ETIQUETTE EVERYDAY

Invitations to Afternoon Musicales.

For a comparatively informal afternoon musicals where a number of friends are invited to hear a noted musician or musicians, the hostess mails her visiting card with the written inscription:

"Monday, April twelfth, four to six o'clock, to hear Madame Du Mond" placed in the left-hand corner.

Formal drawing-room concerts or private theatricals require engraved invitation cards, formally worded and reading as a complete invitation, issued two weeks or ten days before the event.

Monday. — "Hostess and Guests out Motoring."

The Kiddies Know.

Kiddies go to Silverthorn's Fountain for ice cream cones because of good measure and good prices—5c each. They have always served about the best of everything at their fountain. We notice they say the Berkeley ice cream is far superior in flavor and to the taste of any ice cream made and at 50c a pint or 60c a quart.

If In Doubt, Try Berkeley.

Real pleasure is found in that elegant Berkeley ice cream which is served regularly at Al Cain's, at the Palace Confectionery. His fruits and fruit flavors at his Soda Fountain are always fresh and pure. Service is the last word in modern sanitary cleanliness.

Real Pictures.

A camera that takes real pictures is what you want when you go out for a stroll into the woods or canyons during the sunny days. We notice in Silverthorn's Drug Store windows a fine line of these and at prices practically the same as before the war. They do some fine developing of films and good printing of films very promptly, and enlarging of pictures at a very small cost.

Unexpected Callers.

When the unexpected callers drop in for an afternoon call, and you realize that you haven't a thing to serve them, just step to your phone and ask Al Cain at the Palace Confectionery to send you a quart of that elegant Fruit Sherbet or Berkeley Ice Cream, and it will be promptly delivered in ten minutes, if you need it so soon.
