Oscillating with rapidity from Oriental impersonations to Oriental settings mid the smouldering incense, to the last word in modern style; staged midst a burst of Spring flowers and Spring joyousness, the Memorial Tree Funt bazaar next week gives promise of being far above anything ever attempted here before in that respect, both as regards novelty, charm, interest and magnitude. A chief reason is the worthiness of the cause; another, the enthusiasm behind the workers arranging the details. The kaleidoscopic changes are purposeful—no group of people may be denied something that will be of especial and keen interest. There will be no monotony.

An Oriental color will be a charming feature, under the management of Mrs. Donald M. Pogue. Fortune-telling is not to be taboo, and girls in costume will lend the grace and charm to the booth.

One feature that will occupy most of the mezzanine floor of Eagles' hall where the bazaar is to be held, is the tea room, Mrs. A. R. Hunter, director. Light lunches, delicious and vari-natured will be ready at all appropriate hours.

Those who delight in the styles of days ago and now, will be greeted with a three-angled style show that should please the most fastidious. The contrast, striking as it is, between the Colonial period and the present moment, with a background of Civil War days will be emphasized. Miss Blanche Clark and Mrs. Robert L. Newlin have charge of the first two named and Mr. Robert Pattison and Mr. Paul Massee, local window designers, will be in command of the present-day style parade.

Cards will be the feature of each afternoon, and prizes are to be awarded. Prospective patrons of the card parties should call the respective chairmen and make arrangements far tables. The first two afternoons will provide for bridge and "500" but on Saturday "500" alone will be the rule. The first day Mrs. Margaret Ingle, Friday Mrs. J. F. O'Connell, and Saturday Mrs. F. M. Jackson, are chairmen.

An every-evening attraction will be the dancing hours, set to the tune of the best music—snappy, "simmy" and jazzy—jazz in plenty. The best musicians available have been employed.

The fish pond is impressed upon the little folks for there is going to be a bushel of fun for the youngsters. Anyone who has an article of five-cent value, or over, who wishes to donate it to the fish pond, may leave it at Putnam's Drug Store. And, too, it must be remembered that no bazaar would be complete without the soft drinks for the young folks, and that will be provided.

From time to time between today and the date of the bazaar further details will be published. In the meantime, anyone with articles for the bazaar should call Mrs. G. T. Larison or any of the chairmen in charge, and have such articles delivered to the hall by Wednesday.

La Grande is to have an organ recital, supported by a well known contralto soloist, on April 5th. This pleasing announcement to music lovers has two particular interesting phases for it provides that type of music not often heard here in concert—the pipe organ—and it assures La Grande the honor of hearing Alice Price Moore, who was brought here by the Neighborhood club in 1916. She has joined with William Robinson Boone, the celebrated Portland organist, in a tour of Eastern Oregon and the two stellar artists will be heard in recital in La Grande under the auspices of the Women's Missionary auxiliary of the Methodist church, April 5th. At the time of reviewing Mrs. Moore's appearance here in 1916 the Observer said, among other things, that were she to return to La Grande in concert again, she would be assured of a packed house. Mr. Boone is the man who charmed the recent Portland auto show visitors with his wonderful organ playing in the Portland auditorium. He is regularly the organist in the leading Christian Science church of Portland.

The Baptist study was the scene of two weddings Wednesday afternoon and evening. Rev. A. R. Sitten officiating. At five o'clock in the afternoon William K. Cate and Leona March were united in marriage and at seven in the evening Rev. Sitten united in marriage Orellis W. Dam and Grace Fuller.

CORVALLIS, March 26.—The wedding of Miss Marion Corrine Whitmore and Harold Mason was solemnized at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Richard Graham, south Eighth street. Rev. Edmund T. Simpson officiated at the service, witnessed by only the immediate members of the families of the bride couple. Mr. and Mrs. Mason left at once on an extended wedding trip and later will be at home in Leno, Eastern Oregon. The bride formerly attended O. A. C. and is a member of the Mask and Dagger dramatic organization. She is a daughter of Stephen Whitmore, of Pennsylvania, who came to Corvallis for the wedding. Mr. Mason is a graduate of O. A. C., a member of the class of 1916; belonged to the Hayden Club and since graduation had been an instructor in manual training in the La Grande high school. He is now engaged in extensive agricultural lines and stock raising.

A "Get-Together" entertainment was given at the Eagles' hall by the Musicians' Protective Association on Monday, March 21, to which all members and their friends were invited. About 150 were present and enjoyed the dancing, which was furnished by Lindsey's Orchestra, Gekeler's Orchestra and Thompson's International Sextette. After the dancing, all retired to the banquet-room, where delicious refreshments were served. The banquet-room was very tastefully decorated.

President Loney acted as toastmaster for the occasion and called on several members for a few remarks. The committee in charge of the arrangements were J. P. Caldwell, chairman; Miss Lois Given, and Mrs. E. Stuart.

Members of the University of Oregon Girls' Glee Club will be entertained during their stay in La Grande, at private homes. The club members will arrive in the city tomorrow evening, and on Monday morning will continue their journey to Enterprise, where they will appear on that evening. The following evening they will return to La Grande for their concert here that night at the high school auditorium. Among the hostesses for the members of the club during their stay in the city, are Mrs. R. A. Pratt, Mrs. Ray Murphy, Mrs. Fred Schilke, Mrs. Frank Recklin, Mrs. Frank Jackson, Mrs. J. Donald Meyers, Mrs. Vincent Palmer, and the Misses Leta Kiddle, Helen McDonald and Lois Bryant.

For the pleasure of Mrs. Wren Clarke Crews, of La Grande, who is her house guest, Mrs. Joseph I. Cox was hostess yesterday at her home on Riley street for a most informal and delightful afternoon. The hours were spent with needlework and chatting. Daffodils were used in profusion about the rooms of the Cox home. Those enjoying the pleasure were Mrs. Ed Averill, Mrs. George W. Coatts, Mrs. Luther Goldman, Mrs. J. J. Hamley, Miss Gladys Hamley, Mrs. Raymond Hatch, Mrs. A. E. Ruer, Mrs. H. P. Whitman, Mrs. Kenneth McRae, Mrs. W. C. Kempton, Mrs. L. P. Ramsdell and Mrs. Eunice McNett.—Pendleton Tribune.

Miss Grace Geibel, daughter of the late Fred Geibel, one time merchant of La Grande, will take a leading part in the May-time production, "Rumpelstiltskin," given by the students of the Fremont, Washington, schools. The fairy opera will contain in its cast more than 200 pupils, ranging from tots in the primary grades, to the students in the eighth grade, who will play the heavier roles. Only children with passing grades in music are allowed to participate. The leads have been selected by the director, as possessing the finest voices. Grace Geibel will take the part of "Sophia."

A joint meeting of the Men's club and the Young Woman's Educational Auxiliary of the M. E. church will be held in the parlors of the M. E. church on Wednesday evening of next week, the date being changed from Tuesday to Wednesday in deference to the University of Oregon Girls' Glee Club. Members please take notice. Some of the special features for the program will be the story of Ruth, rendered by reading, vocal numbers from the cantata "Ruth," and dialogues from the text. All members of both clubs are urged to be present.

The members of the American Legion and their families will be entertained by the local Moose on Wednesday evening at a social affair that will include a delightful program and a banquet.

Several musical numbers, a short talk or two by prominent members of the lodge, athletic features in which both amateurs and professionals will take part are the main numbers on the program.

The ladies of the American Legion will assist in serving the banquet. The affair is open to all members of the Legion and the Moose and their families.

Mrs. I. F. Douglas and Mrs. Frank Turner were joint hostesses Wednesday afternoon for the members of the Pythian Sister social club at Mrs. Douglas' home on Oak street. The afternoon was pleasantly passed with cards and music. The charitable work which is each year undertaken by the Pythian Sisters is also handled through the club organization, thus lending an additional zest and interest to the club meetings. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the business session. At their next meeting the club will enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. H. W. Riley and Mrs. Frank Cleavenger.

The Elks' club will open their post-Lenten season with one of their monthly dances Monday evening, March 28. Old-fashioned dances have been arranged for those preferring these and all of the popular new dances are also on the program so there isn't an Elk who won't be able to do his favorite step with his partner during the evening.

Refreshments appropriate to the occasion will be served during the evening.

On Thursday evening, March 31, a social will be given at the L. D. S. church in honor of Campbell Garriek, who has been called to act as missionary for the church in the northern states and will leave early in April on his mission. A cordial invitation is extended to all his friends and the friends of the church by the committee arranging the affair. Mr. Garriek will have his headquarters in Chicago, while on his mission.

The whole high school is pervaded with an air of mystery. Class meetings are called, but only the girls are asked to attend; the assembly bell rings, but the boys are told to go to room 15 and the girls to the auditorium.

The truth is, the Association of Girl Students is going to give a high-class vaudeville show on April 8. Every class and the Home Economics club, whose chief feature will be a talented jazz band, will be represented.

Fred D. Montgomery and Mrs. Flossie E. Roberts, of Paul Idaho, were united in marriage at 2 o'clock, Thursday, March 17, in Salt Lake, Utah. Mr. Montgomery made his home here with his parents for many years, and still has many friends here who wish him and his bride many happy returns of the day.

Mr. Montgomery is now assistant superintendent of the Amalgamated Sugar company, of Paul, Idaho.

A delightful dancing party is to be given Monday evening, March 28, at the country club for the members of the Fremont, Washington, schools. The fair opera will contain in its cast more than 200 pupils, ranging from tots in the primary grades, to the students in the eighth grade, who will play the heavier roles. Only children with passing grades in music are allowed to participate. The leads have been selected by the director, as possessing the finest voices. Grace Geibel will take the part of "Sophia."

Lindsey's orchestra will furnish the music and a delightful supper will be served during the evening.

Members of the Neighborhood Club are looking forward to their next meeting day, which is April 5, with a great deal of pleasure. The day is designated as "Cadmian Day" and as a special feature Miss Margaret Carney, now a professional in musical circles of Portland, will be here. Miss Carney is always a favorite with La Grande audiences. Further announcement will be made at a later date.

Mrs. Harry M. Bouvy and Mrs. Clyde Putnam will leave for Portland Monday to attend the Rose Cousen Reed concert. They will visit with Mrs. Bouvy's parents during their stay in the rose city.

Joyous Easter Greetings

While nature is busy bringing out her flock of Easter daffodils, violets, crocuses, tulips and other fragrances of spring—and teaching her birds to sing that winter is past, we extend to our many patrons and friends our greetings at this most joyous Easter time.

THE QUALITY STORE

Mrs. C. D. Putnam was hostess to the members of the Alpha club Thursday afternoon. The ladies enjoyed bridge during the afternoon and the hostess served delicious refreshments following cards.

Mrs. Dickens, of Oregon City, the house guest of Mrs. C. S. Moore, won the prize at bridge. The rooms were delightfully decorated with ferns and spring flowers.

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Richardson are leaving Sunday evening for Baker as Mrs. Richardson has accepted an invitation to sing for the Baker Shrine Club on Monday evening. She will be accompanied by Miss Florence French, of Baker, who is a highly accomplished pianist.

Mrs. Edward J. Clark was hostess Wednesday for a most delightful informal bridge party at her home on Water street, honoring Mrs. Wren Clarke Crews, of La Grande. Three tables were at play during the afternoon and high score fell to Mr. Guy Matlock.—Pendleton Tribune.

Some of the pupils of Mrs. Harriett R. McDonald appeared in a recital at the McDonald home, 502 Fourth St., this afternoon. Those participating in the program were Pauline and Edith Payton, Billy Glass, Kathleen Mires, Golden Epling and Clark Buckman.

Mrs. J. L. Cox, Riley street, has as her guest Mrs. Wren Crews, of La Grande. Mrs. Crews formerly made Pendleton her home and has many friends here who are welcoming her visit.—Pendleton Tribune.

The Parkdale club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Harry Stein at Island City on Wednesday afternoon.

Following the concert in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening by the University of Oregon Girls' Glee Club, the local alumni and former students of the University will be hosts for an informal reception at the high school in honor of the members and director of the club. The reception will be most informal, all high school students and the public being invited to meet the girls from the state institution for a short time immediately following the concert.

A delightful social evening was spent by the members of the Yoemen, their families and friends Thursday at Eagles' Hall. The evening was spent at cards and other games and a short, but interesting program was given. A grabbing also caused much enjoyment and laughter, after which a delicious lunch was served and all left declaring they had a delightful time.

Members of the Eastern Star enjoyed a social hour following the regular meeting on Wednesday evening. Tables were set in the banquet hall, where a delicious luncheon was served by social section No. 2, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lou Given.

Westminster Guild will meet Monday evening with Miss Harriet Short, 1220 U avenue. The first two chapters of the new study book, "The Church and the Community," will be taken up under the leadership of Mrs. Stella Ingle.

Mrs. E. E. Bragg was winner of honors at bridge Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Bruce Dennis entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club.

Russell Akey, of the Whitman Glee Club, was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Short on Thursday evening for dinner.

"Brazilian Grass."
This is a name incorrectly applied to a substance used in the manufacture of a cheap kind of hats known as Brazilian grass hats, and also as chip hats. It consists of strips of leaves of a palm, which are imported to Great Britain and elsewhere for this manufacture, chiefly from Cuba.

Soap Will Stop It.
An ordinary piece of kitchen soap is one of the best lubricants. A corner of the cake rubbed on the metal of a latch that will not work, on the cords of a window that sticks, on bureau drawers or doors that will not open and close easily will remedy the trouble in remarkably quick time.

Chinese Roast Pork Supreme.
The Chinese are ahead of the world in the preparation of roast pork for the table. After it has come out of the oven, it is hung in the smoke of various aromatic herbs, which gives it a delicious flavor and robs it of the porky taste which is offensive to some palates.

Oh, You Kid!
"Even in those early days when a child is feeling from the bottle," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "he shows his predilection for something more substantial by trying to get his toes in his mouth."

Duration of Moon's Eclipse.
A total eclipse of the moon may last as long as one hour and forty-five minutes.
