Elwell Coming Back

Old man Elwell is coming to town. The Observer does not know if his dog will be here or not, but Elwell will. The thing that brings the former La Grande player to this city is the coming of the Walsor basketball team to play here next Sunday. Elwell was an infirmer with the La Grande team for a time and will be remembered more for his dog than for his playing the latter day. Elwell is only 70, but his dog is 100. To come back to Elwell himself it is only fair to say that he was at one time a down on the dog and still has more knowledge than a whole average team and for that reason is exhibiting as the coach captain of the Walsors. But the dog! Where Elwell went there the dog was sure to be. In the old days when a fellow with a parrot throat had a place to park his feet, this particular dog would put on a show all his own including places where the brass rail was to be used, and then with a fit of style would pass the hat and from the proceeds would buy hot dogs and sweetmeats. It was a clever dog, and Elwell's coming to La Grande will no doubt make him answer many questions about where the dog is. As for us, we would like to lay eyes on the little canine again.

Weiser Picture Comes

The Observer has posted a large photograph of the Weiser team at the Van Buren cigar store.

Reynolds Fancy Swimmer

Joe Reynolds is breaking into a new sport. The La Grande athlete who won his letter at O. A. C. in basketball, as well as taking a prominent part in football and track, is now a member of the crack O. A. C. aquatic team. At a recent water carnival put on by Coach Rutherford, Joe was a member of the splendid fancy swimming and diving squad which entertained the big audience and drew many rounds of applause, not to mention a column or so of newspaper space.

ELSIE FERGUSON PLAYS THREE PARTS IN FILM AT SHERRY'S

The versatility of Elsie Ferguson, the charming star in leading Paramount pictures, is splendidly displayed in "Lady Rose's Daughter," her latest photoplay which is at the Sherry Theatre last times today. Miss Ferguson plays three powerful parts in this picture, and her artistry is conspicuously evidenced in each characterization.

In the first epoch, Miss Ferguson is seen as Lady Maud, a woman of high social station in England. In the second, she is Lady Rose, while in the present day epoch, she has the role of Julie Le Breton, the illegitimate daughter of Lady Rose.

The comedy being shown isn't half bad.

FILM TRIAL SCENE IN WESTERN COURT

A murder trial actually filmed in a courtroom is one of the interesting features of "The Beautiful Gambler," which comes to the Arcade Theatre on Thursday only.

For the location, the courtroom of Superior Judge Frank R. Willis, of Los Angeles, was loaned to Universal each night for two weeks, and the trial was conducted with much realism.

Grace Darmond, beautiful blonde star of many successful photoplays, interprets the leading feminine role.

A two-reel comedy featuring Brownie, the wonder dog, will also be shown.

The tale of a dog with a moral

THERE'S AN old gag. THEY USED to pull SO OLD that nowadays. PEOPLE THINK it's new. ABOUT THE man who had TO SHOOT his dog. AND A friend asks. "WAS THE dog mad?" AND THE first guy. SAYS, "WELL, he wasn't. SO DANG well pleased." AND A chap told me. THAT THIS described. SOME SMOKES he'd tried. THEY DIDN'T exactly. MAKE HIM mad. BUT HE wasn't. SO VERY well pleased. OF COURSE that was.

MY CUE to slip him. A REAL cigarette. AND AFTER he'd taken. A GOOD pull or two. INTO HIS constitution. HE GRINNED and said. "THE ONLY way these. WILL EVER make you mad. IS THE way. YOUR FRIENDS eat 'em up. I ONLY hope you've got. A COUPLE of packs. FOR THEY sure. DO SATISFY."

YOU'LL enjoy Chesterfields. There's something in their mild smoothness that goes right to the spot. Choice tobaccos, Turkish and Domestic—a blend that literally can't be copied—a special moisture-proof wrapper for their extra protection—on every count, Chesterfields "satisfy."
