Visits His Cousin Lou—
L. H. Stopp came in from Spokane yesterday and approached Lou Stopp to buy a farm. They had not seen each other for thirty-four years and Lou did not know his cousin. He thought the bargain he was trying to drive resembled a Stopp, however and he eyed his visitor very closely. Finally the joke was too good and L. H. had to spill the beans. They are having a good visit recalling the old days spent in Iowa together.

Bolshevik Money—
Charles Moran, who is in the United States navy and stationed in Russian port, has enclosed in a letter home some Bolshevik money. It is very common looking money printed on ordinary paper with very fine printing and according to Charles it is worth about as much as the paper in America which is sold in large rolls. Charles tells of the other side world in very interesting language and speaks in highest terms of the perfection which the United States navy has attained.

Golfers Issue Bulletin—
Keeping abreast with the times the Country Club has issued its first number "The Driver," a publication devoted to activities around the club. It is a fine way to reach all member and keep them posted on what the club is doing and tells plainly to each one the condition of the finances and needs of the club. The publication is gotten out by A. W. Nelson for the directors of the club and is well edited. One of the outstanding features is the enthusiasm expressed in the golf tournament which is soon to be held on the golf course at the club.

Cato Johns Jr. Critically Ill—
The following dispatch from a busy tells of a Cato Johns Jr. who formerly was located in La Grande as a grain buyer: C. J. Johns Jr. son of C. J. Johns, manager of the Red Crown flour mill at Albion and a nephew of Supreme Justice Charles A. Johns, is reported to be in a serious condition at the home of his parents here as the result of a nervous breakdown that followed an accident at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening at Forest Grove in which Johns' automobile struck and injured fatally Mrs. J. King, of Forest Grove. Johns is in the care of a physician who has forbidden him from seeing visitors. It is feared that he may not recover.

Home From Month's Vacation—
Editor O. L. Smallwood and wife arrived in La Grande yesterday from Denver where they have been spending a month in that city and other Colorado points. They spoke of the slowness of the gold mining region and Mr. Smallwood said he was sorry he made the trip, for Colorado was so unlike it used to be when he lived there and all the mines were working overtime. He believes taking everything into consideration that Oregon is just a little better place on the map. Labor Day celebration was in full blast when Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood arrived in La Grande and they immediately took part in the day's events for they are both live wires and believe in taking life as it comes.

Another Ford Appliance—
Everyone has heard about every thing possible to get on a Ford car but N. M. McCullough of Elsie, Oklahoma has a new rig. He drove into the tourist park in La Grande from Oklahoma Sunday and found there was to be a picnic of former Oklahoma men that afternoon in the park nearby and so he stayed. While he enjoyed the program a lot of people enjoyed looking at a new cooking device which Mr. McCullough has rigged up for his Ford. It is a steel box that sets on the running board and the exhaust from the engine is turned into it. Mrs. McCullough prepares her dinner before they start in the morning and when they stop at noon she removes the lid and her ready-made meal is cooked, ready to serve. Mr. McCullough is a brother of Dennis McCullough of the Elsie country and he will visit him for several days.

Newspaper Girl Visits Home Folks—
Mrs. Edna Morrison, who is head-line and telegraph editor of the East Oregonian at Pendleton, spent yesterday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schille. Mrs. Morrison likes her position in Pendleton very much and has joined the hostess of the Round-Up town in preaching its good qualities to the rest of the world.

Returns From Vacation—
K. R. Barnes, attorney, and Kenneth McCormick, county clerk, returned from their vacation in the middle west Sunday night. McCormick was a delegate to the Dike lodge convention in July and then visited at his former home in Kansas. Barnes visited in Nebraska and Kansas where he formerly lived. He was glad to get back to the Grande Ronde although he says that the farmers in the middle west are pretty well fixed to meet the business depression. "Home, Sweet Home" should be the national anthem," he declared on getting back to La Grande. "It's lots of fun to go away, but it's more fun to get back home again."

Here From Huntington—
Garnet Mason of Huntington arrived Saturday to spend some time in La Grande visiting with old friends, and to attend the Labor Day celebration that was held here yesterday.

Two Homes Sold—
Two homes in La Grande changed hands during the past few days. The Henry Neury place on Adams avenue was sold to William A. Rounds of Baker. Mr. Rounds will make his home here in the future. Fred G. Zimbell, who has just moved to Portland, has sold his home at 2002 Greenwood to William Barrie. Mr. Barrie will move into town from his farm. Both transactions were made through the C. J. Black real estate agency.

Labor Council—
The Central Labor Council authorizes the Evening Observer to express its deep appreciation to all who took part and contributed to the success of the Labor Day celebration in La Grande yesterday. The Grande Ronde Lumber company, Floyd McKennon, W. R. Leadbetter and Albert Hunter have the special thanks of the Council for the six-horse teams, wagons and lumber for the Queen's float.

Friction Match First Used in 1827.
The friction match, said to be the invention of John Walker, an English druggist, was introduced in the year 1827. Walker's match consisted of a wooden splint or stick or cardboard coated with sulphur and tipped with a mixture of chlorate of potash, sulphide of antimony and powdered gum. The match was ignited by being drawn through a piece of bent sandpaper.

Had Him Guessing.
"It is a question in my mind," remarked the dentist who had got up from a warm bed to respond to a cry from his baby, "if a fellow makes most noise when his death is coming, or when they are going?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Dreaming of Writing.
To dream that you write with a pen denotes good luck; with a quill, loss of health; with a stick, firmness of purpose; with a pencil, warns you of secret enemies. To dream of writing a letter foretells good news; a bill, an altercation.

Country Club Notes
High Lights About the Links, Club House and Natatorium.

One of the biggest turnouts ever seen on the La Grande Country Club grounds spent yesterday on the links pursuing the elusive pillet. The chief occasion was the playing of the President's Cup tournament, which was not played off Sunday on account of rain. A few rounds were played Sunday afternoon and the balance yesterday. While the complete count of the score cards is not finished, unofficial canvass of the situation discloses that net scores made by Norman Frees, Claude Scranton and the president himself are tied at 76 for the 18 holes. However this is not the official findings, which will not be completed until this evening.

Do Your Children's Eyes Need Help?

Now is the time when the child with weak eyes is experiencing the most trouble. For hours every day, and often under artificial light during the evenings, they have to pore over books. The constant strain is particularly telling. Even a slight weakness of the eyes develops rapidly under such a strain into something more serious.

Such children need glasses. Properly fitted lenses will take care of the overload. If cared for now the weakness may be overcome by the time the child is full grown. If not, the time will soon come when glasses will be absolutely necessary and doubtless for life. It is only fair to the child to make an effort to save them from this if possible.

If your children are backward at school work, or complain of frequent headaches or smarting and stinging sensations in the eyes, have a competent optometrist make an examination.

Glasses fitted upon such an examination will relieve them from the tremendous strain under which they are now working. It will enable them to go through the day's work with the snap and vigor natural to childhood. You will note an improvement in their work. And, best of all, you are saving their eyes for the future.

Our Equipment is complete in every detail.
