Will Visit in Walla Walla—

Mrs. John P. Hannon and son, Joseph, will leave for Walla Walla in a short time to make an extended visit.

Painting Up the Fronts—

Frank Lilly and Jack Peare believe in a good front and, due to that belief, they have induced their landlords to do some painting, which will make things much brighter. In the Lilly contract, however, the Van Buren Cigar Store, Buell's barber shop and the Red Cross Drug Store are included, which makes the entire corner look more cheerful.

Here on Business—

R. E. Remoine of Portland, who is with the Postum Cereal company of Battle Creek, Michigan, has been in La Grande for the past few days on business, having thrown out samples of cereals to all homes in La Grande yesterday. Mr. Remoine left this morning going overland for Walla Walla county, then going over in Walla Walla Valley.

Stock Show Praised—

In the July 7 number of the Breeders' Gazette, one of the foremost papers in the country devoted to the livestock industry, considerable space is given to the Union stock show of this year. The exhibition is highly praised and declared to be one of the best of its kind in the country. Comment is also made on the prize winning stock. The comment mentions, among others, the draft team exhibited by the La Grande Grocery company and some of the stock exhibited by J. E. Reynolds.

He Sings Because He Loves It—

Open the mouth and let the music roll forth—that's what Walter Jenkins, the community singer of Portland, does and the strange part of it is that he makes everyone want to sing who is near him. His singing game is much like the Hindoo magician, for once he gets started he has his audience doing the same things that he does. Walter is going to hold forth at the city part tonight, where he will conduct the Chautauqua singing and he believes La Grande has even better singers than Nathan Straus, John B. Yeon, A. L. Mills and a more Portlanders, whom Walter has lately taught to sing.

Hills to Visit Northland—

Where the sourdough held forth in Bob Service's time, where they mucked and they tolled for gold is the place where Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hill will visit during the next few weeks, for they are leaving this week for Alaska points and will go as far as Nome. Mrs. Hill has been on the coast for several weeks with friends and Mr. Hill left last evening for Portland from which point they will start to Alaska on the inside passage. Mr. Hill says that place on the inside passage where the pulse of the Pacific can be felt along about Queen Charlotte's Sound, is sufficient ocean joy riding for him. The Hill's are making the trip with a party of relatives and friends.

Scouts Elect Leaders—

The recently formed troop of Boy Scouts at a meeting last evening elected the following patrol leaders: Claire McKennon, Reid Cox, Francis Snodgrass and Fred Bowman. The regular weekly meeting of the troop will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building Friday night.

Mrs. Mary Johnson and children Helmer and Lulu, accompanied by Miss DeLora Shafer and Ed Lindsey, returned last evening from a camping trip to Mount Glenn. The party left La Grande Saturday morning, going to pick huckleberries.

Fined for Speeding—

Ted Hendenrich, charged with speeding to a fine, plead guilty in municipal court this morning and was fined $5 by Municipal Judge R. J. Kitchen. A grass fire Sunday tempted Hendenrich to rush to the scene in his machine with the fire department and this led to the charge being brought against him in court.

Painting Up—

The painting season in the downtown section is now in full swing. The building at the corner of Depot and Adams which houses the Lily hardware store, Van Buren's cigar store and several other firms on the lower floor and numerous professional men on the second floor, is being repainted. Newlin's book store and Clint Van Fleet's clothing house have also been recently touched up with paint.

Former Palace Owner Here—

Henry Rich, formerly the owner of the Palace Confectionery, was in town yesterday to see his old friends. Mr. Rich's home is in Albany now and he motored from Albany to Portland, then taking the train on to La Grande for a short visit with his many friends here. Although Mr. Rich is in business in Albany he says "The valley is a fine place to live, but when it comes to business, Eastern Oregon is far better."

La Granders Written Off—

Mamie and Edna Patton, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. Patton, are here to spend most of their vacation with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Patton, and other relatives. They go from here to Iowa, where they will spend a week or two before they return to their home in Oregon. It has been six years since they left this country, but say that it has not changed much. They are also under the impression that Oregon is the only place in which to live—Northville, South Dakota, Journal.
