The Botulinus Bug—

The Botulinus, the bug which put a crimp in the olive business for a couple of years, has been destroying some horses in Oregon, according to Dr. William Lytle, state veterinarian, who is returning from a trip into eastern Oregon. Horses were affected in Pendleton and Baker and some horses were lost at a sawmill near Klamath Falls. One owner lost about 15 animals. The infection is believed to be caused by the horses eating lupine beans. Lupine is the beautiful wild flower which is extensively used during the Portland rose festival for decorating automobiles. The beans which are so pretty in the parade later turn into beans and these beans are supposed to have been inoculated by the botulinus bacillus. This particular bug has its home in the soil—this much has been discovered by scientists within the past few months. Several years ago the botulinus killed thousands of horses in Kansas and became known as the Kansas horse plague. Dr. Lytle declares that it was a veterinary who developed the toxin that is being used against Mr. Botulinus and on one occasion some of this dope was rushed by airplane to save a man.—Oregonian.

PERRY MILL WHISTLE BLOWS

PERRY, Mar. 21.—(Special).—One of the most welcome disturbances of the peace that Perry has listened to lately was the mill whistle this morning when the machinery was set in motion again after being idle for three months. Repair work had been rushed for some time in order to be in readiness to start yesterday morning, but another day had to be spent to finish up the repairing. Only one saw will be in operation for a while, but this will furnish work for about all the men who were out of work. Most of the transients who were stopping at the boarding house left soon after the mill closed last winter and practically every man now in Perry has work.

Walter Clarke has moved from Perry to a place near La Grande. Masters Harry and Orville Divens were up from La Grande and spent Sunday visiting in Perry.

W. A. Watson and family returned from a ten days' visit in Portland and Seattle, last Sunday. Mr. Watson reports finding living in the Sound City cheaper than here in eastern Oregon, excepting in regard to house rent. Wages also he reports are fairly good, although there are many laborers unemployed.

Grandpa and Grandma Coalwell left for Baker Sunday morning and will visit with their son, Gardy Coxy well.

Perry has secured a lot of fifty books from the county circulating library and is using the school as a library. W. V. Connor is acting as librarian. Library hours are from 4 to 4:30 on school days.

The basketball apparatus has been stored away for the season and horseshoe pitching is all the rage now.

Don Matott has been visiting with his brother, Casey Matott, who is a railroad telegraph operator at one of the stations near Pendleton.

Owing to the stormy condition of the weather, the dance at the community hall last Friday evening was very poorly attended.

George Dixon had charge of the company store during the absence of Mr. Watson.

PERRY MILL OPENS UP FOR SHORT TIME; TWENTY MEN WORK

The Perry mill of the Grande-Ronde Lumber company is running temporarily to clean up the logs in the pond. Operations were started yesterday morning and about 20 men put to work. Unless there is a decided change in conditions affecting the lumber industry, the mill will again be entirely shut down after the logs in the pond are cleaned up, according to Elmer Stoddard.

Russian's Peculiar Hobby.—A Russian court official nursed a strange notion in regard to overcoats. He spent the best part of his life inventing a reversible garment of that character. When he had attained his desire he was the happiest man in Petrograd. In winter he made a practice of entering a friend's house clad in heaven and of leaving dressed in reindeer. He boasted that he could attend a wedding and a funeral in the same garment.

Critics Not Always Harmful.—It has been said that "critics are made up from the scraps and scattered remnants that are left over when good folks are created." That depends on the spirit and purpose of the critic. There are helpful critics.—Exchange.

To him that hath shall be given

Was the Biblical version of our modern saying: "Nothing succeeds like success." So it was with Dr. Pierce's, of Buffalo, N. Y., who, over 50 years ago, gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equaled as a tonic for the weaknesses of women. Many women in every hamlet, town or city will gladly testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did them a world of good. Ask your neighbor.

Another of the great physical ailments which afflict women is known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and, like the "Prescription," is now sold by druggists everywhere, in both liquid and tablet form. This medicine was a success from the start, for the life of men and women all over the universe who have successfully used it for indigestion and as a blood purifier and system builder, number an amazing total of thousands.

Oh, the Brute!—There had been a certain amount of bitterness in the discussion, which centered around the relative virtue and accomplishment of the two sexes. "You men," said the advanced young woman, "think a great deal of yourselves because you think there is a shortage of your kind. Personally, I should not mind in the least living in a world where the men and girls were separated by an ocean." The daring bachelor smiled at her. "I dare say you are right," he agreed. "Still, in the event you mention, I am certain that there would be a large number of women drowned."—London Morning Post.

Deported as Undesirable.—Little Jean was filled with love and admiration for the tiny baby sister who, she had been told, had been sent her from heaven. The love and admiration changed to disgust, however, when the new arrival discovered that she possessed a strong pair of lungs which she exercised unceasingly. The other day Jean was overheard to remark to a little playmate: "Just listen to her whoop it up! I bet she yelled like that in heaven and the angels chuckled her out."

Records of Australian Shearing.—Shearers in Australia are paid by the number of sheep they shear, but the ranch helpers are paid by the week. Averaging everything from young wethers, which are hard to old ewes, which are easy, a good man will shear about 90 or 100 sheep a day. The actual record is 327 sheep sheared by a Queensland shearer in nine hours. And other big records have been made. But that was probably years back with the "blades," when the fleeces were five-pound and six-pound, and not six-pound and ten-pound, as they are today.

Feel Old?

Overwork, worry, anxiety or sorrow, undermines strength and health. These causes contribute to kidney trouble, and weak or diseased kidneys make one feel old in middle age.

Foley Kidney Pills

help weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder so that the system is free from waste and poisonous matter that causes one to feel old, tired, languid. They banish backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, stiff joints. Mrs. J. D. Miller, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For many years I suffered with kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had a severe backache and felt miserable and all played out. I got to a place where I had to do something. After taking two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills I can say my backache is gone, and where I used to lay awake at night with rheumatic pains I can now sleep in comfort and enjoy a good night's rest."
