The Screen

KERRIGAN AT HIS BEST IN "$30,000."

J. Warren Kerrigan's fifth Robert Brunton production, "$30,000," will be given its premier today only at the Sherry Theatre. It is a rollicking adventure of New York society life, abounding in thrills, comedy and unusual situations. The author is no other than H. B. Daniel, the well-known Chicago novelist who wrote "Timber McKee," "What's Money?" and "Snobs."

"Some of the most popular players of the stage and screen support Mr. Kerrigan in this production. Fritzi Brunette, the clever little heroine of "The Lord Loves the Irish" and "Live Sparks," is again seen in the feminine lead. Others in the cast are Nancy Chase, late of the London stage; Joseph J. Dowling, who played "The Patriarch" in "The Miracle Man," and Arthur Millet. Direction is by Ernest C. Ward, who was stage director for Richard Mansfield.

A new "Mutt & Jeff" and another comedy are also being shown.

"A TALE OF TWO WORLDS" AT SHERRY'S THEATRE.

"A Tale of Two Worlds," which is being shown at the Sherry Theatre Sunday and Monday, reveals much for the photoplay goer to be thankful for. In the first place, it has a story, a really gripping story of love and intrigue, in which a young American is given the opportunity of his life to exercise his intelligence and his physical courage. The spur for all his efforts is an American girl who has been brought to San Francisco's Chinatown after her parents were killed in the Boxer uprising of 1899.

This exciting tale is by Gouverneur Morris, one of the Eminent Authors whose productions are being made at the Goldwyn studios. It was directed by Frank Lloyd.

A second point of satisfaction is the acting of beautiful Beatrice Joy as the American girl. Miss Joy, it will be remembered, played the role of Buntie in the Goldwyn production of "Buntie Pulls the Strings." Not only is she acting in "A Tale of Two Worlds" excellent, but the production itself equals any that has yet come from the Goldwyn workshop; and this is no small praise.

One of the scenic features of the picture is the faithful reproduction of a Chinese street in San Francisco. It is real enough for natives to recognize the shops. All in all, this picture not only tells a good story in a splendid manner, but also reveals a page of history beautifully and dramatically.

The special two-reel Christie comedy, "Home Brew," to those who have and those who haven't experimented, it will prove a scream.

Japanese "Trial by Ordeal."

"Trial by ordeal" still exists in some parts of Japan. If a thief takes place in a household, all the servants are required to write a certain word with the same brush. The consequence is supposed to betray its workings in the waves of the ideographs written. Tracing an ideograph involves such an effort to muscular directness and undivided attention that this device often leads to the discovery of the guilty person.
