On the evening of April 18th a number of the ladies of the Women's Relief Corps and their husbands walked into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kokenparger and gave them a genuine old-fashioned surprise party in honor of their twentieth wedding anniversary. A merry evening was spent in chatting and playing games.

Dainty refreshments were served and after wishing Mr. and Mrs. Kokenparger many happy anniversaries in the future, they wended their different ways home in the "wee sma' hours." Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Kokenparger, Mr. and Mrs. J. Plank, Mr. and Mrs. Divens, Mr. and Mrs. Sion, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. White, Mrs. John Anthony, Mrs. Chris Wright, Mrs. C. E. Andrews, Mrs. Martha Chambers, Mrs. Laura Davis, Mrs. H. Roesch, Grandma Burnett, Miss DeLoach, Shafer, Bernita Kokenparger, Master Virgil Kokenparger and Johnny Anthony.

The Women's Relief Corps, Oliver P. Morton Post, met in the K. P.

What will probably go down in society history as the most important social event during the spring of this year will take place at the Country Club Friday evening, April 22, when a number of the social leaders of the city will entertain at dancing from nine to twelve.

Invitations were issued several days ago for the affair and the society set of La Grande is looking forward to the event with pleasant anticipation.

This will be the first formal affair in social circles since Lent and it is expected to be one of the most delightful of dancing parties ever given at the Country Club, which is becoming noted for its many distinctive dances.

Those entertaining Friday will be Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Larson, Mrs. and Mrs. J. J. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. William Siegrist, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Snodgrass and Mrs. Sade Van Buren.

In honor of Mrs. E. P. Mossman, who has so ably acted as the director of the Sunday morning Bible in Art Class for the past two winters, and for the recently formed evening art class, the members of these two classes will entertain on Saturday evening from 8 to 10, at the home of Mrs. G. M. Levy, 904 Pennsylvania avenue. The date was first announced for Friday evening, but since that time has been changed to Saturday evening.

The Bible in Art Class was organized two years ago, and, since that time, the membership has been gradually growing, until there are now about fifty enrolled. During the past few months, besides the regular work of the morning class, two members have assisted in the Sunday afternoon vespers held at the Mosman home for the juniors, and also have formed an evening art class, at which the Barbizon period was studied. This latter class held its last meeting last evening, when Mrs. H. J. Ritter talked on "Light and Shade" during which time a number of the masterpieces were thrown on the screen to illustrate the point under discussion.

The last meeting of the Sunday morning class was held last Sunday, when Mrs. J. L. Tingle gave the topic for the morning.

It is expected that the class will again organize next fall, after the summer vacation period.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen were delightfully entertained by the ladies' auxiliary Friday evening at the K. P. hall. A three-course chicken dinner was served at 6 o'clock, to which about 150 people sat down.

The tables were decorated with daffodils. Music was enjoyed during the dinner hour, following which five hundred was played. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. W. L. Lane and Henry Gore. The guests departed at midnight feeling that the ladies had done everything possible to give them one of the most enjoyable evenings for many a month.

The Thursday evening "500" club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Claude Lynch last Thursday. Mrs. Walter Perry won first prize. The hostess served delicious refreshments during the evening.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Perry, May 5.

The final meeting for the year of the Young Women's Educational Auxiliary was held in the parlors of the M. E. Church Monday evening. After the regular business of the organization, Mrs. Vera Wattenburg took charge of the lesson for the evening, "Patting the World to Work."

A number of the members discussed the advantages of industrial missions, as applied by the missionaries in heathen countries today. After the lesson, Miss Alveda Peterson delighted her listeners with a piano solo, and this was followed by a pageant, conducted by Miss Fay Milligan and Miss Mabel Osterling.

The ladies taking part in the pageant were costumed to represent the peoples of the foreign countries studied during the year by the auxiliary. Mrs. Gerald Pierson represented Japan, Mrs. Wattenburg, Persia; Mrs. Thos. Wilson, Northern Alaska; Mrs. Burr, Mexico; Miss Alice Ekstrom, India, and Miss Wilcox, Africa.

Miss Newhouse acted as critic for the evening.

A social hour followed, during which the hostesses served huge quantities of home-made candies to their guests.
