Dream Lore. To dream you are at the equator signifies an abundance of the necessities of life. To farmers it is a good omen, as it promises good weather and fine crops. To merchants it foretells a decrease in business. To those at the equator in a ship, riches if the ship is bound south, poverty if South bound. To those where the equator is denoted good business transactions, success in commercial life.

Inconsistent. It is one of the inconsistencies of man that he will make laws to protect the deer, surround the porcupine with game regulations, compel the salmon to respect the snail, and yet allow the ruthless destruction of the home in which they wild things.
