Artificial Leg Affects Watch. Good watches lose in accuracy by exposure to a magnetic field. A war veteran working in a watch factory found it difficult to keep his watch right. Knowing something of magnetism, it occurred to him that the steel in his artificial leg might be magnetized. He experimented and found this to be the case. He went to an electric light company and had his leg demagnetized. After this treatment his watch kept perfect time.—Popular Science Monthly.

Before Books Were Plentiful. The almanac and the family Bible constituted the home library some two hundred years ago. The weather predictions in the almanacs of 160 years ago were occasionally right, and when so proved in any locality, the fame of the predictor was proclaimed abroad, at the corner groceries and tavern bars of the land.

On the Job. A western paper says: The messiah broke out here last week, but Dave Johnson, the town constable, caught 'em.—Boston Transcript.

Delicacies That Do Not Travel. Least appreciated, relatively to their gastronomical merits, are the shell-steamed turtles, native of the large streams and lakes. They are hardly inferior to the diamond back terrapin, but are seldom seen in the markets for two reasons—because they do not ship well and because local demand, where they are caught, uses up the supply. They are home-consumption delicacies, like the honey banana, the emerald-gem muskmelon and the full blipin apple—too good for the ordinary market and sure to lose their original flavor in passing through the hands of the middleman.

Around the Clock. "Yes, boys," continued the steep-leftek, who was telling "true" and thrilling stories, "yes, I was working a clock tower one afternoon about 12 minutes to 6, when I slipped, slid down the roof and caught on the long hand of the clock. There I dangled while the town folks collected below. So I yells to 'em, "Say, you folks, go home to your snappers, I'll be close to half an hour before I drop."—Houston Post.

Safety Match Swedish Invention. The safety match was the invention of a Swedish manufacturer named Lundström. It has been on the market since 1855. Its head contains no phosphorus, but holds a mixture of which chlorine of potash usually forms a part. The striking surface, on the side of the box, is formed by a compound of red phosphorus and sand. The safety match is manufactured chiefly in Sweden, Norway and Japan.

As She Is Wrote. "The masculine of applicant is here," wrote a Malayian schoolgirl. Another girl, intending to use the word "opposite," blundered into what some husbands will call a pungent truth. "A wife," she wrote, "is the upset of her husband."—Boston Transcript.

Beautiful Girl in Big Orange. At an orange show in San Bernardino, Cal., one of the most attractive exhibits was a huge orange quartered with a beautiful girl inside. At regular intervals the orange opened and the lady threw out real oranges to the crowd.

The Quickest Films Sold. A quick film is one so highly sensitized that it takes a picture in the brightest light. Likewise it is the best film when dull light prevails. Fast films are SURE takers—sell the fastest make.
