"THE U. P. TRAIL."

A mighty sweeping romance of love, high adventure, and human emotion comes to the Star theatre Saturday and Sunday in "The U. P. Trail," Benjamin B. Hampton's powerful production of Zane Grey's famous novel released by the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation.

An extraordinarily large cast of well-known artists interpret the roles, including Robert McKim, Kathryn Williams, Marguerite De La Motte, Joseph J. Dowling and Roy Stewart.

THE LAST HOPE.

Filled, though he is with the pure joy of living, Harold Lloyd hates to get up. He will put off the evil hour when he must tear himself from his downy nest to the very last minute. In fact, if he gets a chance, he'll go far past the last minute. This habit of his has won for him the nickname of "Speedy."

On his recent trip to New York, an early appointment made it necessary for "Speedy" to get up at seven o'clock, some three hours ahead of his holiday rising hour. To his friend and sub-title writer, "Beany" Walker, fell the task of getting the young comedian up on time.

"Come on, 'Speedy.' Crawl out, it's seven o'clock."

"Speedy" opened half an eye and inquired: "Eastern Standard or Daylight Saving time?"

In his newest feature comedy, produced by Hal E. Roach, for Pathe distribution, Harold Lloyd not only has to get up, but he has to "Get Out and Get Under."

"Get Out and Get Under" is on view at the Arcade Theatre Friday and Saturday.

JACK LONDON'S "THE STAR ROVER," SHERRY'S

An adventure into the dim and mysterious regions of the unseen is the basis of this compelling screen drama, adapted from the famous novel by Jack London and enacted by a notable cast of players, including Courtney Foote and Thelma Percy. It starts with the strange murder, in which a notorious political boss is shot down while attending a performance of a musical comedy. In the box opposite that occupied by the victim of the assassin sits Dr. Hugh Standing, a respectable young physician. The shot is fired from behind him. Dazed, he turns and picks up the pistol. He is arrested and accused of the killing. In an effort to bring a confession from the accused man, a bulldozing police inspector puts him through the notorious "third

THE PNEUMONIA MONTH.

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ-laden mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.—adv.
