News From Surrounding Localities

COVE CHERRY HARVEST STARTS

COVE, July 16.—(Special.)—The cherry harvest began here Monday. The crop is not as heavy as in some former years, but it is exceptionally fine. The prices paid to the grower are only about one third what they were last year. Royal Annes bring four cents and Bings, Black Republicans and Lamberts, six cents.

The ladies of the Methodist church gave a going-away party in the church parlors last evening to Prof. and Mrs. J. W. L. Kaufman. The Kaufmans will leave this week for Falls City, Oregon, where Mr. Kaufman will have charge of the school. Prof. Kaufman has been principal of the Cove school for the past three years, has been interested in all community work and has been very helpful in the work of the church. His going is much to be regretted.

The several business houses that were burned July 1st are nearly all ready to do business again. Geer's confectionery is located now in the post office building; Bloom's grocery on main street, opposite Weimar's garage; Lore's tire shop in the old post office building and doing business in a room in Geo. Alexander's residence. This accounts for all the fire victims save Knobloch's pool hall and that has not sprung up again.

The initial steps for a Boy Scout organization were taken yesterday. The troop committee consists of A. A. Antles, J. E. Mills and Harry Weimar. Paul M. Ellis, scoutmaster, and Tom Hefty, Thos. Towle and P. A. Conklin, assistant scoutmasters; P. A. Conklin, secretary-treasurer. Some years ago Cove had a good Boy Scout organization, but the boys have grown to men. Some have gone away, but it is hoped the scouts of the past will be succeeded by a bright new troop.
