Remarkable Apparition—Edward Fitzgerald, the translator of "Omar" and one of the least superstitious of men, told of an apparition he was quite unable to explain on natural lines. He saw clearly his sister and her children having tea in his dining room, through the window from his garden, although they were not visiting him at the time. He also saw his sister quietly withdraw from the room, as though fearing to disturb the children. At that moment she died in Norfolk.

Pampered Person Never Strong.
A pampered person is usually soft-bellied and good for nothing. One authority derives the word from "pamplunus" (Latin) and the French "pamper," a vine-tendrill. A vineyard overgrown with leaves and fruitless branches is said to be pampered. In "Paradise Lost" Milton speaks of pampered boughs, which needed hands to check fruitless embraces. The Italians have a phrase "paroberato," but this means well-fed and is derived from pane, bread, and bere, drink.

Lovemaking and Marriage.
Lovemaking stretches over ten or fifteen years of our lives, and after that is nothing but a bad habit. As a rule the love emotion is canonized by marriage, and that is why I am for marriage every time and for everybody, faithfully believing that a bad marriage is better than none.—Harper's Magazine.

Pearls and Rubies.
"Pearl" is thought by some writers to come from the Latin "pirula," meaning "a little pear," because so many fine pearls were pear-shaped. "Ruby" is thought to have been called from "ruber," the Latin for "red," but it may be that the word "ruber," meaning red, was derived from the name of the ruby.

Novel Pistol.
A Frenchman has perfected the invention of a "poison pistol." It is not permitted to carry firearms, a poison pistol will do the work as efficiently. It is like an ordinary gun in appearance but without bullets or cartridges. The handle of the gun contains a poison gas fluid. If the trigger is pressed a thin stream of the poison fluid shoots out and acts instantly.

It Is Easy To Imitate Names

The public is constantly being swindled by imitations, counterfeiters and substitutes that resemble in name and appearance Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It is because the original Foley's is so good, so reliable and so well known that these frauds find sale.

Always Has It In His Home
T. J. McCall, Athens, Ga., writes: "We have used Foley's Honey and Tar in our home for several years and find it almost invaluable for coughs and colds, and especially for croup for our children. We are never without it and cannot too highly recommend it for coughs, colds or croup for either grown-up people or children."

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound
IS PLEASANT TO TAKE, and soothes the raw, inflamed surfaces; stops the rasping, strangling feeling in the throat. It is made of the best, freshest and finest ingredients to be had, contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and costs twice as much to make as any imitation of it.
For more than thirty years Foley's Honey and Tar has been used with satisfaction and success.

A Man is just as Young and Strong as his Blood

No man can fight the battles of life and hold his own if his blood is not pure, for rich, red blood is what strength is based upon. When you see a strong, vigorous man, who never knows when he is licked, you may wager that such a man has coursing through his veins rich, red blood. Many people have thin, pale blood. They are weak, tire easily, become discouraged quickly, and sometimes feel like giving up the struggle.
