

Weekly News Letter From State Capital

(Observer Salem Bureau.) SALEM, Or., July 7.—Upon transfer of the ownership, by sale or otherwise, of motor vehicles, the person in whose name the vehicle is registered and licensed and the person to whom the ownership is to be transferred shall immediately join in a notice of transfer, according to an opinion of Attorney General Van Winkle in reply to an inquiry by Sam A. Koser, secretary of state.

Neal Holloway, who escaped from the state penitentiary May 23, while working as a trustee, was arrested at Payette, Ida., and has been returned to the state prison. George Evans, who escaped at the same time, also a trustee, was returned two weeks ago from Wyoming.

State stationery sent out from the capitol will bear the advertisement: "Oregon Will Hold a World's Fair in 1925."

Miss Jennie Powers, of Wallowa, is winner for Oregon of the essay contest put on by the highway transportation committee at Washington, D. C., and her essay will enter the national contest for a $5000 scholarship prize, which may be used in any American college or university of her choosing.

Governor Olcott refused to honor a requisition from the governor of California for the extradition of A. W. Weaver, of Eugene, who is wanted in San Francisco on a charge of larceny of an airplane. It was held that Weaver had acted in good faith.

Governor Olcott honored a requisition from the governor of Massachusetts for the extradition of Sam Segal, who is wanted in Boston on a charge of non-support.

It is unlawful for a pawnbroker to engage in business in Oregon without a license from the state superintendent of banks, for which he must pay $100, according to an opinion of the attorney general, written in reply to an inquiry by the bank superintendent.

When a school district has its books audited by the district boundary board the expense of the audit should be borne by the district and not from the general fund of the county, says an opinion by Attorney General Van Winkle in reply to an inquiry by A. J. Moore, district attorney for Deschutes county.

A hospital unit of the Oregon national guard has been organized at Lebanon.

Nearly sixty Oregon industrial concerns that operate under the workmen's compensation act have elected to take advantage of the reduction in rates available by the establishment of a system of accident prevention. The reduction amounts to 5 per cent.

Two hundred musical works of Oregon composers have been presented to the state library by the Oregon Society of Composers, through Dr. Emil Kins, of Portland, president of the society.

Colonel George A. White, adjutant-general of Oregon, pronounced the most successful in the history of the guard the artillery and field encampment at Camp Lewis and the heavy artillery encampment at Fort Stevens. The camps closed June 30 and the units have all returned home.

The public service commission has suspended until October 1 the proposed increased rates of the Enterprise Electric company. The company had the rates scheduled to become effective July 1.

Approximately forty-three gallons of gasoline were used by the average Oregon motorist during the month of May, according to figures of the secretary of state. A total of 4,458,388.5 gallons of gasoline and 187,987 gallons of distillate were used during the month.

Salem banks will advance the state approximately half a million dollars to take care of warrants drawn on the general fund, which just now is depleted. State Treasurer Hoff has announced. This will make it unnecessary to endorse the warrants "not paid for want of funds."

J. F. Albright, of Oregon City, has filed with the secretary of state copies of a proposed constitutional amendment which he has initiated and which will be submitted to the voters of the state at the general election of 1922, providing that 7 per cent shall be the maximum legal rate of interest on contracts by express agreement of the parties to the contract.

About 75 per cent of the complaint received by the real estate department of the state insurance commissioner from persons alleging maltreatment at the hands of realtors are without foundation, declares A. C. Barber, insurance commissioner. However, about $2000 has been recovered for complainants in the last year.

Water used for irrigation purposes in appurtenant to the land on which it is used and the water rights should be assessed as real estate, according to an opinion of Attorney General Van Winkle, written for the state tax commission.

A schedule of increased rates filed by the Pacific Power & Light company covering its service at Astoria became effective July 1. The public service commission, however, reduced the proposed minimum charge from $1.25 to $1 per thousand and cubic feet.

AD CLUB HAS MAPS FOR DISTRIBUTION

New booklets advertising La Grande will be issued by the Ad club within a week. The booklets will contain additional information to that which was contained in the issue of last year and a map of the city will also be included.

The purpose of this map, which has been prepared by C. B. Miller, secretary of the club, is to give tourists going through La Grande information as to the proper route to be followed passing through the city and also to guide them in finding garages, hotels and the auto tourist camp. The principal hotels and garages are marked on the map.

FOREMAN WAS ABOUT TO QUIT

Portland Man Was About All In When He Found Relief In Tanlac.

"I'm now going on seventy years of age, but there's not a man on the yards who feels better at the end of a day's work than I do," said Samuel S. Apple, well-known yard foreman for the New Mexico Lumber Co., residing at 464 East Clay street, Portland, while relating his experience with Tanlac recently. "For the past three years, that is, until I got Tanlac, my stomach has given me a great deal of trouble. I got to where practically everything I ate seemed to collect in a lump like lead right in the pit of my stomach, gas would form and bloat me up as tight as a drum and cramping pains would nearly double me up. My back hurt, so bad I just could drag through the day, and then when I got home I could not eat a bite of supper and had to crawl right into bed.

"Well, I thought I would have to give up work, but I heard so much about Tanlac I got a bottle and it's simply made a new man out of me. I've taken five bottles of this medicine and am eating big meals of substantial food like I used to eat years ago and never have a bit of trouble afterwards. I'm rid of all those aches and pains, have gained ten pounds in weight and all my old-time strength and energy have come back to me. In fact, I feel fully ten years younger and I hope my statement may cause others to take Tanlac, for I believe it will help them just as it did me."

Tanlac is sold in La Grande by Silverthorn's Family Drug Store.—Adv.
