A large number of invitations were issued today by Mrs. Charles Reynolds and Mrs. Ray Murphy, for a well planned tea to be held at the attractive new bungalow home of Mrs. Murphy on the corner of O and First streets, on the afternoon of Friday, June 24. Many other social affairs for the afternoon have already been postponed, as the tea bids fair to be one of the most lovely and biggest events of the month.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday at the Presbyterian church when Miss Sophia Stein and Arthur C. Jones were united in marriage, Rev. J. A. Smith officiating.

The bride was attired in a pretty blue taffeta dress and carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Paul J. Cook, and the bridegroom was attended by W. L. Tichenor.

After the ceremony the bridal party and relatives motored to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stein. There a lovely dinner was served, after which the young couple departed for eastern points. On their honeymoon they expect to stop at Chicago, New York, Boston and Newfoundland, where they will visit with the bridegroom's parents, and other relatives. They expect to return August 15.

Mrs. F. A. Charboneau and Mrs. Olive V. Bay entertained at a dinner party for their sister, Miss Vic Crawford, June 13th, at the home of Mrs. Charboneau, 1410 Washington avenue. They were assisted by their mother, Mrs. D. C. Crawford, who is visiting here from California. The party was in the form of a surprise, the occasion being Miss Vic's birthday. The table was beautifully decorated in pink roses, each guest being presented with a corsage bouquet. The invited guests were Misses Irene O'Connell, Winifred Kennedy, Deloris Pearson, Louise O'Connell, La Rue Hanks, Genevieve Phelps of Pendleton, and Vic Crawford.

The meeting of the Alpha club has been changed from Friday to Tuesday, and will meet this coming week with Mrs. Adolph Seigrist.

Mrs. Grover Grimmer and Mrs. Lyle Kiddle entertained at bridge at the country home of Mrs. Grimmer Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Chase Bohnenkamp won first prize and Mrs. Clyde Kiddle won second. During the afternoon the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Edward Thomas, of Walla Walla, arrived here Thursday evening to visit with Mrs. Edward Ford.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. George H. Currey of La Grande, who are in Pendleton as the guests of their daughter, Mrs. E. R. Farley, a group of former La Grande folk enjoyed a picnic Monday evening at a pretty spot near Mission. The party motored out and after a picnic supper played games by the light of a big bonfire. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Currey, Mr. and Mrs. Farley, Mrs. J. T. Richardson, Mrs. Edna S. Morrison, Mrs. Laura D. Nash, Rev. and Mrs. George L. Clark and son, James Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Currey will return Tuesday evening by motor to their home in La Grande.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hunter and daughter Mrs. Lawrence Dutton and son, of La Grande, arrived in Pendleton Tuesday evening by automobile to spend a few days visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Afree Hanna, who live at the Security apartments. Mrs. Hanna and Mrs. Hunter are sisters.—Pendleton Tribune.

Miss Emily Dohmert and Miss Iva Dale have returned from La Grande where they were guests of Misses Mildred and Myrtle Hoyte. Numerous delightful affairs were planned for Miss Dohmert and Miss Dale during their visit in La Grande.—Pendleton Tribune.

Robert S. Eakin and family, of La Grande, arrived in Salem Wednesday and Mr. Eakin will attend commencement exercises at Willamette university. He was toast master at the alumni banquet Wednesday night. They are visiting at the home of Mr. Eakin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Eakin.

Miss Ethel Prettyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Prettyman, was married at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of her parents in Milton Brown. The wedding was a quiet home affair and only the immediate families of the couple were present. Rev. A. R. Sattin performed the ceremony.

Mr. W. F. Gentry of Los Angeles is visiting Mrs. F. J. Noyes.

The ribbon flowers on her hat are made of a material which keeps its shape and does not fade. For the purpose, trade mark Goldenweave, which is a registered linen material, is used. It is situated in a colored wood.

RIBBON-FLOWERS FOR HER HAT

There must be at least one small, smart hat adorned with bits from the ribbon-flower garden for the trousseau. This is a Peggy Hoyt.

Speaking of Undermuslins

UNDERMUSLINS change very little in style from year to year, but new features are introduced and if they prove popular gradually establish themselves. The demand has swung away from substantial, weighty fabrics to those that are light and half transparent, from all-white to flesh color and pink, from cottons to ward silk, and there is a steadily growing appreciation of handwork in underthings. New ways of making garments and new kinds of garments have encroached on familiar styles and are taking their places. This is the case with bloomers and petticoats that have now become rivals of the petticoat, and, along with the growth of their popularity comes that of canisoles. Together they take the place of the chemise.

Bloomers find a ready sale than petticoats because they are shorter and very practical for wear with street clothes. They are made in the same materials as those used for making petticoats, including satin, in plain and changeable weaves, silk jersey cloth, saten and batiste. In silk the colors chosen for them are usually dark. They are simply made and easily adjusted without buttons and buttonholes. Shirtings under elastic cord or tape serve to hold them in place at the waist and below the knees. In white or pink batiste they are usually trimmed with a frill of lace at the knees, and occasionally a band of satin in a pale color, is placed above the frill with hemstitching joining the two materials. The very up-to-date young lady shown in the picture above is an adherent of the fashion for wearing bloomers under street clothes.

Canisoles have become important because of the vogue for sheer blouses and they are made of gauze satin, ribbons, laces or fine batiste and organdies. The thin, pink satin canisole lends all the rest, but cannot always serve. A few dark ones are needed to be worn under dark-colored but transparent waists with dark skirts.

April Fool's Day.
April Fool's day has long been known as the time to play jokes on one's neighbor. Just how long the custom has prevailed is not known. Some say that it started back in the beginning of time when Noah sent the dove out of the ark before the flood had abated. The date of this is supposed to correspond with our first day of April. And, inasmuch as the bird was out upon an imperfect mission, the custom gradually grew of sending one's friends off bootless errands.

Thirty Dams.
I once belonged to a club of ladies who served supper one night a month and each member was to furnish something. It was the custom for each one to take home the remainder of what they contributed (if there ever was any left). The woman I have in mind always brought butter which she had frozen in perfectly round balls. It was therefore next to impossible to take any butter, for it was too hard to cut and simply rolled all over the table, so the always returned with all her butter.—Exchange.

Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Week

June 18th to 25th

A National organized effort to promote foot comfort and efficiency by bringing complete relief to every foot sufferer

Tired feet make you ache all over. No shoes can be comfortable if you feet are not in good condition. But every form of foot trouble can be corrected and relieved by one of the scientific appliances designed by Dr. Scholl.

Now is the Time to Find Foot Comfort

The week June 18th to 25th is Scholl's Foot Comfort week. A week in which shoe stores and departments in every town throughout the United States and Canada are co-operating to bring foot comfort to every sufferer.

Such a demonstration will be an event at this store the coming week. You will find here a great educational display of Dr. Scholl's foot comfort appliances. Dr. Wm. M. Scholl has spent a lifetime in studying the human foot, its ills and corrections. He has worked out, according to orthopedic science, an appliance or remedy for every foot ailment. Simple in construction, light and resilient, these appliances can be worn in any style shoe or slipper.

We are prepared here to give complete examination.

Free

No charge whatever being made, except for remedies or appliances as they are needed.

Don't let this week slip by—find out how other people are being relieved—and complete relief for your own trouble.

Remember

No matter how trifling the trouble may be, it can be corrected and relieved.

Examination and Advisory Service Free This Week
