ETIQUETTE

Removal of Hat at the Theatre

At a matinee, a really considerate woman takes off her hat before the curtain rises. At a moving picture theatre, she removes it as expeditiously as possible, once she is seated. At an evening performance, at the opera or theatre, she wears no hat. For either a man or a woman seated behind an individual whose hat obstructs the view of the stage it is perfectly proper to lean forward and say courteously: "Pardon me, but may I ask that you remove your hat?" It is allowable also to ask an usher to make the suggestion. No woman, however, will be apt to deny the request, and as soon as she nods her head in assent, the person who made the request should briefly express his thanks. Ladies in boxes at the theatre do not, as a rule, remove their hats. Tomorrow: "Invitations to House parties."

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD TRACK MEET FRIDAY

On Friday, May 13, the local troop of Boy Scouts will hold their track meet which was postponed some time ago because of inclement weather. The meet will be held immediately after school at the fair grounds.

The events in which the boys will compete are: shotput, fifty-yard dash, one hundred yard dash, half mile relay with four men running, high jump and broad jump.

A Fine Kodak.

A fine kodak just now comes in mighty handy. A picture of the pretty places up in the hills or in the valley would make some of the old friends back east or in the middle west want to come out and make you a visit, or make their future home out here. Why not come in and let us show you just what can be done with a small amount of money in the Camera line. Our developing and printing room is busy turning out good work—but want your work also. Why not let us have your work? We will and must please you.

SHEEP SHEARING IS NEARING END

PENDLETON, May 11.—The Cunningham Sheep Co. sent out six shearers Monday morning who have started shearing the band of yearlings belonging to the company. The older stuff was all shorn several days ago, the fleeces averaging between 12 and 13 pounds as a result of hand clipping. Machines will be used in shearing the younger stuff.
