HOME TALENT PLAY

IN THE PROGRAM
Within a few weeks—sometime just ahead of the holiday season, the Ad club is going to present a home talent play in which the direction and the playing will be entirely home talent in nature. A few days ago, the club officers received an offer from a San Francisco firm to furnish a director for "Nuts" the comedy farce written by Deal Collins of Portland. The expense of the outside director was a $299 guarantee and 50-50 of the gate. The offer was turned down and Bruce Cox was charged with the duty of directing a play, yet to be selected. But the day of the old-fashioned dramatic club is going to be returned if it is possible to do it.

Watch for the date and the name. It will be a real home talent play with a punch to it.

NEIGHBORS CUT BAKER'S WOOD

Frost Strikes Cove Gardens—Epworth League Elects Officers In Cove.

COVE, Sept. 13—(Special)—Several friends and neighbors surprised Geo. Baker this week by sawing and putting his winter's supply of wood in the shed. Mr. Baker appreciated this very much. A. L. Hartley was the leader of this movement.

G. M. Richey sold his farm west of Cove to O. E. Silverthorn last week.

Oscar Lund is digging a well on his ten acre tract north of Cove for the purpose of irrigation.

Miss Alpha Allen of La Grande visited friends here Saturday afternoon.

Frost did considerable damage to the tender gardens both Sunday and Friday nights.

J. B. Tallent is painting his garage this week.

Dr. McCowan was over from Union Monday.

Miss Marion Conklin left this week for Walla Walla where she will visit until time for her to take up home economics at the O. A. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Helty entertained the Epworth League at their home. Thomas Towle was elected president, with Miss Lola Martin vice president. Ice cream and cake were served to about forty young people who enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Mc. Fannie Grainger were entertained by the "men folks" Saturday night, with a bonfire and plenty of waffles to roast.

Sunday morning the people of the vicinity enjoyed the first snow storm of the season.

Notice from the Economy Grocery.

We wish to inform our friends that we are now open for business at the place formerly known as "The Old Town Store." We invite you one and all and will be pleased to serve you to the best of our ability. Prices reasonable. Terms, cash. Phone Black 4281.

TRAPPERS AFTER STARKEY BEARS

Old-time Range man still Rides After His Herds at Age of 74 in Starkey Country.

STARKEY, Sept. 13—(Special)—Friends of Mrs. John Wells met at her home last Tuesday and had a most enjoyable time in celebrating her birthday. Music, dancing and a fine supper were enjoyed by the guests. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ward Smith, Mrs. Starrio and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Idaho, Mr. and Mrs. Brown are visiting her sister, Mrs. Starrio, Mrs. Thornburg and son Alvin and his nephew; Mrs. William Briggs and sons, William and Chas.; Paul Robbins and the J. S. Rose family.

Fred Hagey, mail carrier at Starkey, is drilling a well on his ranch.

Farmers are busy with their fall work. Some are seeding.

Captain Kidd was over to the store for provisions and to visit. He is an old-timer who came to Pendleton in an early day. The captain is now 74 and a tough old fellow—still rides after stock that he runs over his land in the Kamela country.

Paul Robbins, ranger at Bear Wallow, was over and stayed Tuesday night at the store. He is out fixing the telephone line through the mountains that has been out of order lately.

Chuna Brothers took their cattle out to McKay this week.

Marion Van Schoikt, Smythe Brothers' superintendent, came up from Pendleton to bring a new herd for one of the bands last Wednesday.

John Healy, sheepman, who is tending camp for his two bands of sheep in the mountains went out to his home in the Heppner country several days ago.

Two government trappers passed through here on their way to Sheen Ranch where they will trap for bear and coyotes.

Dave Roberts is up from Mission Station to hunt and visit at the J. S. Rose home. They are old neighbors. Mr. Roberts is section foreman at Mission, four and a half miles from Pendleton.

Tom Gully and Mr. Keller of Albion arrived Thursday evening for a big hunt. They make this an annual event in this section. Last year there were four in the party and they got two bears and five deer.

UNION SCHOOLS HAVE OPENED

Big Year Ahead for Schools of Union; Farewell Dance Given Last Friday for Students.

UNION, Sept. 13—(Special)—The youthful prodigies of Union enter upon another year of school, and notwithstanding the fact that the Union public school system was bigger, better and more efficiently managed than ever before, Roy Conklin has spent most of the summer selecting an efficient and intelligent teaching staff and he thinks he has almost a perfect teaching corps. And the pupils are arriving already for purposes of registration and consultation. When the students come up several days before school starts to register and begin to prepare, it is safe to say that it is "some" school. Several families have come to Union during the summer and at present not a vacant house can be found.

The building themselves have gone through a thorough overhauling and everything was in tip-top shape when school opened. The high school auditorium has been fitted with new seats and all over the building changes are being made so as to accommodate the expected enrollment. There is every reason to believe that Union will have the most successful school year of her career.

Farewell Dance.
One of the premier social events of the season occurred on the evening of Friday the 9th, when the

ROUND-UP VISITORS NEED LA GRANDE INSIGNIA

Some device to properly brand all La Grande visitors to the Round-up should be provided, and doubtless will be. In the past La Grande has sent bigger delegations to Pendleton than any other eastern Oregon town, and the moment the cars or train arrives in Pendleton the La Grander are swallowed up in oblivion. One sees banners and ribbons from all parts of the globe save only La Grande, and no credit is given the commonwealth for having sent the banner crowd of them all. Before the Round-up time some suitable plan will be devised to remedy this condition.

INFORMAL VISIT TO SISTER TOWNS SOON

An informal junker of the county to visit the businessmen of sister towns is now being matched up by Bruce Cox, chairman of the trade relations committee.

Before the protracted rains start, and after the immediate rush of harvest, a trip, or trips, so arranged that all the principal towns will be visited is to be general plan embraced. Present plans do not call for a series of banquets, but rather a call upon the merchants in their various shops during shop hours. Chairman Cox will probably have his plans ready for membership within a very short time.

HEADQUARTERS PROVE VERY SATISFACTORY

How the Ad club managed it without a commodious headquarters such as is provided by the Y. M. C. A. rooms now occupied by the club, is hard to understand now that a month of the new arrangements has been a reality. Strangers come and go, and if it is necessary to wait, the Y's reading room is at their service. It is conveniently located, and provides all the comforts of an expensive Commercial association office at a minimum of expense.

Townpeople are invited to call, give suggestions for bettering the service, and making the Ad club headquarters the headquarters of community affairs. The Ad club tel-
