle Bug Dance," and Rubenstein's "Waltz Caprice." In her striking ballet dress Miss Armstrong was a dainty picture of grace and received hearty applause for her work.

Mrs. John Chapman sang two very pretty numbers, "Carmena" by H. Lane Wilson, and "I'm Wearing a Wa, Jean," by Arthur Foote. She was ably accompanied on the piano by Mrs. George S. Birney, and the number was heartily received.

"Oles Olsen," (R. A. Pratt) was then introduced and brought forth much laughter by his make-up and presentation of several readings in the Swedish dialect, one of which was most appropriate for Washington's Birthday.

As a closing number, members of the club were given suggestions for the first lines of limericks, and were told to complete them. When all were finished and read, the members were unable to tell just which one they considered best, owing to the wide diversity of styles and subjects, and the matter of choosing the club poet laureate was left over. During the time the members were working on the poems, Sam Cochran and Thornton Chapman were asked to watch the "pot boil," and soon thereafter, served the guests from the large black kettle on the stage, under which a fire or lighting effect had been placed, with pretzels, handed out on large forks.

R. A. Pratt acted as chairman of the committee which planned last evening's program, and was aided by Mrs. Pratt, Miss Mildred Oliver, Miss Sarah Smith, Archie Miller and H. M. DuBois of the program committee.

The juniors enjoyed another one of those delightful evenings at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Mossman last Sunday, about forty being present. As the vesper roll is soon to be closed, after which time no new juniors will be admitted, it is expected that a still larger number will be present this coming Sunday.

The committee in charge for the afternoon was composed of Mrs. H. P. Groves, Mrs. Vivian Oakley, Mrs. J. P. Caldwell and Miss Mary Nichols.

A big hit you must not miss—Chas. Ray in "Peaceful Valley," at Arcade, starting Thursday. 2-22-21.

THEATRES

"SO LONG LETTY" IS FULL OF "PEP"

One of the best comedy-dramas of the season is "So Long Letty," the Robertson-Cole super-special, which will be shown at the Sherry Theatre for the last time tonight. Adapted to the silver screen from Oliver Morosco's famous and successful stage play of the same name, "So Long Letty" appears to better advantage on the screen because of the wider scope of the camera.

The story of "So Long Letty" has to do with swapping wives, disgruntled husbands, home cooked meals, Paris gowns, cabarets, gingham dresses and sardines. Likewise it teaches a lesson to perpetually dissatisfied individuals.

Also showing Chas. Urban's "Movie Chats."

Just because she was making a picture she had to root for the wrong ball team. Wanda Hawley, the Realart star, is of all things a dyed-in-the-wool football fan, a situation well-becoming her former connection as a student in the University of Washington.

Realart was most fortunate in securing the Stanford-U. S. C. game for the scenes in "The Snob," adapted from the William J. Neidig Saturday Evening Post story. It proved one of the most hard-fought contests of the season, a true "grudge fight," as Stanford was out to redeem a previous defeat. The score, 10 to 0, for U. S. C. does not indicate the real thrills of the play.

HICK PARTS WONDERFUL FUN, SAYS CHARLES RAY

Hick parts? "Sofie people" call them that, but Charlie Ray thinks they're wonderful, wholesome, and true to life. "As a matter of fact," he says, "they're really small-town types, such as you find in James Whitcomb Riley or Booth Tarkington."

Perhaps his attitude accounts for Charles Ray's unequalled success as a pot-pourri of rube roles in the silent drama. Chas. Ray in his New First National picture, "Peaceful Valley," will be shown at the Arcade Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

TROUBLE BEGAN IN 1900 STATES SEATTLE MAN

Well Known Florist Tried Eighteen Years to Get Relief—Tanlac Overcame Trouble—Three Years Ago—Still Enjoys Fine Health.

"Tanlac proved to me just what my wife and I both needed, and we have been praising it for nearly three years," said W. A. Mohr, well-known wholesale florist residing at 2630 Holly St., Seattle.

"In the year nineteen hundred I began having trouble with my stomach, and fully fifteen years ago it got so bad I was in misery all the time. My food seemed to collect in a lump right in the pit of my stomach, I had such terrible pains nearly all the time I would rather miss a meal than endure the suffering afterwards. I gradually went down-hill. Many days it took all my will power to keep from going to bed, and finally I began having pains all through my body and my back often hurts so bad I could hardly stoop over. I had rheumatism in my shoulders and knees so bad I couldn't sleep well.

"When Tanlac was first introduced in Seattle so many people began praising it that I fell in line and it wasn't long before I was completely relieved of all my troubles. I still keep the several pounds in weight I gained by taking Tanlac, and my appetite is simply splendid. In fact, I am in perfect health in every way. My wife also took the medicine and it did her a world of good, and I don't think anybody praises Tanlac any more than we do."

Tanlac is sold in La Grande by Silverthorn's Drug Store; Putnam Drug Store; Clyde Kiddle, of Island City, and by the leading druggists in every town—Adv.
