Imbler Juveniles Fight Hard But Moscow Wins

"Too much Moscow" set the Imbler juvenile wonders back another peg yesterday in the four-game series with Moscow, Idaho, for the championship of Northern Idaho. The game was played at Imbler, and a crowd that would do credit to any ball town was out and pulled for the Imblerites but it couldn't be done. The two teams play today, but Imbler lost her chance for the crown yesterday, in that Moscow had previously won two games and Imbler would have to win three straight. Moscow being the better team, that feat was found impossible.

The Imbler youngsters attacked a knotty problem with a lot of vim yesterday and frequently had the lead but at the finish, and that's what counts, the score was 16-13 in Moscow's favor.

It is surely no disgrace to be beaten by a team like Moscow's. Manager Eastman has had the nine intact for two years and during the present season has been winning from high schools and town teams. Imbler's squad is the only aggregation of their size they have met. Patterson, the little heaver from Moscow, fanned a 180-pound batter of Northern Idaho fame, a few days ago.

The game was a thriller but not of the stripe that the Walla Walla game was for Imbler didn't give the ninth inning a fight. But there was real baseball aplenty, and the visiting outfield saved the day by brilliant catches in the gardens that shut off runs. The Imbler infield was about on a par with the visitors.

Early in the game the Imblerites electrified the audience with a whirlwind double, Glenn to McKennon.

Little Ray Keown opened for Imbler and went his best for four innings and then weakened by going wild. Mike Monroe came in from first base and with a lot of speed bewildered the visitors up to the last inning or so, and in the meantime, the Imbler swatmen got their eyes focused with the result that a big lead was overtaken and a new one established in Imbler's favor. But toward the end Monroe's speeders were straightened out for long drives.

Notes of the Game.
 There were several new faces in the Imbler line-up over Walla Walla's game. Ruckman at third, Monroe at first and pitch, and Welch in the field are included in these. Volney Squires will no doubt pitch today's game on the same field.

Tom Glen is a thief beyond belief. He got on, late in the game, with a little hit and deliberately stole his way home in three quick and well timed sprints of speed.

Coach Lines has made baseball in Imbler for years to come. His wonderful leadership has produced about fifteen juveniles who, within a very few years will take Imbler's flag to the test and make that town famous for a decade. Without Lines Imbler would have been a whistling station on the baseball route for years to come just as she has been in the past decade. Not so now. The foundation is laid for a wonderful town team. Other towns are not preparing for the future because they have no Lines in their midst.

Manager Eastman of Moscow bore himself like a gentleman and so did all his youngsters.

The line-up for Imbler: Keefer, Ruckman, 3b; McKennon, 2b; Monroe, 1b and p; Keown, p; 1b; Volney Squires, 1f; Wilson, Glenn, ss; Ledbetter, cf; Welch rf; Marvin Squires, c.

For Moscow—Frazier, ss; Estes, c; Mix, 2b; T. Eichner, rf; O. Eichner, p and cf; Patterson, p; Hall, 1f; Chamberlain, O. Eichner, cf; Hare, 3b; Collins, sub. Today's line-up for Moscow is—Hare, 3b; Estes, c; Frazier, ss; Hall, 1f; Mix, 2b; Chamberlain, p; T. Eichner, rf; O. Eichner, cf; Smith 1b; Collins, sub.

The occupants were thrown out but none were injured. A slight damage was done to the car.

The accident happened on account of the driver of the car killing his engine at the critical moment when otherwise the car would have passed over the crossing safely.

WALLOWA COUNTY NEWS.

Out-of-Town Guests Honored.
 Mrs. Carl N. Miller and Miss Emma Rose were charming hostesses at a delightful afternoon yesterday, complimenting Mrs. Ernest Velters of Elgin and Miss Helen McDonald, Minna Ash and Cora Wells of La Grande. The affair was given at Mrs. Edward G. Brown, Mrs. Aaron Olmsted, Miss Elsie Olmsted, Mrs. Harold D. Jackson, Mrs. C. L. Jamison, Miss Annette Dohbin, Nellie Zorenner, Margaret Clark, Mrs. G. J. Rice and Mrs. W. R. Holmes. The hostesses served dainty refreshments.

The Country Club.

Thursday afternoon the Country Club met at the home of Mrs. Everett Pratt. An impromptu musical program was given in the flower decked parlors. Mrs. Spicer and Miss Fleming gave piano selections. Mrs. Pratt and Mrs. Buase beautiful solos, and Mrs. J. P. Averill delighted with some amusing songs. Nana Miller gave a charming reading, and Nannie Houston also in her usual good style. Mrs. O'Neil read an original paper on "Making the Best of It." The roll call was answered by hearty replies about the day's work.

The making of pies for the fair prize raffle went forward with the usual zeal. Mrs. Aswell, Mrs. Edmondson, Nana Miller, Nannie Houston, Mrs. N. J. Parry of Newport Oregon, and Mrs. Lester Spier were guests.

Baby Falls in Well.

One Chetwood, 2 years old, fell into a well seven feet deep at the East Oregon camp on Spring creek, last week. There was little water in the well, and the child landed on a box which had dropped in and lay on the bottom. The fall injured the box somewhat but he has been getting along well. He was brought to the Taylor hospital for treatment.

Was It A Real Bear?

Cattle owners in the north and elsewhere are now running Aberdeen Angus cattle on the range. The Angus are heavy animals with heavy gluteal coats.

On Sunday a week ago, Fred S. Ashley saw a small bear trotting across the road in the brush north of Hot Springs. It paid no attention to his car and perambled into the woods and out of sight.

Now some of the cattlemen rise to remark that maybe a fat ewe, Angus calf looks like a bear, and perhaps one got into the road if a traveler was driving through.

On the other hand Mr. Ashley says he knows a bear when he sees it and he knows a calf when he sees it. Take either side of the argument you like and you will pass a good case.
