IN THE OLD HOME TOWN

WHEN HER SON OBJECTED TO HER MILKING FOUR COWS MORNING AND NIGHT AUNT PHOEBE WINNLOW (AGE 85) GAVE THE YOUNG MAN A SEVERE SCOLDING.

Just Keep on Trying

Don't get soured on the world because everything you have raised or handled has lost money this year. Just keep on trying. There is not a business man, including the farmer, not a professional man who can win every year. It is not written that way. People in Union county do better along this line than inhabitants of most communities because they have a rich valley and a lot of resources behind them. But it is not in the cards to always win. The poker game of life is bound to hold some losing hands. This year is one of them. But discouragement and sourness only depress one's self and his neighbors. The good gambler—and we are all gamblers—is the fellow who can take his loss, wipe off the slate and begin laying plans for the future. The Condon farmer enters a season with a light heart and a big acreage and nine years out of ten he sees his crops burn and blister until the word failure is written on every ranch. He does not quit but tries it again until finally he catches a winning hand and away he goes. The farmers of Western Kansas are the same kind of chaps—failure after failure and then a bumper crop. Here in the Grande Ronde it is different. We nearly always have safety, and on top of that we very often have a great year. Every business has its dull times, thank you. Running a newspaper, for instances, has just a few troubles. But we can't junk the plant because we have a year on the wrong side of the ledger, no more than a farmer can junk his equipment because he can't meet his notes promptly. This grand old word is of ups and downs. When we're up we're up, and when we're down we're down, and when we're half way up we're neither up nor down. Just keep on trying. Just keep on trying.

The Small Dairy Herd

We have always been able to picture in our mind the great section of country around Union when the transformation comes making it into a dairy country. It is most ideally situated with good land and plenty of water. It's the home of alfalfa of good seasons, of everything that pertains to the milk strain of blooded cattle. Of late the people over there have been getting in line for the coming day when milk checks in Union will be the big end of commerce for that portion of the county. A meeting has been called for the small herd owner, the banker and the prospective dairyman to meet and talk things over. It is an important meeting—very important, and the Observer feels that this gathering will start the program which too long has been delayed in making Union and her territory the place for scientific dairying.

The man who invests the best he has in his life's work usually gets good dividends in the end.

Dr. Harry Forbes says it is dangerous to have more than seven teapoints of water on the brain. We always suspected that stuff was dangerous.

THE SHINE

Wearily I clamber To the dizzy height Of the leather settee; Not a word is spoken. Laundress the Helene Applies the polish To my shoes. He makes a few Pensive passes over them. With a cloth Imparting a dull glow, Wearily I clamber down And hand him 15 cents. Not a word is spoken.

THE DEMON MAKE-UP MAN (From the Warren, Ill., Sentinel Herald)

Harry Crouse, residing north of Warren, was overcome by the heat a few days ago. You should wear either a Henderson or Gossard Corset sold at Frank Jewell's.

HOME DREW FOOLISHNESS I wish my H' walrus I'm afraid he got in jail, He got too gay and rascally And flipped his H' tail.

He twisted his rascally whiskers And flipped his H' paper fan And yet so sweet and rascally, How could they run him in?

Have you seen my H' walrus, You'd know him by his gait, A sinuous rolling motion, A wriggling hesitance.

I know some can do spy him And thought his dance too crude, And took him to the hogswag Now wouldn't that be rude?

And now I want my walrus, I've lost my H' pet, Just one drink or maybe two, 'Twas that made me forget.

So if you see my walrus, Just bring him back to me, I'll be waiting for him, mostly, With my arms around this tree. —D. M.
